

FARM PLANK FIGHT DELAYS CONVENTION; COMMITTEE REJECTS EQUALIZATION FEE

POST-SCRIPTS By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

"Though news be sad, yet tell them merrily;
If good, thou shalt the music of sweet news
By playing it to me with so sour a face."

If Mr. Hoover is elected and Mr.
Mellon remains in the Cabinet it will then be seen whether the story of how Bill Vare out-smarted the Secretary of the Treasury should be catalogued as history or fiction.

Having the police with their clubs raised drive the protesting farmers from convention hall deals inadequately with the agrarian revolt—why not throw the Western rebels in jail and keep 'em there until November?

"Flag of the free heart's hope and home!
By angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome;
And all thy hues were born in heaven."

This business of selecting a President isn't all bunk, ballyhoo and blatant after all—one of the greatest birthdays in history reminds a sober nation of its tremendous responsibility in choosing the one sworn to defend the flag against all enemies.

We haven't been able to figure out yet whether the Lexington is a ship or a seaplane.

Charles B. Warren offers to bet
50 to 1 that Hoover will be nominated. And doubtless 100 to 0 that Dawes won't.

This thing of looking out for breakers,
Upsets the busy platform-makers;
One scarcely knows if they are fakers,
Or just a lot of undertakers.

The farmers can't have their equalization medicine but are offered old Doc. Coolidge's Favorite Prescription.

There is really no necessity for the W. C. T. U. to try to have prohibition taught in the normal school
—any member of the first grade knows all about it from having been down cellar watching Dad put the caps on.

Shoving the farmers out of the convention hall isn't half as serious as shoving them out of the party.

Clem Shaver invites the embattled farmers to come on down to Houston. Some people are never satisfied until they have gone all over town looking up Old Man Trouble.

The G. O. P. has its Moses but what it needs at this time is a Joshua to bring back an optimistic report from the political Canaan.

The juryman charged with being intoxicated while deliberating on a case squares everything—he explains that he had been on a party
the night before.

Senator Moses explains to Bill Vare what a wicked political machine Tammany is.

"We know our people will not turn to the party whose most recent and most outstanding achievement in this year of grace is the revealed grafting of $20,000,000 from a single city." Not Fess, but Moses, sounds the real keynote of the Kansas City Convention, and the attack on Gov. Smith begins before he has been nominated. Religion and prohibition are dangerous issues, but Tammany Hall is fair game.

The cartoonists of the country doubtless will not fail to recall that the Tiger is invariably hunted from the back of an Elephant.

"Thirty million farmers won't vote for Hoover." The dirge of the agricultural bloc is strangely reminiscent—
"The only tune that he could play,
Was 'Over the Hills and Far Away.'"

"Our people," says Moses, "will not turn to the party which maintains itself in places of power through nullification of two amendments to the Constitution and which openly flouts a third." This is pretty tough on the wet-drinking, dry-voting South, but do we understand from the Senator that the Republican platform this year will contain a plank promising a Volstead Act for the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments, or is it just a lot of campaign guff?

The President and Mrs. Coolidge quietly slip away for their lodge in some vast wilderness for their last vacation from the White House.
There is a new idol on the altar!

PRESIDENT STARTS FOR VACATION STAY IN WISCONSIN WILDS

Mrs. Coolidge Improved as Party Leaves on Journey to West.

DOCTORS HOLD HER ABLE TO MAKE TRIP

Many in Party That Departs to Brule Lodge in Special Train of Eight Cars.

After a 48-hour delay, due to the recurring illness of Mrs. Coolidge, the President and Mrs. Coolidge, with their special party of 70, left Washington last night shortly before 11 o'clock for their summer vacation at Cedar Island Lodge, Brule, Wis.

The party entrained at Union Station at the close of one of the warmest days of the season, and what appears to be the verge of the first prolonged hot spell in the Capital this year.

Although a fair sized crowd and a multitude of newspapermen and photographers were at Union Station several hours before the presidential special pulled out, expecting to see the President and Mrs. Coolidge off, none but a few terminal officials saw them arrive or knew that they had been in their car on a lower level sliding from 8:10 o'clock.

Dummy Car Substituted.
A brightly lighted coach with an observation platform on the rear, which was generally believed to be the President's personal car, was attached to the end of the special on track 20 until the train pulled out, when the waiting crowd were slow to realize that they had been deceived. Terminal officials then explained that the President's car had been shifted to the lower level and a "dummy" substituted about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

President and Mrs. Coolidge, Col.
James G. Coupa, the President's personal physician, and a trained nurse left the White House shortly before 8 o'clock, were rapidly driven to the east end of Union Station, down the sloping driveway to the over level, where it was but a step from their automobile to the President's railroad coach on the "scenery" siding. The "scenery" siding is so named because it is possible to draw dry tracks alongside of trains there and transfer theatrical scenery from one car to another.

Train Departs Promptly.

Other members of the vacation party arrived at different times up until 10:45 o'clock, none of them knowing that the President and Mrs. Coolidge
CONTINUED ON PAGE 8, COLUMN 7.

Houston Coliseum Approved by Shaver

Houston, Tex., June 13 (A.P.).—Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, today officially approved the new Coliseum, which has been built for the Democratic national convention which is to begin here June 26.

"Houston's arrangements appear perfect, and the Coliseum is all that we could ask and more," Mr. Shaver said.
Decorations now are being placed in the convention hall, and the numbered seats will be set this week.

2 DEAD, MANY HURT AFTER 2 TORNADOES

Sauthon, Okla., and Bakers-field, Ark., Struck; Heavy Rains Follow.

Poteau, Okla., June 13 (A.P.).—At least two persons were dead today and several were reported injured at Sauthon, a community 15 miles west of Poteau, as the result of a tornado that swept that section of eastern Oklahoma last night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, an aged couple believed to be from Texas, were killed.

West Plains, Mo., June 13 (A.P.).— Numerous persons were injured, two seriously, in a tornado which struck Bakersfield, a small Ozark County town, 25 miles southwest of here, at 7 o'clock last night. News of the storm was brought here this afternoon by fishermen.

The two seriously injured are Thomas Cropper and John Howell. The new consolidated school building and the Baptist and Christian Churches were demolished. Stores and residences were badly damaged.

Convention Program For Today Well Filled

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.).—Tomorrow promises to be a busy day for the Republican national convention with the platform issue to be settled and nominating speeches of presidential candidates to be heard.
There was some doubt tonight that the first ballot could be taken tomorrow as originally planned. The program follows:

10 a. m., central standard time—
Call to order by Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, permanent chairman.

Prayer by Rabbi Herman M.
Cohen.
Presentation of platform by resolutions committee.
Formal selection of members of national committee.

Nominating of candidates for President.
It appeared certain tonight that at least five names would be presented to the convention, including those of Herbert Hoover, Frank O.
Lowden, Senator Watson, of Indiana; Senator Curtis, of Kansas, and Senator Goff, of West Virginia. Seconding speeches are in order for each candidate.

JURY IN STEWART CASE IS LOCKED UP FOR NIGHT

Out Ten and One-Half Hours, Members Are Unable to Reach Verdict.

FOUR WOMEN IN NUMBER

The jury deliberating the case of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, charged with refusing to answer two questions put to him by the Senate oil investigating committee, was locked up for the night at 11:35 o'clock last night. The case had gone to the jury at 1:05 in the afternoon.

The eight men and four women had considered the evidence from the time they received the case until about 7 o'clock, when they were taken out for dinner. When they returned to the courtroom they continued their deliberations, but interrupted them during the night, once when the male members called for a deck of cards, and again when the women ordered two dozen buns sent to the jury room.

Justice Frederick L. Siddons had been attending a commencement exercise of a local university and could not be reached at 10 o'clock, the hour when jurors are ordinarily locked up. He telephoned the courthouse about 11:15.
He and counsel for Stewart and the Government went into conference, following which the decision to lock up the jury was announced.

The jury took the case a few minutes after 1 o'clock in the afternoon, following a brief charge by Justice Siddons. Attorneys for Stewart and
CONTINUED ON PAGE 2, COLUMN 8.

Plane of Duchess Forced to Return

Bushire, Persia, June 13 (A.P.).—The airplane Princess Xenia, in which the Duchess of Bedford is on an eight-day round-trip flight to India, with Capt.
C. D. Barnard as pilot, resumed its flight today, but returned to Bushire later because of serious engine trouble.
It was not known how long the plane would be delayed.

Lord Byng Accepts His Seat in Peers

London, June 13 (A.P.).—Lord Byng of Vimy took his seat in the House of Lords today, being sponsored by Lord
Lee of Fareham and Lord Hampden.
"The former governor general of Canada refrained from entering the upper house for twenty minutes because of a dispute over payment of the fees incidental to his elevation to the peerage."

Index to Today's Issue.

- Pages.
1—Farm Plank Delays Convention.
Borah Dry Pledge Approved.
Nominating Plans Held Up.
President Starts on Vacation.
Stewart Jury Locked Up.
2—Gen. Noble Among Injured.
Carranza to Start New Flight.
Ambassador to Chile Resigns.
3—Farmers Denounce Hoover.
Sidelights of Convention.
3-4-5-8—Convention Activities.
4—Moses Challenges Democracy.
5—The Post Radio Ballot.
6—Editorials.
7—Society.
7-12—Next Week in the Theaters.
10—Big Building Project Opposed.
Weather and Vital Statistics.
11—Fletcher Hits "Pool Statutes."
319 Given Degrees at C. U.
G. W. U. Graduates 450.
12—Magazine Page.
13-14-19—Sports.
15-16-17-18—Finance.
18—Behind the Screens.
18-21—Classified Advertising.
20—Radio and Comics.
22—The News in Pictures.
Celebrate Flag Day Today.

BORAH DRY PLEDGE IS GIVEN APPROVAL; MILD FIGHT LIKELY

Single 18th Amendment
Out for Particular Enforcement.

NULLIFICATION ISSUE IS SEEN AS A RESULT

Corruption Charge Also to Be Hurled at Democrats, It Is Indicated.

By CARLISLE BARGERON
(Staff Correspondent of The Post).

Kansas City, June 13.—The Republican party is preparing to take the bit in its teeth on the prohibition question. While not saying that it is dry, it never the less is planning to go further than either party ever has before by singling the eighteenth amendment out for particular enforcement. The party is going just far enough, in fact, to capitalize the nullification issue against Gov. Smith.

This, at least, is the program now.
The full platform committee has adopted Senator Borah's plan in substance, saying that the eighteenth amendment is the law of the land and pledging the party to its enforcement.
The plank will have a little opposition from New York, New Jersey and other Eastern States on the floor, but not enough, it is predicted, to bring about its defeat.

So, taking the plank with the utterances today of Senator George H.
Moses, of New Hampshire, in taking over the permanent chairmanship of the convention, and the general belief that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt is slated for the post of Attorney General in the Hoover cabinet, the issue is likely to be fairly well down next November.
more so, anyway, than it has ever been in a presidential election before.

Hoover Forces Cheer Her.

As to whether Mrs. Willebrandt is really to be Attorney General or not, it is known that that is what she is gunning for and those who have seen her run rough shod over opposition in early morning committee fights outright, agree that she will be hard to deny.

And it does not seem that the Hoover forces are thinking of denying her. Every time she appears they rise and demonstrate for her and she appears quite frequently today Senator Fess, the temporary chairman, had a dickens of a time keeping her from remaining on the platform and reading the entire report of the committee on credentials, of which she was chairman, and which, as she was bent upon reading it, would have required two
CONTINUED ON PAGE 8, COLUMN 5.

Courtney at Lisbon On Atlantic Flight

Lisbon, June 13 (A.P.).—Capt. Frank T. Courtney completed today the first leg of a transatlantic air journey when he arrived here after fourteen hours flying from Pisa. He intends to touch at the Azores and Halifax on his way to New York.

The captain made a good descent on the river here. He said he was fatigued by the flight which lasted 1,325 miles, but that all had gone well except that his speedometer ceased working. He will rest here until Friday.

WALL STREET TALKS NEW MOVIE MERGER

Banks Consider Grouping
Stanley, Warner, Pathe, Keith and Others.

New York, June 13 (A.P.).—Wall street bankers have been discussing informally, it was disclosed today, the formation of another large moving picture and theater combination, from a group of companies, including the Stanley Companies, First National Pictures, Warner Brothers, Pathe Exchange, Keith-Albee-Orpheum circuits, and Film Booking Offices.

Recent developments have tended toward such an alignment of independent companies. First National and Stanley consolidated their interests more than a year ago. Goldman, Sachs & Co., bankers for Warner Brothers, recently obtained representation in the Stanley Co., when Waddill Catchings, a member of the bankers' firm, was elected to the board. Only yesterday Joseph P. Kennedy, president of the FBO and chairman of Keith-Albee-Orpheum, was made "special adviser" to First National, a capacity in which he also serves Pathe.

Bankers made it clear today, however, that there have been no formal negotiations looking toward such a consolidation and that the matter had progressed no farther than informal talks.

BATTLE ON FLOOR OVER RELIEF PLAN, NORBECK ASSERTS

Farmer Group's Demand Defeated by Vote of 35 to 15.

FEE PRINCIPLE KEPT, SAYS SENATOR BORAH

Work of Platform Makers Is Completed After Nearly 36 Hours of Debate.

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.).—After a protracted fight the resolutions committee of the Republican national convention completed work late tonight on a party platform which will be submitted on the convention floor for action tomorrow.

As approved the plank dealing with farm relief embodies no reference to the equalization fee provisions of the twice vetoed McNary-Haugen bill, while the plank on prohibition declares for specific enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

These two questions proved the big obstacles encountered by the committee in its long session, and supporters of the equalization fee principle announced that they proposed to carry their fight to the convention floor for final determination.

It is not expected that the prohibition battle will be continued in the convention except in connection with a minority report which was drafted by Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, and rejected by the resolutions committee just before adjournment.

Approved, 35 to 15.
The farm relief plank, omitting reference to the fee principle was approved by a vote of 35 to 15. It declares that the agricultural industry is faced with a serious condition, that the trouble lies chiefly in the disposition of crop surpluses and their marketing, and pledges the Republican party to devise ways and means of remedying this situation. It advocates creation of a Federal farm board as one means of aiding agriculture.

The minority report on the farm relief plank will be drafted by Earl C.
Smith, of Illinois, one of the farm leaders. Whether he or another member of the farm group will submit the report on the convention floor still has to be decided.

The vote on the Borah dry plank was taken on viva voce ballot, Senator-elect
CONTINUED ON PAGE 8, COLUMN 4.

YOUTH'S BODY FOUND, WITH PISTOL AT SIDE

Policeman, Seeking Horse, Discovers Corpse in a Thicket of Swamp.

The body of a white man or youth,
a pistol by its side, was found late last night in a swampy thicket of Riggs road, near the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks in Woodbury, by Policeman John Foster, of the Twelfth Precinct, while he was searching for his horse which had wandered away.

The body was garbed in a blue coat, a pair of gray knickerbockers, white socks with blue and black shoes. One of the hands was bandaged as though it had been hurt.

Elvin R. Troxel, McKinley High School
cadet, who disappeared from his home, 704 Randolph street northwest, about two weeks ago, was similarly garbed.
The bicycle which he rode was of a different make than that which was found near the body. Troxel's father said early this morning that he did not believe the body to be that of his son. He said, however, that he would view the body today in order to determine definitely. The body was found near the home of Thomas Barrett, who recently had $17,000 stolen from him by a thief who looked a jar Barrett had hidden in the ground.

10 Injured by Clash In Athens Strike

Athens, Greece, June 13 (A.P.).—Ten persons were wounded today in a clash between troops and striking tobacco workers at Drama.

Several houses were burned at Ka-vala, where employees of the American Tobacco Co. are on strike. It was thought that communists were responsible.

Emmeline Pankhurst Suffers a Relapse

London, June 13 (A.P.).—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the noted suffrage leader, suffered a relapse today in the illness which has kept her bedridden for some time. Tonight her condition was announced as very critical.

OFFERS DEFIANCE TO DEMOCRATS

SENATOR GEORGE H. MOSES.

Moses Vice Presidential Boom On to Stop Dawes

Hoover Neutral on Running Mate; Fish, of New York, Deneen and Young Roosevelt Among New Aspirants; Reed Behind New Hampshire Man.

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.).—Vice presidential politics warmed up tonight as the Republican convention waited for its platform and Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, was put forward in the latest boom as an opponent of Vice President Dawes, who still seemed to be holding the advantage in the preliminary discussion.

Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, proposed Moses, and there seemed to be a crystallization of sentiment among Easterners behind the New Hampshire Senator, who brought the convention to its feet today with a ripping attack on the Democrats in his speech accepting the permanent chairmanship. Vermont declared for him today.

The persistent refusal of Herbert Hoover, who has apparently piled up plenty of votes to assure his nomination for the Presidency, to discuss the subject of a running mate, has left the vice presidential race in a muddle, and convention leaders are hoping to get together on a man after Hoover's nomination has been put on the books.

Reed's support for Moses is expected to influence the powerful Pennsylvania delegation of 79 votes. Secretary Mellon has referred to Mr. Dawes as the "logical" candidate, but is uncommitted
New York, with its 90 votes, decided tonight to wait until the presidential nominee indicates a possible running mate.

Gov. Huntley N. Spaulding of New Hampshire declared tonight that Senator Moses had the promise of support from more than ten States.

"Senator Moses today showed himself to the convention," the governor declared, "and to the country as we in his home State have long known him to be—a courageous and able Republican competent to take our cause to the people and to put it over. He will put pep into the campaign, just as he put pep into the convention today."

The middle West still is favored by Many Hoover leaders, particularly those who are apprehensive over the farm troubles. Dawes has been gaining ground here through the activity of his friend Ed Clifford, of Illinois, and because of his personal popularity, and many Hoover supporters believe his re-nomination inevitable, though not personally for him.

Indications have been that Mr. Dawes would accept the nomination if he were "drafted," but he would not make a contest for the nomination.

Representative Hamilton Fish, of New York, who has been an active candidate for Vice President, issued a statement that unless the presidential nominee indicated a choice he would have his name placed before the convention.

"If Mr. Hoover, the probable Republican standard bearer, favors Mr. Dawes, Mr. Curtis or any other candidate," Fish said, "I believe the New York delegation should respect his wishes.
If, however, there is to be an open contest for the nomination for Vice
CONTINUED ON PAGE 8, COLUMN 2.

Lowden May Quit Race; His Friends Want Dawes To Refuse Second Place

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—Former Gov. Lowden of Illinois will in all probability withdraw from what is left of the Republican nomination race as soon as it is definitely learned that the equalization fee has been rejected by the platform makers, it was learned authoritatively tonight.

The governor has considered the fight long since the Pennsylvania delegation toppled to Secretary Hoover, but has kept close to his quarters in the Hotel Muehlebach refusing to be interviewed on the question of what he planned to do. However, the rejection of the equalization fee principle in the platform, which is a foregone conclusion, will give him his graceful exit.

Several weeks before the convention assembled, it will be recalled, the governor declared that he did not want the nomination without the equalization fee principle in the platform. So when that principle is denied he will be able to hark back to his statement and gracefully withdraw.

At the same time, the former governor's friends are indignant at reports that Vice President Dawes would accept a second place on the ticket with Secretary Hoover, and they are giving voice to their indignation in a sort of backfire against the movement under way in Mr. Dawes' behalf.

The attitude of the staunch Lowden-ites is that no compromise with the Hoover forces should be brooked. The Hoover people might be very glad to have Dawes as a bait to the disaffected farm regions, the Lowdenites say.
Whether the Secretary would accept him or not is not known, but in the inner Lowden camp tonight the attitude was, "We have been defeated, now let the victors take their medicine."

This attitude of the inner Lowden camp is so strong, in fact, that it would not be surprising if the American Farm Bureau crowd did not take a stand against Dawes for Vice President.

NOMINATION PLANS ARE BEING HELD UP; HOOVER STILL GAINS

Delegates' Night Session to Receive Platform
Soon Adjourns.

HOPE FOR BALLOTING TODAY IS MAINTAINED

Fights on Floor and Speeches Proposing Candidates Must Come First.

RIVALS OF SECRETARY DISCUSS WITHDRAWING

Fish Willing to Be on Ticket
if Commerce Head Has No Preference.

JAMES L. WILLIAMS
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.).—The Hoover movement won additional victories today in several directions, but a real fight over the farm relief plank in the party platform held up temporarily the plans of the Hoover managers to press on toward an immediate nomination.

The Commerce Secretary's followers began the day by showing their power during the morning session by beating back by a vote of 659½ to 399½ an attempt to seat Texas and Florida delegates unfavorable to him. Then New York caucused and gave him all of her 90 votes, but tonight, with the convention in session ready to receive the platform, it developed that the battle over farm relief before the resolutions committee was so stubborn that it would be impossible to present the document tonight, and adjournment until tomorrow was voted. Even after it is presented a fight on the floor is forecast.

The four allied presidential candidates, Watson, Goff, Lowden and Curtis, will decide tomorrow whether they will go through with their nomination speeches or have their nominations withdrawn.

Informal Conferences Held.

Informal conferences were held tonight at Senator Watson's rooms, but a decision was deferred until tomorrow.
This action is contemplated in view of the decided trend of the convention for Hoover on the test vote today on adoption of the report of the credentials committee.

Hoover managers

HOUSE OF COMMONS HEARS DEBATE FOR NEW PRAYER BOOK

Canterbury Archbishop Urges Acceptance of Changes Bishops Approve.

SOME PREDICT MENACE OF DISESTABLISHMENT

Denial Is Made That Catholic Doctrine of Transubstantia-tion Is Recognized.

London, June 13 (A.P.).—The British House of Commons again came face to face today with the question of revising the prayer book of the Church of England. A revision measure showing several changes from that which was defeated in the house last December was the special order of business and a two-day debate started when P. B. Merriman, solicitor general, moved its adoption. Crowded galleries listened to the proceedings.

The book still contains features which have evoked fierce opposition from the evangelical group, and is condemned also by certain minority leaders of the Anglo-Catholic party. Such changes as have been effected since the December rejection say the evangelicals are too slight to warrant acceptance of the present book. These changes, on the other hand, have offended many of the Anglo-Catholics.

The controversy rages chiefly around the provision for reservation of the communion elements. Reservation, the ultra-Protestants insist, encourages adoration of the consecrated bread and wine and is in effect recognition of the Roman Catholic doctrine of transubstantiation, or the "real presence" of Christ.

Archbishop Defends Changes.

The aged Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of the church, in a final declaration urging parliamentary acceptance of the present book, explained the position of the bishops in presenting the prayer book for adoption in its present form.

"We have endeavored," his grace explained, "to meet the demands of the religious spirit with real regard both to the essential boundaries and to the

HURT IN CRASH

GEN. UMBERTO NOBILE

comprehensiveness of our church, Catholic and Reformed.

"There is no transubstantiation either taught or implied. The Roman doctrine is in simple fact more definitely excluded than before."

The prime minister, Stanley Baldwin, and the Right Honorable W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty, are expected to speak as vigorously for acceptance of the revised new measure as they did for its predecessor.

Diseestablishment Feared.

The champion of the Evangelicals in the Commons will again be Sir William Joynton-Hicks, the home secretary. Diseestablishment of the state church as a possible issue of the controversy is seen by many observers of the struggle, although this contingency is regarded as rather remote. Free church leaders have consistently fought the new revision, but they have been scrupulous, in the main, to refrain from mention of diseestablishment.

"The question is often asked, 'If you get our new book will you be able to enforce its provisions and restrictions,' he said. 'I can only say that the Archbishop of Canterbury, in the debate in the House of Lords, stated categorically that he would.'

GEN. NOBILE AMONG EXPLORERS INJURED IN WRECK OF ITALIA

Leader of Ill-Fated Arctic Dash Previously Silent on Own Misfortune in Crash.

RELIEF WORK RESULTS EXPECTED WITHIN WEEK

Norwegian Fliers Rush Preparations to Drop Supplies to Castaways.

Rome, June 13 (A.P.).—Word came out of the North today that Gen. Nobile was among the injured when the dirigible Italia was wrecked. Both his right arm and right leg were hurt, but if latest reports are to be relied upon he has practically recovered.

In addition to Gen. Nobile, Dr. Finn Melander, Swedish meteorologist, retained consciousness of the arm and Chief Technician Cecioni suffered a fracture of the right leg.

The fact that Nobile was injured caused a profound impression and added to the dramatic situation. The first report was that two men had been wounded, "the commander of the Italia omitting to speak of himself in the brief radio messages."

The people of Italy are anxiously watching news of the rescue preparations, and today, prior to the receipt of word of the general's injuries, his wife and daughter sent a wireless to him through the Citta di Milano. "Courage, faith, kisses from Carlotta and Maria."

It is hoped that by the end of the week some definite phase of the rescue work will be reached by the various expeditions from Kings Bay, Sweden, Russia and Norway. The search will center around the last recorded position of the Italia's commander. Supplies will be furnished him and all efforts will be made to aid his return to the mainland.

Once this is done efforts will be directed to finding the members of the expedition who were carried away by the dirigible's bag. It is estimated that they can resist the rigors of the Arctic longer than the others as they have plenty of food supplies, arms and clothing.

Simultaneously special efforts will be made to locate the three other members led by Dr. Malmgren, who evidently recovered from his injuries. This party started toward North Cape, but has not been heard from since May 30.

Hope of Rescue Increasing.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 13 (A.P.).—Hope grows for the rescue of the relief of Gen. Umberto Nobile and his companions of the wrecked dirigible Italia as the rescue party, led by Dr. Malmgren, make ready aboard the sealer Hobby for flights over the pack ice in the neighborhood of Foye Island. The Hobby has reached open water to the west of Northeast Land and is forcing her way along in the hope of reaching North Cape, where she plans to land the rescue party.

The moment conditions permit, the aviators will go into the air and will drop supplies to the castaways if they are so fortunate as to sight them. Their position is reported by Giuseppe Biagi, radio operator of the Italia, at 80.37 north latitude and 27.24 east longitude. The party was being carried in the drift in a northwesterly direction, which is carrying them slowly toward their would-be rescuers.

The drift, however, is not considered of much importance here, unless there is a shift and the pack ice moves toward the coast.

After the blizzard of yesterday, the sun appeared, and the expectation is that the weather will hold favorable for the search for the missing men, who are split into three groups, two of them widely separated, and the third, if alive, in an unknown region.

The rescue party is back at King's Bay, taking on gasoline and provisions, together with dogs and sledges. It will proceed as soon as possible to northern Spitzbergen.

Fliers Have Thrilling Experience.

The best present rescue expeditions hope to do is to definitely locate the Italia's men, and supply them with food, medicines and proper equipment to withstand the cold.

It is believed that the rescue party, which they were forced to land at Brandy Bay and had to spend several nights in their sleeping bags. Polar bears put in an appearance, and the rescue party, which they were forced to land at Brandy Bay and had to spend several nights in their sleeping bags.

They did not damage, however, although Holm and Myre spent a few anxious minutes watching a high relief as they departed.

Capt. Sora, leader of the Alpine chasseur, was enthusiastic over Lieut. Holm's flight. He believed that Holm and Riser-Larsen certainly will succeed in bringing aid to the stranded explorers.

A dog team proceeding to Northeast Land will take a portable radio apparatus to keep in touch, if possible, with the Nobile party and also the base ship Citta di Milano.

It continues extremely cold in the northern regions and it is thought that Gen. Nobile must stay on the ice owing to the weight of the accumulators for the radio. A change in the wind to the west would tend to bring the Italia's crew close to the shore of Foye Island. From the point of view of provisions carried by the Italia it is thought that the Nobile party has food for three or four weeks. The pilots have warm pilot clothes and reinforced boots and are considered safe from the cold.

On his trip to Nicolai Land Gen. Nobile noted the exact ice conditions for his forthcoming dash and these observations will be useful now, the Italians aboard the Citta di Milano being optimistic and are confident that all eventually will be saved.

Capt. Romagnolo, of the Citta di Milano, told the Associated Press correspondent tonight that Nobile and his men were more comfortable than earlier reports had indicated. He said that the castaways must exercise patience, but with the number of relief expeditions now on the way, the situation should be greatly relieved within a fortnight.

The captain said that the latest position given by the Nobile party was 80.38 north and 26.55 east. The dirigible was drifting westward and passing north of Foye Island, but as that piece of land is only about 300 feet high, it would be difficult for the Italia's men to see it under existing conditions.

(Copyright, 1928, by the Associated Press.)

MASH ODOR CAUSES ARREST OF 2 IN TRUCK

Policeman Gives Chase, Captures Still Apparatus; 28 Barrels Found in House.

After smelling a mash as a truck passed him while he was directing traffic at Fourth and Massachusetts avenue northwest yesterday afternoon, Policeman K. O. Spleen, of the Sixth Precinct, gave pursuit to the end of his chase he confiscated a 100-gallon copper container for a still, arrested two men, and learned two barrels of mash later resulted in the confiscation of 28 barrels of mash.

Angelo Schiattaregla, 41 years old, 477 C street, southeast, and Joseph Buttaie, 30, 1337 Twenty-second street northwest, were the names and addresses given by the two men when taken to the Sixth Precinct Station. They were charged with violating section 25 of the Federal prohibition act, prohibiting possession of implements used in the manufacture of intoxicating liquors. They were released on $500 bonds each.

As the truck passed Spleen he whistled for it to stop. It sped on and Spleen jumped on another car and gave pursuit. At Third and D streets he overtook the truck. The addresses taken from the two men were 323 Thirteenth street southeast, where Lieut. E. T. Harney and Spleen later found thirteen barrels of mash, and 477 C street southwest, where the two policemen got fifteen barrels of mash. Both houses were deserted upon their arrival.

Ball Game to Mark Field Day of Masons

Masons of Washington will hold their annual field day at the American League Park Saturday afternoon. The principal attraction will be a baseball game between the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine and the Veiled Prophets of the otto. Proceeds will be devoted to the Masonic and Eastern Star Home.

Opening with a parade led by the massed bands of Shrine and Grotto, followed by the Association of Workmen, the Eastern Star, and officers of the Eastern Star, the entertainment will consist of vaudeville, drills, and spectacles, staged under the auspices of the Association of Workship Masters for 1928, which is in charge.

Pilsudski Resumes Duties.

Warsaw, Poland, June 13 (A.P.).—Premier Pilsudski has entirely recovered from his recent lengthy indisposition and today resumed his duties as president of the council.

CARRANZA TO MAKE NONSTOP NEW YORK TO MEXICO FLIGHT

Will Go From Here Monday to Mitchel Field to Begin Preparations.

GUEST OF PRESIDENT AT NOTABLE LUNCHEON

Morrow Congratulates Foreign Minister Over Achievement of Good-Will Flier.

Chagrined over his failure to complete without stop his flight from Mexico City to Washington, Capt. Emilio Carranza, the good-will flier of Mexico, soon will attempt a nonstop flight from New York to Mexico City. Through the War Department, Capt. Carranza yesterday announced he would fly from Bolling Field to Mitchel Field, N. Y., in the early hours of Monday to complete his plans for a nonstop flight from New York to Mexico City in the Mexico Excelsior.

The Ryan monoplane, a counterpart of the famed Spirit of St. Louis, in which he made the hop from the Mexican capital to Washington Monday and Tuesday.

His plane, the Excelsior, bought by funds contributed by the citizens of Mexico, and Col. Lindbergh, automatically became his own when he arrived at his destination. It has been overhauled by mechanics at Bolling Field and is ready for a take-off whenever the Mexican flier says the word.

Wreath for Unknown Tomb.

Capt. Carranza got his first taste of "official" Washington yesterday. Refreshed from the first good night's sleep he has been able to obtain since he completed his arrangements for the flight to Washington, the flier arose bright and early at the Mexican Embassy yesterday morning and, accompanied by his father, Sebastian Carranza, of the consul general's office in New York, Ambassador Teller, his host while in Washington, and Dwight Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico, and Arthur Bliss Lane, chief of the Mexican division of the State Department, left for Arlington National Cemetery to place a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Leaving Arlington, Capt. Carranza was taken to the White House where he was presented to President Coolidge.

One of the most embarrassing moments of the President's administration occurred when Chief Executive invited his distinguished visitor to luncheon at the White House.

Guest of Coolidge.

The head of the White House culinary department was ordered to prepare a light luncheon for the flier and his companions. The White House box showed that the President was forced to take his guest to the Pan-American Building for luncheon. It later was learned that the cause of the President's embarrassment was the fact that the official larder had been allowed to run low because of the President's plans to leave Washington for a few minutes yesterday night, which failed to materialize when Mrs. Coolidge suddenly was taken ill.

After his luncheon with the President, he became the guest of Pan-American Union officials, who showed him around the building. Returning to the embassy the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

The guests attending the dinner were the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Teller, Attorney General John C. Sargent, Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes. He also met Charles P. Summer, chief of staff of the Army; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune. Unsuccessful in their regular talk this season, the flier took a few minutes' rest and then dined with the dinner given in his honor by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Kellogg at the Pan-American Union.

DRY'S PROPAGANDA AT NORMAL SCHOOLS BARRED BY BOARD

W. C. T. U. Proposal to Distribute Temperance Leaflets
"Turned Down Flat."

BUSINESS HIGH'S NAME CHANGED TO ROOSEVELT

Committee Appointed to Study Locating Delinquent Home
at Stanton Park.

Permission to circulate temperance literature among graduates of District Normal schools yesterday was denied the Woman's Christian Temperance Union by the Board of Education. The literature was to be placed in the hands of officials for distribution at the buildings during school hours.

Charles F. Carnal, president of the board, declared the temperance leaflets "propaganda, pure and simple," and Dr. H. Barrett Learned urged that the W. C. T. U. proposal be "turned down flat."

Virtually every member of the body expressed opposition to the distribution. In a letter asking the board to sanction the circulation, the temperance organization had asserted the pamphlets would "augment teaching" in the schools here. They had pointed out that the literature would do much to increase the "blessings" of the eighteenth amendment.

Oppose Delinquent Home.

Harry N. Stull, president of the Stanton Park Citizens Association, was allowed to take the floor in protesting the location of the proposed home for delinquents at Sixth and C streets northwest, on the site of the Stanton Park Hospital.

Stull told the board that, regardless of what precautions were taken, there was certain to be "contact" between the delinquents confined in the institution and the normal children of the neighborhood. The mere presence of the building in the community would be injurious, he said.

Henry Gilligan concurred in Stull's opinion, and told the board that the home should be located in the business section of the city, where it would be accessible to children. Carnal appointed Dr. Learned and Mr. Gilligan a committee of two to inquire into the Commission's reason for selecting the Stanton Park location.

"Business High" Moved.

The new Business High School to be erected, for which provision is made in the 1930 estimates, was named "The Theodore Roosevelt High School" following the report of a special committee on names of buildings. Members voted to strike out the name "Technical" from the McKinley and Armstrong Technical High Schools, although substitutes taught at the institutions will continue to be technical in character.

Dr. Ballou announced that a special "college preparatory course" would be offered at the Theodore Roosevelt High School, although the general character of the school would remain unchanged. The course would be for students who had completed the first two years of high school in the city.

R. N. Mattingly, principal of the Francis Xavier High School, was named principal of the new Cardozo Business High, in divisions 10 to 13. Mrs. M. H. Plummer was named to succeed him as principal of the Francis Xavier High School. Mr. Plummer was appointed principal of the Garnett Junior High School and J. W. Logan of the Shaw.

The resignation of the principal of the Langley Junior High School was the occasion of a tribute to the services of the official, who has been in the District school system but a year. Baker leaves Washington to organize a Junior high school in South Pasadena, Calif.

Summer School Salary Scale.

The new salary scale for summer school teachers, which will be put into effect for the first time this season, was announced by Dr. Ballou. The scale provides an increase of approximately 20 cents daily in the pay of teachers in the city's vacation schools.

The daily increase, in seven groups, will be as follows:

Elementary teachers, from $3.30 to $3.75; elementary principals, from $4.40 to $5.20; junior high school teachers, from $4.40 to $5.20; junior high school principals, from $5.50 to $6.50; senior high school teachers, from $6.50 to $7.50; senior high school principals, from $7.50 to $8.50.

Isaac Gans, chairman of the finance committee, recommended that janitors receiving caretakers' wages, in addition to their regular salary, for services at buildings offering special courses in domestic science, domestic art, and manual training, hereafter receive only their basic janitor's salary. The recommendation was approved.

The board will wind up all business for the school year, at a meeting next Thursday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

That is provision, the pl. ne. Mexican friends prepared him a basketful of sandwiches and fruit to eat while in the city. They got them aboard plane and so far back in the plane that the captain had to go hungry until they landed at Mooreville. This time the captain will carry his food and drink in a basket behind the controls.

Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico, has sent a message of congratulation to Genaro Estrada, acting minister of foreign affairs at Mexico City, in connection with the flight of Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican army aviator, from Mexico City to Washington.

The message follows:

"Will your excellency please accept my heartfelt congratulations on Capt. Carranza's great achievement which has been acclaimed here as a splendid exhibition of courage and wise judgment. I consider it a great honor to be present at the welcome which is being tendered to him today by my Government and by Ambassador Teller. Kindest personal regards."

Mother Says Blessings Helped Carranza Win

Mexico City, June 13 (A.P.).—Senora Carranza, mother of Capt. Emilio Carranza, who flew from Mexico City to Washington, attributed her son's success to the blessings she imparted to him before he hopped off.

Answering a telephone call from Washington last night, she was surprised to hear her son's voice and asked several times who was on the other end of the wire before she was convinced that it was the aviator. Senora Carranza told the newspaper men who were present that his success was due to her blessing.

President Calles sent a telegram of congratulation to Capt. Carranza. It read: "Cordial congratulations for the flight you have accomplished. I predict future successes for you in Mexican aviation."

Berberich's
The Choice of the Women's Party
SILK HOSIERY
[AS YOU LIKE IT]
Of course you'd expect the women's choice to be good looking; but women are canny, and you also expect their choice to have inherent merit as well as beauty. You have only to see this line of beautiful Hosiery to understand why it is the choice of the women's party.

PRICED
from $1.50 - $2.95

Berberich's
TWELFTH and F STS.

MISS BOLL INVITES RIVAL TO TAKE OFF WITH HER Better Water at Harbor Grace, She Wires; Stultz Unable to Get Into the Air.

FUEL LOAD IS LIGHTENED
SEVEN YEARS IN SERVICE

Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, June 13 (A.P.).—A sudden rainstorm this afternoon interrupted the preparations of Miss Mabel Boll to take off tomorrow in the monoplane Columbia for a flight to Europe. Before the development of the proposed home for delinquents at Sixth and C streets northwest, on the site of the Stanton Park Hospital.

Stull told the board that, regardless of what precautions were taken, there was certain to be "contact" between the delinquents confined in the institution and the normal children of the neighborhood. The mere presence of the building in the community would be injurious, he said.

Henry Gilligan concurred in Stull's opinion, and told the board that the home should be located in the business section of the city, where it would be accessible to children. Carnal appointed Dr. Learned and Mr. Gilligan a committee of two to inquire into the Commission's reason for selecting the Stanton Park location.

"Business High" Moved.

The new Business High School to be erected, for which provision is made in the 1930 estimates, was named "The Theodore Roosevelt High School" following the report of a special committee on names of buildings. Members voted to strike out the name "Technical" from the McKinley and Armstrong Technical High Schools, although substitutes taught at the institutions will continue to be technical in character.

Dr. Ballou announced that a special "college preparatory course" would be offered at the Theodore Roosevelt High School, although the general character of the school would remain unchanged. The course would be for students who had completed the first two years of high school in the city.

R. N. Mattingly, principal of the Francis Xavier High School, was named principal of the new Cardozo Business High, in divisions 10 to 13. Mrs. M. H. Plummer was named to succeed him as principal of the Francis Xavier High School. Mr. Plummer was appointed principal of the Garnett Junior High School and J. W. Logan of the Shaw.

The resignation of the principal of the Langley Junior High School was the occasion of a tribute to the services of the official, who has been in the District school system but a year. Baker leaves Washington to organize a Junior high school in South Pasadena, Calif.

Summer School Salary Scale.

The new salary scale for summer school teachers, which will be put into effect for the first time this season, was announced by Dr. Ballou. The scale provides an increase of approximately 20 cents daily in the pay of teachers in the city's vacation schools.

The daily increase, in seven groups, will be as follows:

Elementary teachers, from $3.30 to $3.75; elementary principals, from $4.40 to $5.20; junior high school teachers, from $4.40 to $5.20; junior high school principals, from $5.50 to $6.50; senior high school teachers, from $6.50 to $7.50; senior high school principals, from $7.50 to $8.50.

Isaac Gans, chairman of the finance committee, recommended that janitors receiving caretakers' wages, in addition to their regular salary, for services at buildings offering special courses in domestic science, domestic art, and manual training, hereafter receive only their basic janitor's salary. The recommendation was approved.

The board will wind up all business for the school year, at a meeting next Thursday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

That is provision, the pl. ne. Mexican friends prepared him a basketful of sandwiches and fruit to eat while in the city. They got them aboard plane and so far back in the plane that the captain had to go hungry until they landed at Mooreville. This time the captain will carry his food and drink in a basket behind the controls.

Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico, has sent a message of congratulation to Genaro Estrada, acting minister of foreign affairs at Mexico City, in connection with the flight of Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican army aviator, from Mexico City to Washington.

The message follows:

"Will your excellency please accept my heartfelt congratulations on Capt. Carranza's great achievement which has been acclaimed here as a splendid exhibition of courage and wise judgment. I consider it a great honor to be present at the welcome which is being tendered to him today by my Government and by Ambassador Teller. Kindest personal regards."

Mother Says Blessings Helped Carranza Win

Mexico City, June 13 (A.P.).—Senora Carranza, mother of Capt. Emilio Carranza, who flew from Mexico City to Washington, attributed her son's success to the blessings she imparted to him before he hopped off.

Answering a telephone call from Washington last night, she was surprised to hear her son's voice and asked several times who was on the other end of the wire before she was convinced that it was the aviator. Senora Carranza told the newspaper men who were present that his success was due to her blessing.

President Calles sent a telegram of congratulation to Capt. Carranza. It read: "Cordial congratulations for the flight you have accomplished. I predict future successes for you in Mexican aviation."

Arthur Burt Shoe Co., 1343 F St.

Men's Clothing reduced

Furnishings reduced

Shoes reduced

Hats reduced

In Our Classical Anniversary Sale—

Men's Haddington Suits

that were $35 & $40 that were $45 & $50

$24.50 $29.50

2 pairs pants or pants and knickers included

CORN BELT GROUP CONTINUES DEMONSTRATION

FARMERS, REBUFFED
AT DOORS OF HALL, DENOUNCE HOOVER

30,000,000 Won't Vote for Secretary, Is Song They Chant Loudly.

HOTELS ARE INVADED
AS COMMITTEE TOILS

Floor Fight on Fee Plank, if It Comes, to See West Lined Against East.

By ARTHUR EVANS.
Special to The Washington Post.

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—The corn belt revolt, made visible and vocative in the form of a small army of farmers, laid siege today to the Republican national convention.

Headed by a band in overalls, the farmers marched on the hall this morning chanting in a sing-song, "We don't want Hoover." Their leaders sent in a note asking permission to parade through the hall in one door and out of another, to give the East a close-up view of one political phase of the middle West.

The request was ignored. So the farmers, headed by William H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau, marched around the hall three times, raising at the top of well-seasoned leather lungs a series of shouts. They almost drowned out the amplifiers which were spreading the doings of the convention to the outside world with a song that had only seven words. They kept it up incessantly for an hour or more.

The song, with its chorus and all its verses, was:

"Thirty million farmers won't vote for Hoover."

Orderly and Good-Natured.

It was an orderly, good-natured throng, but it was well-equipped with lung power. At one juncture State Senator John Schuman, of Westtown, Wis., at the head of the section of the parade, marched his crowd up to the main door and tried to press inside. A police captain blocked the way. Schuman waved the flag he carried. "This flag goes anywhere," he cried.

"It won't go here without an admission ticket," said the policeman.

The marchers tried again at the alley door, with no success. So the band turned up "The God Save the King" and yelled one of the farm leaders through a megaphone, while the alley rocked with laughter.

Edgar Bush, former Lieutenant Governor of Indiana, entered the hall, saying he would ask official permission for the farmers to enter. He looked up a sergeant at arms, also from Indiana.

"We're all good Republicans," said Mr. Bush. "All we want is to come and stage a peaceful demonstration and march out again."

"Sorry," said the sergeant at arms, "but they can't enter without tickets. It would demoralize the proceedings."

Farm March Is Resumed.

"The farmers will resent this," said Mr. Bush. "All we want is to come to the uprisers, who again took up the march. Delegates, hearing something interesting in progress came rushing out to see the spectacle. Movie cameramen were busy."

In the street outside the main entrance three large signs were held by squads of husky growers where they hit the delegates in the eye. One read: "We want a Republican," another "We're Republicans and Want Our Own Party to Protect Us," and another, "Hoover Will Be Pie for All Sinners."

The corn belt invaded the hotel lobbies during the convention recess. They planked themselves in front of the several Hoover banners upon Houston, trying to penetrate the silence for a trifle of news on the situation.

Want Specific Plank.

A stack of farm planks was before the committee when it started. They are of all varieties. The corn belt uprisers leaders insist that to satisfy the farmers the plank must contain something specific. If any sugar-coated generality is put through, they declare, it would lead to a movement of many of the farm organizations upon Houston to seek a wide open declaration in the Democratic platform.

The thirty farm organizations which served notice on the party Monday that

At KANSAS CITY

SENATOR CHARLES CURTIS
pictured at Kansas City.

If the convention does not listen to the wishes of organized agriculture the farmers will speak at the polls in November and urged a plank declaring for the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill. The "equalization fee" is the real core of the fight. The fee is the essence of the McNary-Haugen bill. The corn belt leaders, in general, say that to suit the embattled farmers, the plank will need to declare for the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill, which they define as "The cost of surplus control which must be borne by all producers of the commodity benefited."

The language of the plank adopted in Chicago last Friday by the American Farm Bureau, they maintain, is a close definition of the equalization fee principle, but in view of the dispute over its meaning, they declare it would be well to change its phrasing.

Floor Fight In Sight.

Corn belt leaders in the anteroom pointed out that in the subcommittee that is getting the platform into shape agriculture is represented by Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association. Some of the leading opponents of the McNary-Haugen bill are also on the committee in the persons of Senators Smoot, Borah and Bingham. Mr. Smith, they report, has been putting up a strong battle. The farm group plank endorsing the principle of the "equalization fee" when voted on was beaten, 13 to 3. After this various compromises fell through and the general sense was to put the question up to the full committee, where it now is.

Working on Scheme.

Word from the inner chamber was that Senator Borah and a majority of the committee favored declaring for the principle of spreading the cost of surplus marketing over the commodity benefited, provided it did not involve an equalization fee administered by a governmental agency. Hours of debate were spent in trying to work out such a scheme, but to no avail so far.

The minority platform of the Wisconsin La Folletteites is surmised to contain a plank satisfactory to the farm leaders. But it is an open question whether, if the fight goes to the floor, it will rather be over a separate farm plank presented by all the minority committee members.

The Wisconsin radical contribution this time is expected to be challenged by the nine conservatives within the Wisconsin delegation. In a round robin they circulated among delegates the "regulars" have declared that Senator John Blaine, in opening the last primary campaign, said kind words for Gov. Smith and Senator James A. Reed. They have been spreading word that if Hoover is nominated the Blaine-La Folletteites will swing over to Smith if he is the Democratic nominee.

If the farm plank goes to the floor, which is deemed extremely probable by the farm leaders, it is expected to precipitate one of the greatest convention debates in a long time. The vote, they conjecture, will show the convention lined up sectionally as seldom before over a great issue, West versus East.

TELEGRAMS CROWD
DESKS OF HOOVER
FELICITATING HIM

Secretary Spends Quiet Day in Office—Akerson Reports on Kansas City.

HIS VICE PRESIDENTIAL WISHES STILL SECRET

Col. Donovan, Back From Europe, a Caller; Police Guard Residence.

By CLINTON COFFIN.
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

A temporary lull developed yesterday in the swirl of activities that has centered around Secretary Hoover since his nomination for President at Kansas City became probable.

Early in the morning George E. Akerson, of his secretarial staff, returned to Washington from the convention scene and was closeted immediately with his chief to make a full report upon the situation. Stacks of telegrams of congratulations, coming in advance of the convention's nomination proceedings, were received.

His expert staff, familiar by long practice with the job, fended off all attacks on his privacy whether by photographers, newspaper reporters, or would-be callers. He spent the day as he has spent his previous days within his private office at the Commerce Department, though a big radio set in an adjoining room and an open telephone line to Kansas City were maintained in service to keep him in touch with the convulsive progress.

Silent on Vice President.

So far, Mr. Hoover has refused to give publicly any inkling of his wishes as to a vice presidential candidate, platform plank, or campaign management. He did say yesterday several Government officials, all but one of whom, Col. W. J. Donovan, assistant Attorney General were attached to his own department. Col. Donovan's brief call made upon the heels of his return from a European tour was said to have been official rather than political though the Department of Justice may have been a heavy supporter of the Hoover presidential campaign.

The Washington police department took cognizance of the approaching situation far enough to station a detail of officers around the Hoover residence in Washington, a precaution usual for the protection of celebrated personages in the Capital. The Secretary was expected to remain closely at home.

Despite the unwillingness of the Hoover aids to talk, it was clear that they considered their chief entirely dominant over the convention situation. His decision as to any points of view was considered by them as likely to prevail, for the good politics of intervention in these matters was considered questionable.

Leaves All to Managers.

It was said that Mr. Hoover would have left strictly to the position that his managers in Kansas City had authority to make, although he indicated he would be allowed to do so.

His early resignation from the Cabinet, if nominated, was confidently predicted, though it was said yesterday that there would be no haste about it, and that he might be expected to remain in Washington long enough to interview his campaign leaders and return from Kansas City. Thereafter his tentative plans are understood to be arranged to take him home to California for the official inauguration.

Dawes, in a Barber Shop,
Talks Freely About Chow

Chicago, June 13 (A.P.)—Vice President Charles G. Dawes talked freely today about his recently acquired chow dog, Chung. Cornered by a reporter where he could not escape—in a barber chair—the Vice President refused to talk about the Kansas City convention, although he indicated his interest by announcing he expected to listen to some of today's session over the radio. The rest of the interview was spent in a discussion of the merits of the chow.

Whether, if the fight goes to the floor, it will rather be over a separate farm plank presented by all the minority committee members. The Wisconsin radical contribution this time is expected to be challenged by the nine conservatives within the Wisconsin delegation. In a round robin they circulated among delegates the "regulars" have declared that Senator John Blaine, in opening the last primary campaign, said kind words for Gov. Smith and Senator James A. Reed. They have been spreading word that if Hoover is nominated the Blaine-La Folletteites will swing over to Smith if he is the Democratic nominee.

If the farm plank goes to the floor, which is deemed extremely probable by the farm leaders, it is expected to precipitate one of the greatest convention debates in a long time. The vote, they conjecture, will show the convention lined up sectionally as seldom before over a great issue, West versus East.

One man turned in his seat to reject with two words a tentative nomination of some one whose name could not be heard. "Lightweight," he said scornfully.

From first to last along all the aisles of the big convention hall a roving reporter heard no suggestion made of presidential candidates.

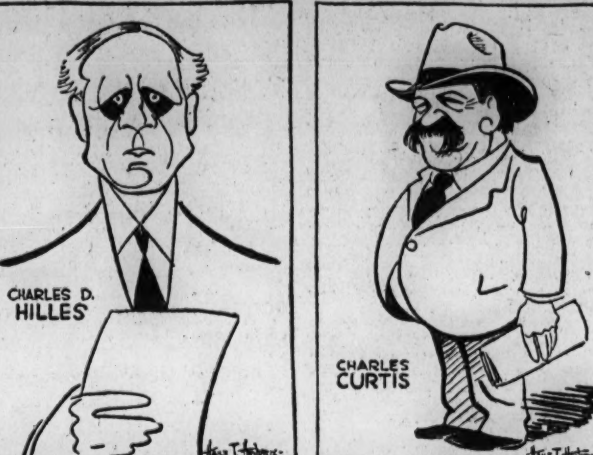

There was an indirect reference to the presidential contest during the voting on the adoption of the minority report of the credentials committee. When Andrew W. Mellon rose in his front-row Pennsylvania seat to vote "No" 79 times for the Pennsylvania delegation, a Hoover supporter in the rear beamed with satisfaction. Turning to another member of his delegation, he placed official approval on the Treasury Secretary's action with: "There's one thing you've got to give these old boys in this business. When they make up their minds, they stay made up."

The orderly procedure of the convention has produced few customers for the hospital set up in the hall. Nurses in attendance reported a few scratched fingers and a headache or so in the way of casualties.

The newspaper men circulating about the hall proved puzzling to the uppers. One of them explained to the director of her section that "I tried to help him find his seat, but he said he didn't have one and I just let him go."

The radio announcers wanted more and louder bands as the convention remained in a state of inactivity amounting to a recess. When the band

LEADERS AS AN ARTIST SEES THEM

Drawn by H. T. Hendrix.

Sidelights on the Convention

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.)—Unless they can do two things at the same time all the delegates to the Republican convention did not hear all that was said today. Many of them had a lot of talking to do.

The delay in getting down to business may have been responsible. The hum of conversation competed on almost every term with the band while the convention was waiting for the reports from the credentials committee.

When the framework finally started the conversationalists had the habit and almost had the floor.

All the talk was not of politics. There were hints here and there that some of the delegates were getting homesick. "I wanted to go by Louisville," one said to a neighbor, "but they tell me I can't do it." He didn't say why.

Another delegate may have been listening to Mrs. Mabel Walker Wilbur Brand's speech, but he was not looking at the Californian, who is by no means hard to look at. So far as he was concerned the eyes had to be for a big automobile road map spread out on his knees. It seemed certain that he was looking for a way home.

At least one man refused to join his seatmate in anxious speculation to what the rain could be found "Thursday night," he said, "there'll be no trouble." The unexcited one said, "a man at the hotel told me you can get a train from here to anywhere at any time."

The farmers who say that thirty million of their number can not be wrong were in the main, the outside looking in, but an echo of their protesting shouts reached the delegates. "He'll appeal to the service men and farmers at the same time." "From the wrong State," was the flat rejection of one man with a vote to an appeal for sympathy for the favorite of a delegate in front of him.

One man turned in his seat to reject with two words a tentative nomination of some one whose name could not be heard. "Lightweight," he said scornfully.

From first to last along all the aisles of the big convention hall a roving reporter heard no suggestion made of presidential candidates.

There was an indirect reference to the presidential contest during the voting on the adoption of the minority report of the credentials committee. When Andrew W. Mellon rose in his front-row Pennsylvania seat to vote "No" 79 times for the Pennsylvania delegation, a Hoover supporter in the rear beamed with satisfaction. Turning to another member of his delegation, he placed official approval on the Treasury Secretary's action with: "There's one thing you've got to give these old boys in this business. When they make up their minds, they stay made up."

The orderly procedure of the convention has produced few customers for the hospital set up in the hall. Nurses in attendance reported a few scratched fingers and a headache or so in the way of casualties.

The newspaper men circulating about the hall proved puzzling to the uppers. One of them explained to the director of her section that "I tried to help him find his seat, but he said he didn't have one and I just let him go."

The radio announcers wanted more and louder bands as the convention remained in a state of inactivity amounting to a recess. When the band

REPUBLICAN WOMEN SHARPLY DIVIDED ON SUPPORT OF HOOVER

Wives of Farmers Dispute Claim That He Is Outstanding Choice of Sex.

FEMININE DELEGATES
HAVE STRENUOUS DAY

Women Delegates From Six States Appointed Vice Presidents of the Convention.

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.)—Dismissing yesterday's jaunty high heels for Deauville sandals and walking shoes, the women, within and without the convention walls settled down today to the serious business of "educating delegates" on pending issues and planning "carry on campaigns" for others counted by some already lost.

While the packed hall of delegates waited an hour for a woman, Mrs. Mabel Walker Wilbur Brand, chairman of the resolutions committee, to open the day's proceedings, and muttered comments of "that's what the women do for us," were heard as the time of waiting lengthened, other members of her sex were hard at work, for against every major issue before the convention.

"There is no such thing as a woman's vote," they vote as the men do, from conviction and affiliation," said Mrs. M. M. Scranton, new national committeewoman from Pennsylvania, analyzing the situation.

"Hoover is the outstanding candidate for the women of the country," said Mrs. W. Reginald Baker, national committeewoman from New Jersey, voicing the crusaders' spirit of the "Hoover women."

"You can nominate Hoover, but you can't elect him," silently responded the buttons worn by women of the "embattled farmers' group, who voiced their feeling with cries of "nominate Hoover and we will vote for Smith," as they followed their husbands in a march on the Convention Hall.

Farm Women In Earnest.

"The farm women are desperately in earnest," said Mrs. Verna L. Haddock of Huntington, Ind., social and educational director of the Indiana Farm Bureau, who walked a firm and energetic figure in dark tailored suit, at the head of the column.

The women's fight for a prohibition enforcement plank is now regarded as won and the women's law-enforcement organizations could rest on their laurels, but, instead, under the leadership of Mrs. Ella A. Boone, national president of the W. C. T. U., they are busy perfecting plans for Houston.

Women who are for modification or repeal, on the other hand, reply that "the right is only just begun."

The other issues especially supported by women, the World Court and renunciation of war treaties, a Federal department of education, and the question of protective legislation for women, are still unsettled in the committee on resolutions, but the opposing forces continue their work for and against.

"I feel Borah and Smith were both sympathetic," said Mrs. Frances G. Roberts, chairman of the industrial council of the National Women's Party.

Equal Rights Hope Seen.

"I think the men are beginning to feel the time is coming when the equal rights provision will have to be put through," she added. "It is only a question of time."

The League of Women Voters, opposing the woman's party, is pushing an amendment plank and demanding "the right of working women to actual, not theoretical, equality through protective legislation" today held their meeting at a luncheon for some 300 guests.

Women legislators from several States were speakers, among them Mrs. Julia Emery, of Connecticut; Mrs. Emma Paige, of Minneapolis; Mrs. Robert Taft, of Cincinnati, daughter-in-law of President Taft; and Mrs. Frances Parkinson Keyser, wife of the senator from New Hampshire, also were honor guests.

On the floor of the convention today several of the newly chosen national committeewomen were noticed actively following the proceedings.

Activities of Other Women.

Mrs. C. E. Rumyon, new national committeewoman from Oregon, who has been named for the nomination as the only woman presidential elector from her State, was seated with the Governor of Oregon and Mrs. I. L. Patterson. Mrs. Rumyon has for ten years been a member of the Republican State central committee.

Mrs. Katherine Langley, the only congresswoman who is a delegate to the convention, and "one of the original Hoover women of Kentucky," was seated with the Governor of Kentucky and Mrs. J. B. McCreary. Mrs. Langley was a member of the resolutions committee, working at all hours to draft the party platform.

Not all members of the delegation had the leisure to look over the convention crowds and spend the day in idle discussion of politics. Representative Frederick N. Zihlman was in need of prep work and faced still further night work as a member of the resolutions committee, working at all hours to draft the party platform.

Rolland R. Marchant, of Baltimore, as a member of the credentials committee, listened to the numerous delegation fights from the Southern States, where factional strife is working the committee overtime. Glen L. Tait was swamped in keeping the records of the committee on rules and order of business, and William F. Jackson was busy as a member of the national committee. Mr. Jackson and Mrs. W. Bladen Lowndes probably will remain in Kansas City after the delegates leave to attend a meeting of the national committee.

Mayor Broening today said that the Maryland delegation was strongly for a farm relief plank in the platform but that the delegates did not consider the equalization fee the proper remedy. The mayor regarded favorably some plank whereby the Government might effect price stabilization through loans to farmers on their products. He dis-drove down Kansas City's main street this afternoon, shouting lustily for "light wines and free beer." At one of the busiest corners they ran into a parade of protesting farmers, whereupon they shifted their allegiance to Will Rogers. In front of the Hoover headquarters they yelled for Lowden for President and for Andrew Gump.

At many an oasis in Kansas City tonight the men are telling of the "Hoover women" who, in the face of a hard-boiled dry enforcement officer, Jack Maroney, of Indianapolis, a supporter of Senator Watson, as the story goes, Maroney disguised himself as a farmer this morning and joined in the parade of the corn belt uprisers.

He crashed the gate with ease, and penetrated almost into the hall of delegates itself before he was interrupted by a husky policeman.

"Hi there, you can't come in here," said the officer.

"I'm already here," said the Watsonite.

"Out you go, lad," said the policeman. "Don't clutter the aisle."

Maroney demurred. The officer insisted. There was a scuffle and the disguised farmer went out on his ear, so to speak, gathering a couple of wal-

lows as he went.

JULIUS GARFINCKEL &amp; Co.

WASHINGTON
PARIS

We solve your Parking Problem while shopping here by taking charge of your car

To dress smartly and comfortably is much of the pleasure in sports.

The Discriminating Sportswoman Finds Our Famous Greenbrier Sportswear For Women and Misses

INDISPENSABLE for all occasions of sport, whether she is a participant or a spectator.

IN truth, she who selects from our remarkable line has the assurance of wearing an outfit that is admired and envied wherever it is worn.

F STREET CORNER OF 13TH

CLEAN YOUR DIAMONDS AND JEWELS WITH "JEM KLENO," $1 BOTTLE

FOR THE WEDDING

Or Wedding Anniversary

IN the home that is just starting or the home that is celebrating an anniversary of its beginning, a Seth Thomas clock is a most appropriate gift. It's century-old reputation carries with it an atmosphere of permanence. . . . You will find in our complete stock a Seth Thomas for every room at moderate prices.

Banjo Clocks in Color $17.50 up

B. Harris &amp; Co.

F Street at 11th

Jewelers and Diamond Merchants for Over Half a Century

MARYLAND'S DELEGATION EXPLAINS CONTEST VOTE

Mayor Broening Says Hoover Men Were Supported Because of Opponents' Tactics.

MEMBERS HAVE BUSY DAY

DISTRICT BALLOT PLANK CHANGES THOUGHT SLIM

Delegates Will Meet This Morning to Try and Agree on Vice Presidency Choice.

DAWES BACKING IS HEARD

Kansas City, Mo., June 13 (A.P.)—After voting solidly behind the national committee and the credentials committee today when the ruling seating the Hoover instructed delegates from Texas was challenged, Maryland delegates to the Republican national convention were marking time tonight.

"Our action today was based on the belief that the rival Texas faction was without a just claim, and we voted without regard to the instruction of the delegates," Mayor W. F. Broening of Baltimore, chairman of the old liners, said. The 19 Maryland votes aided the Hoover-Creager delegation from Texas in piling up a majority of more than 250 votes.

"Maryland took the view that any claim the Texas challengers might have had as district delegates was overshadowed by a rump convention held afterward," the Baltimore executive continued. "We would have considered the claim to a much greater extent except for the illegal action of a rump convention."

Not all members of the delegation had the leisure to look over the convention crowds and spend the day in idle discussion of politics. Representative Frederick N. Zihlman was in need of prep work and faced still further night work as a member of the resolutions committee, working at all hours to draft the party platform.

Rolland R. Marchant, of Baltimore, as a member of the credentials committee, listened to the numerous delegation fights from the Southern States, where factional strife is working the committee overtime. Glen L. Tait was swamped in keeping the records of the committee on rules and order of business, and William F. Jackson was busy as a member of the national committee. Mr. Jackson and Mrs. W. Bladen Lowndes probably will remain in Kansas City after the delegates leave to attend a meeting of the national committee.

Mayor Broening today said that the Maryland delegation was strongly for a farm relief plank in the platform but that the delegates did not consider the equalization fee the proper remedy. The mayor regarded favorably some plank whereby the Government might effect price stabilization through loans to farmers on their products. He dismissed Kansas City's main street this afternoon, shouting lustily for "light wines and free beer." At one of the busiest corners they ran into a parade of protesting farmers, whereupon they shifted their allegiance to Will Rogers. In front of the Hoover headquarters they yelled for Lowden for President and for Andrew Gump.

At many an oasis in Kansas City tonight the men are telling of the "Hoover women" who, in the face of a hard-boiled dry enforcement officer, Jack Maroney, of Indianapolis, a supporter of Senator Watson, as the story goes, Maroney disguised himself as a farmer this morning and joined in the parade of the corn belt uprisers.

He crashed the gate with ease, and penetrated almost into the hall of delegates itself before he was interrupted by a husky policeman.

"Hi there, you can't come in here," said the officer.

"I'm already here," said the Watsonite.

"Out you go, lad," said the policeman. "Don't clutter the aisle."

Maroney demurred. The officer insisted. There was a scuffle and the disguised farmer went out on his ear, so to speak, gathering a couple of wal-

lows as he went.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—The District of Columbia Republican organization plans to meet at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to determine, if it can, how to vote on the Vice Presidency. A meeting was held this afternoon for the purpose but sentiment was not well enough defined for any final action to be taken.

There is considerable Dawes sentiment among the organization leaders who are here and with whom Lincoln C. Townsend and John R. Hawkins consult before taking action in the convention.

Edward F. Colladay, national committeeman; Representative Dyer, of Missouri; Representative Frederick N. Zihlman, of Maryland, and others of the District contingent, spent most of today around the platform committee waiting for an opportunity to be heard on the District suffrage plank, and finally were given a hearing at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The plank was not included in the tentative platform prepared by the Washingtonians to give them a hearing before a subcommittee, though. The net effect of the hearing is that the situation which has long been conducted for suffrage in the District is now advanced another step—to the minutes of the Republican platform committee.

cussed instances when cotton sold several cents below the price which the Department of Agriculture knew to be proper from a survey of world conditions and thought that the Government might do something to assure the farmer the price his product should bring under these conditions.

Fascinated by the thrill of sitting in a national political convention the entire delegation, the alternates and friends are attending all sessions in the huge auditorium. The radio amplifiers brought the voices of the speakers to them when the ordinary voices of the speakers would have been drowned in the hum of the multitude and the immensity of the hall.

Hickey-Freeman
CUSTOMIZED CLOTHES

NECKWEAR

ENGLISH Spitalfield Silks, woven especially for Goldheim's, have been fashioned by hand into cravats of unusual appeal. Tick patterns, favored in London this spring, have been made particularly desirable by their harmony with the season's accepted suitings and shirtings.

THREE-FIFTY

Goldheim's

FOURTEEN HUNDRED AND NINE H STREET
Apparel for Gentlemen—Established 1875

The Young Men's Shop

1319-1321 F Street

JUNE 14 STETSON HATS BOSTONIAN SHOES

Next Sunday

IS

Father's Day

Dad's a good old scout—let him know that you appreciate him.

Some little remembrance will warm his heart—it's the little things that count.

There are scores of nice, inexpensive gifts in our stocks of furnishings.

HAY-ADAMS House
GRILL
NOW OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
Popular Price LUNCHEON and DINNER
Table d'Hôte and à la Carte

CONVENTION CHAIRMAN PROMISES TO BURY GOVERNOR SMITH

MOSES CHALLENGES DEMOCRACY TO PIT ITS STRONGEST MAN

Republicans Come Upon the Field Aggressively Militant, Delegates Are Told.

FIGHT WILL BE CARRIED TO Foe, SPEAKER SAYS

Senator Declares G. O. P. Will Not Shirk Responsibility to Agriculture.

Kansas City, June 13. (A.P.)—Declaring the Republican party would not shirk its responsibility toward agriculture, Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, as permanent chairman of the national convention, told the assembly today that the party would enter the campaign "in no posture of defense."

"We come upon the field aggressively militant," he said. "We intend to carry this fight to the enemy. And we challenge them to bring forth their strongest champion."

"The honor which you have conferred upon me is very great," the chairman began. "I thank you for it. The duties which your generous action lays upon me may prove to be difficult, but I hope to be able to perform them satisfactorily."

"We come now to the central and most important tasks for which we are assembled. First, we are to formulate a declaration of principles which will embody the essentials of Republicanism and with which we shall submit our cause to the people."

"Inevitably, in a party thoroughly national in its vision and contact as ours is, there will be from time to time differences of opinion. This is by no means the first occasion when Republicans have found themselves at odds regarding a question of cardinal consequence as affecting party policy. Yet, before we have succeeded always in settling our difficulties within our own ranks through the wise spirit of accommodation which must characterize a great and far-flung organization like ours, upon which depends so much for the advance and prosperity of our country. So it will be now."

Will Not Shirk Responsibility.

"No one can doubt the essential sympathy with which the Republican party has always looked upon the great and diverse interests which make up the fabric of our national enterprise. This sympathetic viewpoint has not changed. Agriculture and industry and the social order continue to be the prime objects of our solicitude. In dealing with them the Republican party will not shirk its responsibility. We shall, however, now as always, chart our course within the limits of the Constitution and within the operation of sound economic law."

"Half a century ago the Republican party stood firm against inflation through an intimidated issue of paper money—and the people stood with us then."

"A generation ago the Republican party stood firm against a debasement of our currency through the free coinage of silver—and the people stood with us then."

"Less than ten years ago the Republican party stood firm against the surrender of our sovereignty through minority members in a foreign superstate—and the people then stood with us, by a majority of more than 7,000,000."

"So we shall stand firm again here and now—and in November the American people will again place in our hands and reward our sincerity in a victory as splendidly triumphant as any which we have ever achieved."

Sees Overwhelming Victory.

"Upon the platform which we shall reconstruct, we shall place a candidate whose personality fits our principles and the Nation's present necessities. We are not barren of presidential timber here. We have many who fall, we know it will not rest in unworthy hands and that the leadership we shall here and now place in our country, a Republican leadership which will endure for at least eight years more."

"There are at least 5,000,000 reasons why this must be so—because there are at least 5,000,000 more Republicans than there are Democrats in this country. These reasons are so plain, so clear, so obvious, that we know they will be when this convention has concluded its task, and joined by millions more to whom our candidates and our principles have appealed, will sweep on to an overwhelming victory at the polls."

"There is no occasion for the people to distrust our party and there is no occasion for our party to distrust the people. Their sober judgment will rest with us because—"

"In seeking for a foreign policy for the United States we know our people will not turn to the party which conceived and nurtured the League of Nations."

"In seeking for a fiscal policy for the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party which advocated rag money and free silver."

"In seeking for an agency to safeguard the rights of American citizens and American property on foreign soil, we know our people will not turn to the party which advocates a policy of appeasement."

"In seeking for an instrument to carry forward the still uncompleted recognition of the present-day defense of the flag, we know our people will not turn to the party which for 80 years has resisted, with unequalled venom, every measure to show gratitude to those defenders of the union who made possible our contribution to the World War."

"In seeking for means to administer the great trust of Government for the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party which constantly shown itself ready to barter principles for votes."

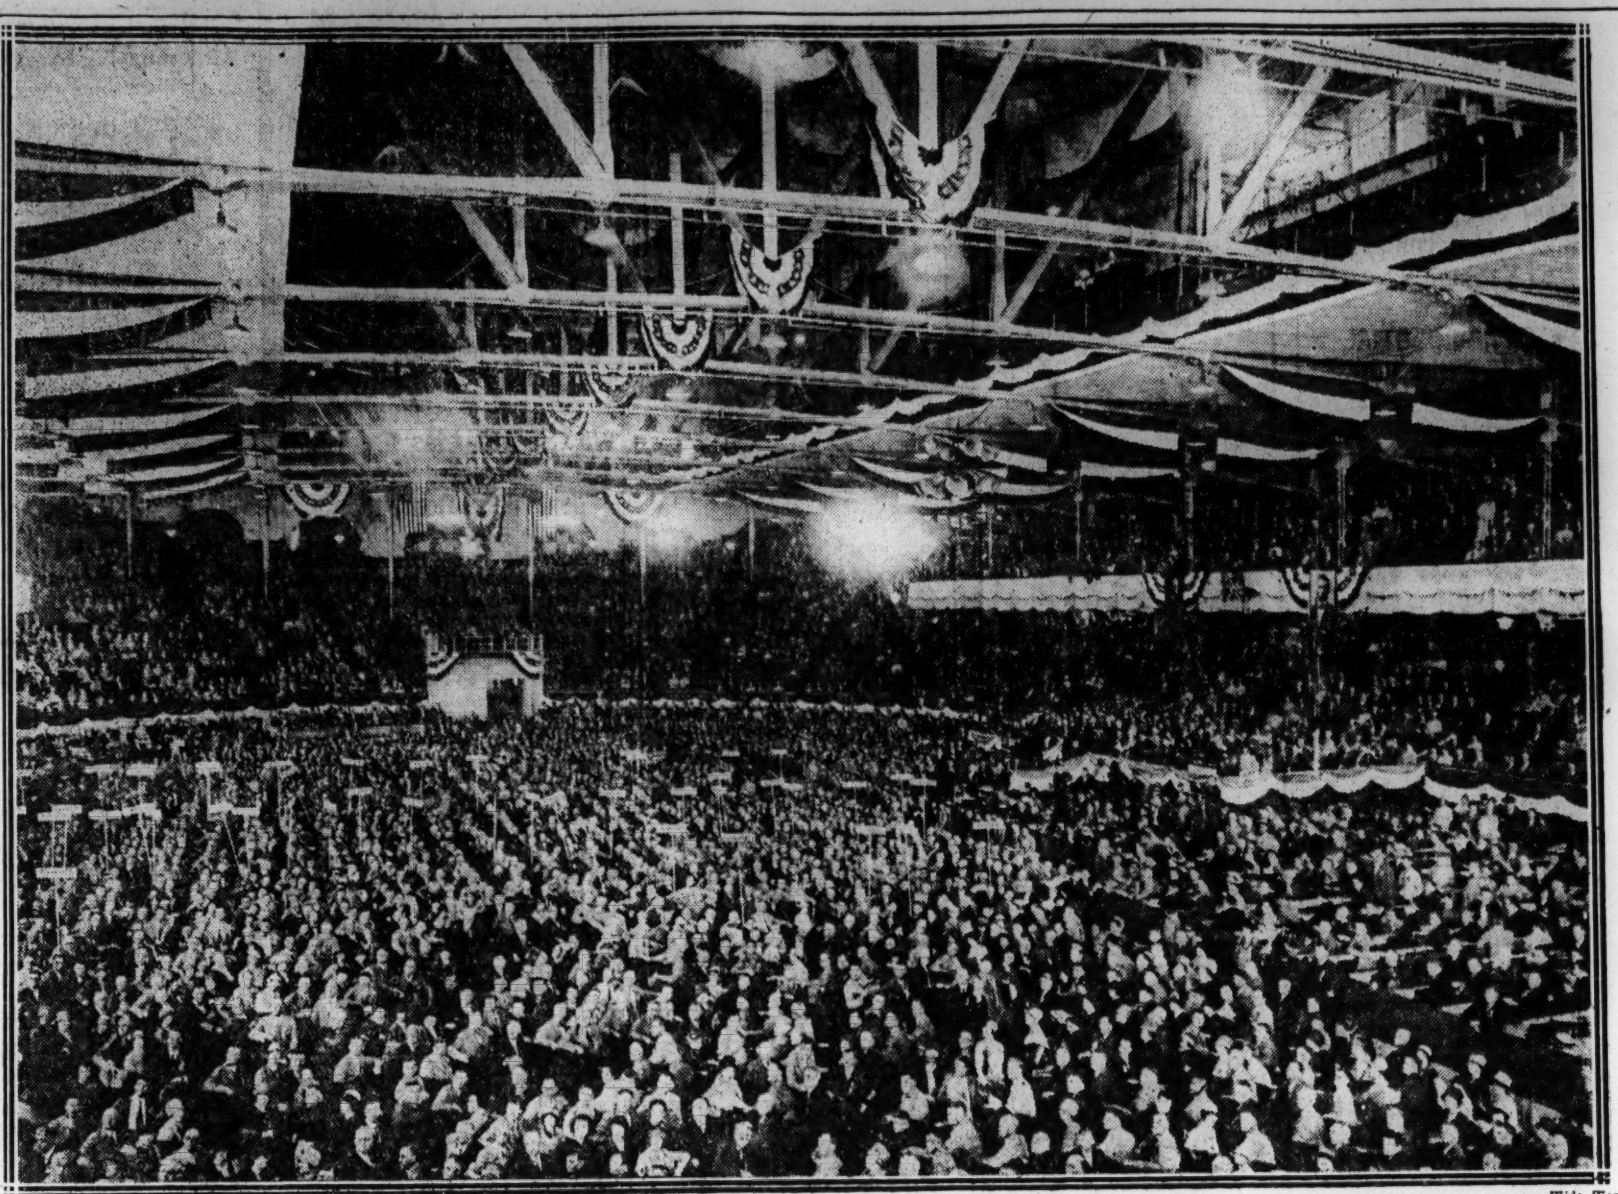

"In seeking for a policy to make the tariff effective for every interest in the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party whose strength and weakness alike lie in its sectional character."

"In seeking for a policy to assure honest administration of the Government, we know our people will not turn to the party whose most recent and most outstanding achievement in this year of grace is the revealed grafting of $20,000,000 from a single city."

"In seeking for a policy of law enforcement in the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party which maintains itself in the places of its power through nullification of two amendments to the Constitution and which openly flouts a third."

"In seeking for a policy to assure honest election everywhere in the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party whose sole title to success has rested upon intimidation."

OPENING SESSION OF REPUBLICAN CONVENTION IN KANSAS CITY

General view of the Republican national convention, showing delegates assembled on the floor, the balcony crowded, and the "hanging gallery" above.

CONVENTION WAITING FOR PLATFORM

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

Representative Fort, of New Jersey; Daniel O. Hastings, holding the trophy of T. Coleman du Pont, of Delaware; T. O. Streissguth, of Minnesota; and to the address of Senator George Moses, of New Hampshire, who assumed the permanent chairmanship. After adopting the rules of the convention a night session was ordered.

Mrs. Willebrandt was victorious, along with Mr. Fort, in her argument with Hastings and Streissguth over the right of Hoover delegates from Texas to keep their seats and her report as chairman of the credentials committee was adopted on the test vote. Her appearance on the stand gave a touch of novelty which the seemingly tired delegates relished. The Assistant Attorney General spoke with ease into the microphones and to the thousands in the auditorium who were anxious to see a woman on a national political platform.

Hits Smith by Inference.

Senator Moses, however, furnished the occasion for the crowd to vent most of its enthusiasm. In his best oratorical form, he took keen delight in poking fun at the Democratic party generally, at Tammany Hall and Gov. Alfred E. Smith by inference.

"Bring him on and we'll bury him," shouted Moses in referring to an Democratic presidential foe to be faced in November. "We welcome him with hospitable hands into a bloody grave. And we care not whether his name be Brown, Jones, Robinson, or Smith. This passage brought a roar from the crowd, and shortly thereafter the convention ordered a night session to receive the report of the platform committee."

The march of the demonstrators on the convention hall was unopposed by the delegates who were within administering chastisement to the anti-Hoover group, and there was no ripple of excitement within the huge auditorium. The first real show of force against riotous conduct, and they marched away peacefully, some of them shouting over their shoulders that "you will see in November."

Even as they marched away Moses was telling the delegates that "no one and the tissue ballot and which now rest upon the obnoxious vote of 4,000,000 American freemen."

"And in seeking for an agency to carry forward the program of the social order in the United States, we know our people do not intend to throw our country within the tender embrace of Tammany Hall."

"We enter this campaign in no posture of defense. We come upon the field aggressively militant. We intend to carry this fight to the enemy. And we challenge them to bring forth their strongest champion. Whether he emerge from another spectacle like the one hundred-and-three-round battle of the Madison Bear Garden, or whether he come from an over-powered convention held spellbound by the glare of Tammany Tiger, we're ready for him. Bring him on and we'll bury him. We welcome him with hospitable hands to a bloody grave."

"And we care not whether his name be Brown, Jones, Robinson or Smith."

MELLONS AT KANSAS CITY MEETING

Left to right—W. L. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury and Ogden Mills, of New York, at Kansas City.

can doubt the essential sympathy with which the Republican party has always looked upon the great and diverse interests which make up the fabric of our national enterprise. This sympathetic viewpoint has not changed.

"This sympathetic viewpoint has not changed," he said. "Agriculture and industry and the social order continue to be the prime objects of our solicitude, and in dealing with them the Republican party will not shirk its responsibility."

"We shall, however, now as always, chart our course within the limits of the Constitution and within the operation of sound economic law."

During a greater part of today's session of the convention there was no business transacted because there was none at hand. First the credentials committee was late in making its report, and then the platform committee brought its report late.

The invocation ended with the Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison by the standing delegates and spectators. At the "Amen" conversation again broke all bounds on the floor and in the galleries, and the delegates continued while Senator McKelister, of South Dakota, at one point P. D. Norton of North Dakota, tried to make himself heard to inquire if it was in order to allow Senator McKelister, of South Dakota, to address the convention, but he was unsuccessful and retired.

Fee Plan Is the Crux.

It was evident that a bitter contest on the floor was in prospect over the fee plan, which has been drawn up by the platform committee report finally submitted, with the equalization fee plan, distasteful to the administration and demanded by opposing groups as the big issue.

There also were forerunners visible of a hot contest over the prohibition plank, which has been drawn up by the platform committee report finally submitted, with the equalization fee plan, distasteful to the administration and demanded by opposing groups as the big issue.

As to the McNary-Haugen bill, it seemed to be a question of how to write a plank agreeable to the twiced-voted question of the fee to be faced by the administration leaders. The dispute involved the question as to whether there should be even veiled reference to the equalization "booby."

The next business on the convention roster is the platform. It appeared probable, however, that nominations for the Presidency and the customary floor demonstrations for candidates would get the right of way next, barring an unexpected break in the resolutions committee deadlock.

Much Disorder at Start.

It was 10:37 o'clock when Senator Fess finally detached himself from the group of leaders who had gathered about him and began to hammer for the Presidency and the customary floor demonstrations for candidates would get the right of way next, barring an unexpected break in the resolutions committee deadlock.

The temporary chairman then took a minute to correct a misstep he made yesterday, when, in attempting to deliver his keynote speech from memory, he forgot to mention the name of Theodore Roosevelt in his roll call of the achievements of the Republican Presidents. As he repeated the phrase he had intended to give to Roosevelt, the convention rose and applauded for a half-minute, the first real show of spirit in the day's proceedings.

There was a waiting of a few minutes while a messenger was on his way to the hall with the report of the credentials committee, and Senator Fess turned the convention over to the band.

When the band played on, the farm relief bloc from the Northwest made its first bid for a hearing in the convention. P. D. Norton, of the North Dakota delegation, trying to make himself heard above the band music, shouted a Texas "wahoo" and a "wahoo" and was in order to have some one address the convention.

"It would not," said Senator Fess. The North Dakotan added that he had wanted to move that Senator McMaster make a speech.

The temporary chairman merely shook his head and while the band played on, withdrew from the front of the platform, out of sight of many of the delegates.

Tries to Climb to Platform.

Norton continued to vainly address the chair and then undertook to climb up for a personal talk with the chairman. A group of delegates from other States intercepted him and after a short and apparently good natured discussion, the North Dakotan desisted. As he was turning back toward his seat he met Senator Gillett, of Massachusetts, with whom he had served some years ago in the military.

"Why don't you make a speech?" asked Norton.

But Gillett shook his head, and the temporary chairman remained out of sight until he was brought again to the front of the platform by a group of delegates, who spoke in support of the minority finding, and by Representative Fort of New Jersey, the Hoover floor manager, who closed the argument for the Creagites. The delegates listened attentively for the most part, until the end of the argument.

The convention saw its first moment of real parliamentary sparring when the question of taking a roll call on the Texas contests arose. Senator Fess ruled that six State delegations must second the demand for a roll call and although a chorus of "boos" greeted his decision he stuck to it and did not budge. The roll call was then taken, and the roll until the six States had been checked in. Senator Deneen, of Illinois, speaking for his State in seconding the demand for a roll call, was given a big hand.

Hoover Strength for Creager.

The roll call found the preponderant Hoover strength lining up with a great deal of regularity in favor of seating the Creager delegation. The first snag was found when the name of Georgia was reached. The delegation chairman cast ten votes for the Creager faction and six against it, and immediately a negro delegate bounced out of his chair to challenge the accuracy of the count and demand that the delegation be polled. The clerk called the Georgia delegates names one by one, and amid a roar of laughter the total was found to be fourteen for Creager and two against.

New York got a big hand from the anti-Hoover people by casting 59 votes against the Hoover-Creager side and 31 in its favor. A moment later, in a perfect roar of cheering, Secretary Mellon cast the whole of Pennsylvania's 79 for Creager.

After the roll call with a smothering majority for the Hoover people had been concluded, and the result announced amid a burst of Hoover cheering, the entire convention stood cheering and the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

The delegates moved to the platform to take the chair. Presented by Senator Deneen, of Illinois, chairman of the committee named to present the platform, the delegates moved to the platform to take the chair.

FIGHTS OVER SEATS END WITH A HOOVER TRIUMPH IN TEXAS

Lone Star State Is Only One to Carry Contest to the Convention Floor.

UPHOLD REPORT MADE BY MRS. WILLEBRANDT

Credentials Committee Votes to Admit Backers of the Secretary.

By PAUL F. HAUPERT. (Associated Press Staff Writer.) Kansas City, June 13. (A.P.)—The delegates make-up of the Republican national convention finally was determined today but not until the fight over Texas representation had been carried to the floor and supporters of Hoover had demonstrated they had control.

Upholding decisions of the national committee and of the credentials committee, which grappled with contests through most of the night, the convention by a rollcall vote of 659 to 399, shut the doors of the hall on 22 district delegates from Texas, generally classed as anti-Hoover. This done, without further ado, it recognized the credentials of the contesting faction which is strong for the Secretary of Commerce.

The majority report of the credentials committee, presented by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, an assistant attorney general and a Hoover delegate-at-large for California, dismissed all the appeals from last week's decisions of the national committee, which also without exception went in Hoover's favor. In addition it recommended the seating of a LaFollette delegate from Wisconsin, a position which had not been reviewed by the national committee.

No member had a convention which had twiddled its thumbs for an hour while the credentials committee majority was whipping its report into shape. The entire convention, which was in session from 10 o'clock to 11 o'clock, was in the hands of the woman chairman from Daniel O. Hastings, holding the proxy of Senator Coleman du Pont, of Delaware, voiced dissent, noted from at least six of the support of the credentials committee members from thirteen other States—Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maryland, Minnesota, North Dakota, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, West Virginia and Wisconsin—it involved only the Texas district delegates.

With five minutes allotted to each of them, Hastings and T. O. Streissguth, of Minnesota, appealed for adoption of the majority report. Mrs. Willebrandt and Representative Fort, of New Jersey, Hoover floor manager, spoke in opposition.

The nub of the Hastings-Streissguth argument was that district delegates in Texas should be selected at district conventions, as was done by the Wurzsch-Littleton faction, which generally has been regarded as anti-Hoover. The contention of the Hoover backers was that the delegates selected at the State convention under dominance of R. B. Creager, the national committeeman, were the only ones with legitimate credentials.

Goes Up for Rollcall.

The brief debate over Senator Fess, of Ohio, presiding, put the question and ruled that the "yays" had it. Up went a cry for a rollcall. Fess ruled that the entire convention stand and six States would have to demand one.

To the applause and cheers of delegates lined up against Hoover, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, North Carolina, Oklahoma, West Virginia and several other States called for a record vote, and for the first time in the convention the delegates stood away from a rollcall with "Alabama-Fifteen votes."

While it had all the earmarks of a test of strength, the line-up in the judgment of most party leaders, was not an absolute index of the strength Hoover will muster on the first nominating ballot. Generally, however, it was recognized as clearly showing that the Hoover forces not only have a safe margin of control, but that he has more than enough votes in sight to go over on the first ballot.

27 Delegations for Hoover.

In all, 27 delegations voted in accordance with the argument advanced by the Hoover spokesmen; 8, including those from Connecticut, Delaware and Illinois, lined up in opposition.

Cheers greeted the announcement that the 61 Illinois delegates were supporting the contestants, looked on as unfriendly to Hoover. A few minutes later the Hoover band wagon riders left go with wild shouts when Andrew Mellon, rising from his seat in the front row, announced in a voice that scarcely carried to the platform that he was voting for the Hoover faction.

The New York delegation, biggest of them all, split, 50 siding with the minority, 31 with the pro-Hoover majority.

BUSY MAN AT CONVENTION

LAFAYETTE B. GLEASON, Secretary of the Republican national convention, is one of the busiest men in Kansas City.

GOFF'S SUPPORTERS REFUSE TO CONFESS CANDIDATE BEATEN

West Virginia Delegation Will Fight to End, in Spite of Swing to Hoover.

PROSPECT OF SUCCESS IS ADMITTEDLY SLIM

Dawes and Roosevelt Mentioned for State's Support for Second Place.

(By a Staff Correspondent.) Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—Members of the West Virginia delegation, supporting Senator Guy D. Goff for the Presidential nomination, refused today to give up in the face of the almost general belief of observers that Herbert Hoover will be nominated on the first ballot.

"We'll fight to the end," said A. A. Lilly, delegate at large and Goff representative in the coalition against the Hoover candidacy. "The outlook is not so bright. If we win, all will be good. If we lose we'll not feel hurt, but sorry."

Although three members of the delegation voted with the Hoover forces against seating the eighteen Texas district delegates when their fight was brought before the convention, spokesmen for Goff insisted that the senator would have eighteen of the nineteen West Virginia votes on the first ballot. Those who voted against acceptance of the minority report of the credentials committee on the Texas appeal to the convention were: Wade H. Pepper, Clarksburg, elected as a delegate pledged to Hoover; J. L. E. Smith, Duncanson, and A. B. White, of Parkersburg, former Governor of West Virginia. Both Bradley and White were elected as pledged delegates, but Bradley has stated that Hoover is his second choice after Goff, and White similarly favors Frank O. Lowden. The remainder of the delegation is pledged to Goff, and the senator's acceptance of the minority report.

Bitterness Found Lacking.

Opening of the night session of the convention found the West Virginians in their seats alert but with no particular urge to press or planks to support. Their part in preparing the platform had been entrusted to Boyd Jarrell, of Huntington, member of the committee on resolutions, and regarded as one of the leading Republican editorial writers in the State. Having entrusted the task to him, the delegation was represented as feeling that party principles and policies were safe in his hands without advice from them. They were prepared individually to take whatever course appeared to them to be the best in the case of any fight on the convention floor for or against proposed planks.

Lilly in commenting on the outlook for the Goff candidacy as the machinery of the party was set in motion, later nearer the start of the balloting with the Hoover movement gaining in momentum, admitted disappointment that the all-out effort to stop the Secretary of Commerce, Bitterness was lacking, however, and ruled that the "yays" had it. Up went a cry for a rollcall. Fess ruled that the entire convention stand and six States would have to demand one.

To the applause and cheers of delegates lined up against Hoover, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, North Carolina, Oklahoma, West Virginia and several other States called for a record vote, and for the first time in the convention the delegates stood away from a rollcall with "Alabama-Fifteen votes."

While it had all the earmarks of a test of strength, the line-up in the judgment of most party leaders, was not an absolute index of the strength Hoover will muster on the first nominating ballot. Generally, however, it was recognized as clearly showing that the Hoover forces not only have a safe margin of control, but that he has more than enough votes in sight to go over on the first ballot.

27 Delegations for Hoover.

In all, 27 delegations voted in accordance with the argument advanced by the Hoover spokesmen; 8, including those from Connecticut, Delaware and Illinois, lined up in opposition.

Cheers greeted the announcement that the 61 Illinois delegates were supporting the contestants, looked on as unfriendly to Hoover. A few minutes later the Hoover band wagon riders left go with wild shouts when Andrew Mellon, rising from his seat in the front row, announced in a voice that scarcely carried to the platform that he was voting for the Hoover faction.

The New York delegation, biggest of them all, split, 50 siding with the minority, 31 with the pro-Hoover majority.

Little thought has been given by the West Virginians to the matter of the vice presidential nomination. Among the possibilities being discussed informally are Vice President Dawes and Col. Theodore Roosevelt, of New York. Considerable sentiment favorable to Dawes is said to exist among the delegation, but doubt is felt if the Vice President would accept another nomination for the post. Within the delegation, mention of his name has disclosed that there is bitter opposition to the nomination of Goff. Col. Roosevelt was among outside speakers brought into West Virginia by the Hoover forces during the convention, and it is held responsible to the opposition to him in the vice presidential contest.

Henry D. Hatfield, Republican nominee for senator from West Virginia, was on his way home today, following the selection of State Senator Shaver, chairman of the national committee. He was opposed to any changes being made in the program of the convention, but he is said to regard the compromise effected, by which Committee Virgil L. Highland was displaced with Walter S. Hallinan, and Lena Love was retained as the woman representative on the national body, as the best solution of the matter that could be reached under the circumstances.

It is being emphasized by delegates and Republican leaders on the outside that the selection of State Senator Shaver, chairman of the national committee, and Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

"Of course," said Mr. Shaver, "we can promise nothing except that the farmers will be given a fair and courteous hearing."

"The farmers will be welcome here," Mr. Jones said. "Any promises that are made to them will be kept."

Post Classified Advertising Service is just as handy as your telephone. Just call Main 4200 and ask for an ad-taker.

Shaver and Jones Invite Farmers to Visit Houston

Houston, Tex., June 13 (A.P.)—The army of farmers that marched and threatened to march to the Republican national convention in Kansas City was invited today to come to the Democratic party's convention here by Clay Shaver, chairman of the national Democratic executive committee, and Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

"Of course," said Mr. Shaver, "we can promise nothing except that the farmers will be given a fair and courteous hearing."

"The farmers will be welcome here," Mr. Jones said. "Any promises that are made to them will be kept."

Post Classified Advertising Service is just as handy as your telephone. Just call Main 4200 and ask for an ad-taker.

Shaver and Jones Invite Farmers to Visit Houston

Houston, Tex., June 13 (A.P.)—The army of farmers that marched and threatened to march to the Republican national convention in Kansas City was invited today to come to the Democratic party's convention here by Clay Shaver, chairman of the national Democratic executive committee, and Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

"Of course," said Mr. Shaver, "we can promise nothing except that the farmers will be given a fair and courteous hearing."

"The

RADIO FANS HAVE LONG WAIT TO GET CONVENTION NEWS

Hook-Up Works Perfectly But Proceedings at Kansas City Proved to Be Slow.

FESS' VOICE HUSKY
BUT SPEECH IS HEARD

Assistant Attorney General
Mabel Willbrandt's Tones Do Not Transmit Well.

Today's Broadcasting

The broadcasting of the proceedings of the Republican national convention at Kansas City will be resumed by station WRC at 11 o'clock this morning. Owing to the fact that the balloting may begin today there is a possibility that a long hard day is ahead with very little a night session.

In the latter case, as with the scheduled daytime programs, the night schedule of WRC will automatically give way to the convention broadcast, which will continue until adjournment no matter how late the hour may be.

By ROBERT D. HEINL

(Radio Editor of the Post)

The second day's broadcasting of the convention began at 11:15 o'clock on the dot yesterday morning but it proved more or less a day of watchful waiting for the fans. In so far as the vast radio network was concerned, however, the machinery continued to function with the same marvelous smoothness as had characterized the opening session.

Thus far the convention broadcast has been unquestionably the greatest feat of its kind ever accomplished and adds security to the claim of the United States as the leader of all the other nations in radio broadcasting. As yet the short wave broadcasting stations at Pittsburgh and Schenectady have not been heard from, but it is believed that the proceedings are being listened to by Americans all over the world, including the officers and men on all our Navy vessels, wherever they may be.

As a concession to radio listeners' ears one of the first things undertaken at the convention yesterday was to "sound proof" the rostrum so that the raps of the chairman's gavel would not sound, as Graham McNamee put it, "like a windstorm in a forest." It seems listeners at the opening session mistook the gavel's reverberations for trouble on the line, so hasty steps were taken to correct this impression.

Fess Husky on Air.

One of the noticeable things on the air was evidence of the wear and tear upon the voice of Senator Fess as the result of his lengthy keynote speech. The Ohio senator spoke so huskily yesterday as at times to be hardly audible even on the radio.

A thought suggested to this writer was that such a speech as Mr. Fess delivered day before yesterday doubtless served a useful purpose at the convention and probably went over big to those present and imbued by the enthusiasm and excitement of the occasion.

However, for the radio audience it

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

ESTABLISHED 1876
JOHN R. WRIGHT CO.
1337 10th St. N.W. Phone North 47.
301 EAST CAPITOL ST.

CHAS. S. ZURHORST
V. L. SPEARE CO.
Neither the successor of nor connected with the original W. R. Speare establishment.

1009 H St. N.W. Phone Frank 6628.
Formerly 940 F St. N.W.

JAMES T. RYAN
317 Penn. Ave. S.E. Atlantic 1700

THOS. S. SERGEON
1011 7th St. N.W. Telephone Main 1090

J. WILLIAM LEVY'S SONS
FURNERAL DIRECTORS
Auto Service Communion Chapel and Crematorium
322 PA. AVE. N.W. Telephone Main 1385

ALMUS R. SPEARE
Succeeding the Original W. R. Speare Co.
1623 Connecticut Ave.
Potomac 4600

8 Yrs. at 1208 H St. 45 Yrs. at 940 F St.
NORVAL K. TABLER
928 M St. N.W. Telephone Main 1544

Frank Geier's Sons Co.
1113 SEVENTH ST. N.W. Telephone MAIN 3475
Modern Chapel

Clyde J. Nichols
4209 9th St. N.W.
Phone Col. 6324

Phone Col. 432
W. W. Chambers. Co.
Undertakers and Embalmers
Private Ambulance Service, $4.00
One-half Price of Others in Funerals
$75, $100, $125, $150, $195
Steel Vaults, Best Made, $85.
These prices include the entire funeral

FUNERAL DESIGNS
BLACKSTONE'S
Floral "Blanket Sprays"
And Other Beautiful Floral Designs at Moderate Prices. 1407 H St. N.W. Phone Main 3707

GEO. C. SHAFFER
900 14th St. N.W. Phone Main 3707
EXPRESSIVE FLORAL EMBLEMS Phone M. 2471
Moderate prices. No branch stores. 2416-106

Funeral Designs of Every Description Moderately Priced.
GUDE
1212 F St. N.W.
M. 4271

CEMETERIES
CEDAR HILL
Washington's Most Beautiful Burial Park
Nonsectarian Funeral Home

MOORING APPAREL
Mourning Blacks Dyed
24-HOUR SERVICE
Carmack Dry Cleaning and Dyeing Co.
Lincoln 1812

ASHINGTON POST RAD BALLOT

Cut out for reference and fill in as results are broadcast from Kansas City.

State	Votes of States	Yes	No	Coolidge	Hoover	Dawes	Lowden	Curtis	Watson	Pershing
Alabama	15
Arizona	9
Arkansas	11
California	29
Colorado	15
Connecticut	17
Delaware	9
Florida	10
Georgia	16
Idaho	11
Illinois	61
Indiana	33
Iowa	29
Kansas	23
Kentucky	29
Louisiana	12
Maine	15
Maryland	19
Massachusetts	39
Michigan	33
Minnesota	27
Mississippi	12
Missouri	39
Montana	11
Nebraska	19
Nevada	9
New Hampshire	11
New Jersey	31
New Mexico	9
New York	90
North Carolina	20
North Dakota	13
Ohio	51
Oklahoma	20
Oregon	13
Pennsylvania	79
Rhode Island	13
South Carolina	11
South Dakota	13
Tennessee	19
Texas	26
Utah	11
Vermont	11
Virginia	15
Washington	17
West Virginia	19
Wisconsin	26
Wyoming	9
Alaska	2
District of Columbia	2
Hawaii	2
Philippines	2
Porto Rico	2
Total	545
Necessary to nominate	545

was far too long and it is believed to have proved a total loss to many hundreds of thousands of listeners because of its length.

The ideal time for a radio speech is really about five minutes' but depending upon the prominence or ability of the speaker may be lengthened from 15 to 30 minutes, the last named being about the time occupied by President Coolidge in his longest speech, Senator Fess spoke for one hour and thirteen minutes, thereby doubtless losing a large number of listeners.

Praise for "Jim" Preston.

That much could be said in a short space of time was proved at the first session yesterday by the two newspaper broadcasters, Charles G. Ross, Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and James L. Wright, Washington correspondent of the Buffalo Evening News. Mr. Ross gave a summary of what had happened during the night and up to the time of the opening and Mr. Wright summarized the day's proceedings in the morning session, yet neither took more than five minutes to do it.

A third Washingtonian to come in for creditable mention yesterday was James V. Preston, patriarch of the Senate Press Gallery, of whom Graham McNamee said, "If we didn't have Jim Preston here, I don't know what we would do."

McNamee also noted in the audience Secretary to the President Everett Sanders, who at the party generally commended to be the person who, after talking with President Coolidge via long distance, carried to Secretary Mellon and the Pennsylvania delegation the final word that the President would not be a candidate, thus clearing the way for the Hoover landslide.

Disturbances yesterday the radio more or less covered itself with glory, it was not so good in connection with the report made to the delegates by Mrs. Mabel Willbrandt, assistant attorney general, suggesting perhaps that, as was the case for a long time with the phonograph, it is not as yet perfectly adapted to the broadcasting of the feminine spoken word.

Believed Hoover Nominated.

At any rate, Mrs. Willbrandt's voice did not transmit well; in fact, she spoke so rapidly and emphatically that her remarks could only be followed with considerable difficulty, due to the blurring of the microphone.

A hard impression for the radio listeners to shake off yesterday, accumulated as they are to things moving rapidly, was the subconscious impression that Hoover had been nominated and it was all over but nominating the Vice President. However, they had to gear themselves down to what seemed like the snaillike procedure yesterday and, like every one else, wait another day or so for the final outcome.

J. A. Reed Enjoys Moses' Blasts at League, He Says

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.)—Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, who has said some cutting things in his time about the opposition party, walked into the convention stronghold of Republicanism today, looked around, passed the time of day with friends and got away with it.

This is the home of the Missouri senator, and as one of the hosts to the visiting Republicans he has been keeping close watch on them, even though he is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The senator said he enjoyed the speech of Senator Moses, the permanent chairman of the convention, who challenged the Democrats "to bring on" their redoubtable candidate.

"I was pleased to hear my friend Senator Moses crack the League of Nations," Reed added, "but, if I remember, his presidential candidate, Herbert Hoover, was one of the 35 who signed the League of Nations letter to Warren Harding in the 1920 campaign."

90-Year-Old Woman Wins Entrance to Convention

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.)—A little old lady of 90, from Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., "crashed the gate" of the Republican national convention.

She is Mrs. J. C. McConnell, and at door No. 4 of Convention Hall today she peered up at Police Sgt. Julian Warnock's 6 feet of height.

"I haven't a ticket," she said. "I've come all the way from Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., to see the convention. Can I get in here?"

"You don't need one, mother," replied Warnock, and led the way to where attendants guarded an inner door. He whispered to them and there was an audible chorus of "Bure."

Mrs. McConnell is staying with a daughter at Turner, Kas., a suburb of Kansas City.

Farm Friend in Second Place Useless, Says Hirth

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.)—Any effort to nominate "a friend of agriculture" for the Vice Presidency can not "save Hoover from defeat in November," in the opinion of William Hirth, chairman of the corn-belt committee.

"As chairman of the corn-belt committee, which speaks for more than a million farmers," he said, "I want to say that such an effort even if successful, can not, in my opinion, save Hoover from defeat in November."

Furthermore, I feel that I am safe in saying that the responsible farm leaders of the corn belt will not hesitate to repudiate any erstwhile friend of agriculture who lends himself to this scheme of petty politics.

When you have a room to rent, call a Post Ad-Taker—Main 4208.

AL SMITH CLUB READY FOR TODAY'S PRIMARY

Democrats to Elect Delegates and Committeemen; Vote on District Suffrage.

Preparations have been completed for the second Democratic primary, which will be held today under the auspices of the Al Smith Club of the District. The primary will choose twelve District delegates, with half a vote each, for the Democratic national convention at Houston June 26, a Democratic national committeeman and committee women and 22 members of the local Democratic central committee.

The delegates elected at the primaries today will contest the right of suffrage for the District. The voter will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" on the question. Officers of the Al Smith Club, which has endorsed the primary today and also suffrage for the District, have urged all Democrats in the District to go to the 40 polling places and cast their ballot on this question, so that the delegates can bring forward suffrage for the District at the convention with assurance that the Democrats of the District are back of them.

The real question at issue in the primary today, however, is control of the Democratic machinery of the District. As both the Al Smith Club and the faction headed by John F. Costello present Democratic national committeemen, favor the nomination of Al Smith at presidential candidate.

The campaign committee which issued the call for the primary includes George W. Pratt, chairman; James J. Slattery, secretary; James F. Duhamel, Charles W. Darr, Mantion M. Wyvell, William P. Cavanaugh, Charles H. McCarthy and Jeremiah O'Connor.

The candidates for delegates to the convention whose names appear on the ballots are: Clifford B. Allen, Roger L. Calvert, Joseph A. Daly, Roland F. de Fere, James F. Duhamel, William C. Murphy, Enos S. Newman, Mrs. Lester J. Pollock, George W. Pratt, James J. Slattery, H. Hart, F. W. F. Gleason, Jeremiah O'Connor, Mrs. Leon Arnold, George A. King, William P. Cavanaugh, George W. Pratt, William F. Franklin, Mrs. L. H. Boggs, L. E. Grier, Lorenzo B. Ward, Alfred Costello, J. Charles McGuire, John E. Cannon, M. A. Ready, J. J. Cain, Joseph A. Rohr, James D. Fitzgerald, Josephine C. Martin, Charles W. Kline, James J. McCann, William C. Murphy, George W. F. Boyd, John P. Mullen and Wilson Carter.

Candidates for the central committee, whose names appear are R. V. Wolf, Spencer L. Hart, F. W. F. Gleason, Jeremiah O'Connor, Mrs. Leon Arnold, George A. King, William P. Cavanaugh, George W. Pratt, William F. Franklin, Mrs. L. H. Boggs, L. E. Grier, Lorenzo B. Ward, Alfred Costello, J. Charles McGuire, John E. Cannon, M. A. Ready, J. J. Cain, Joseph A. Rohr, James D. Fitzgerald, Josephine C. Martin, Charles W. Kline, James J. McCann, William C. Murphy, George W. F. Boyd, John P. Mullen and Wilson Carter.

Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, yesterday issued a call for a meeting of the committee at Houston on June 26, the day before the opening of the national convention.

The meeting is for the purpose of consummating arrangements of the convention.

National Committee To Meet in Houston

(Associated Press.)

Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, yesterday issued a call for a meeting of the committee at Houston on June 26, the day before the opening of the national convention.

The meeting is for the purpose of consummating arrangements of the convention.

When you have a room to rent, call a Post Ad-Taker—Main 4208.

EFFORTS OF VIRGINIANS FOR ANDERSON INCREASE

Old Dominion Delegates Encouraged at Prospect for Vice Presidency.

CLAIM SUPPORT GAINED

Kansas City, June 13 (A.P.)—With claims of Hoover on the first ballot coming from many sides and the tenacity of the political situation somewhat diminished, vice presidential discussion gained recognition at the Republican national convention today.

The Virginia delegation redoubled its efforts to gain support for Col. Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, as vice presidential nominee and running mate for Hoover, realizing that balloting would begin Thursday. The organization of the Virginians was headed by C. Bascom Slemp, national committeeman, and was busy at all times, except during the sessions at the big convention hall. Col. Anderson knew little of the activities of the delegation in his behalf, being selected late last night by the committee on resolutions as one of a subcommittee of fifteen to draft the party's platform. This committee was in session all night.

Mrs. M. J. Caples, of Norfolk, was the lone representative of the permanent organization committee, though there were several feminine delegates on the majority of the convention bodies. Virginians serving on the convention's committee had little leisure with business being shoved through in order that a report might be made to the convention today. Delegates were thinking of going home and 11 o'clock Friday night was tentatively set as the hour for leaving.

"I feel practically certain that the convention will be ready to adjourn Thursday night," R. H. Angell, of Roanoke, chairman of the delegation told the Associated Press. "It seems that Hoover will be nominated on the first or at least the second ballot."

"The suggestion that a Southern man be named for Vice President so as to nationalize the ticket is being grasped at once by the delegations to whom we have talked and Col. Anderson is gaining support as the outstanding advocate of antisectionalism in the South."

Mr. Angell was enthusiastic over the keynote address delivered at the opening session by Senator Fess, of Ohio, declaring it a masterful summary of the accomplishments of the Republican party and fine material on which to base the campaign. He said that in urging the nomination of Herbert Hoover, his delegation has responded to popular demand from the Republican independent voters of Virginia and expressed the opinion that the Secretary would have a stronger following in Virginia than any candidate the Republican party could name.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt was a visitor at the State's headquarters today, asking especially to see Miss Minnie Harmon, of Tazewell. J. N. Harmon, father of the young woman delegate, was a friend of the late President Roosevelt and was referred to as the original "bull moose" of Virginia. Col. Roosevelt spent more than a half hour conferring with members of the delegation.

Every one tonight was thinking about home and preparing to leave Friday night. Reservations were being made on a train leaving at 11 o'clock Friday night for the majority of delegates.

Mr. Slemp, however, expected to remain in Kansas City a few days longer for a meeting of the national committee.

Adams Style in Furniture

THE style known as "Adams" was named after two brothers who were architects, not furniture craftsmen. The furniture was made by competent firms under their personal supervision. Their style is more distinguished by ornament than form.

THE Adams style is found in living room and bedroom furniture and occasional pieces. We invite your inspection of the Adams furniture now on display here.

W. B. Moses & Sons

Public Confidence Since 1861

F Street at Eleventh

Main 3770

Your Property Problems

are essentially personal, and so must be the Trust service that solves them permanently for both you and your heirs.

The Union Trust Company offers you such service, seasoned by experience, rich in human sympathy, efficient through the command of complete facilities.

Conference with our officers will imply no obligation.

SOUTHWEST CORNER
15TH AND H STREETS NORTHWEST

EDWARD J. STELLWAGEN
PRESIDENT

Union Trust Company
OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Millions and Millions of Addressograph plates serve modern business

THROUGHOUT a cross section of American business life Addressograph methods save money, speed operations, save time, increase efficiency and build profits.

Would an Addressograph be a profitable investment in your business? You can quickly determine the answer by checking the Profit Analysis Sheet at the left.

Thousands upon thousands of users employ Addressograph equipment for imprinting, listing and addressing 165 distinct business forms 10 to 30 times faster than with pen or typewriter and errors are impossible.

Our representative has a thorough knowledge of the applications of the Addressograph and these forms to your business. He has at his command the facilities of a completely equipped sales and service agency here in your city. He has at his command, too, the Addressograph Research Bureau, whose proven facts and actual plans for expense cutting and profit building in over 3,000 lines of activities are centralized. Upon request, he will gladly call and assist you in checking the Profit Analysis Sheet with your present methods of name and data writing.

ADDRESSOGRAPH COMPANY

511 Eleventh St. N.W., Washington, D. C.

H. C. NEWTON, District Manager.

Telephone Main 367-368.

Copyright 1928 Addressograph Co.

PROFIT ANALYSIS SHEET

Check the following uses to determine how you can use Addressograph profitably.

SALES PROMOTION

Send out circulars, notices, business cards, letter heads, order blanks, price lists, post-cards, bulletins, reports, etc.

*RECORD-KEEPING

Hands up bank statements, inventory records, machine tool logs, repair records, etc.

*ROUTING

Write, drive, and stamp orders, order acknowledgments, etc.

*IMPRINTING

Imprint business cards, letter heads, etc.

*SHIPPING FORMS

Address labels, etc.

*COLLECTIONS

File, list, collect, etc.

*DISBURSEMENTS

Imprint, divided checks, etc.

*PRODUCTION

Write, drive, and stamp orders, order acknowledgments, etc.

*IDENTIFYING

Imprint, etc.

Mr. Thomas F. Buckingham,
320 E. Orange St., Lancaster, Pa.

Addressograph

PRINTS FROM TYPE

* More than an Addressing Machine

Electric models — universal in application — for name and data writing of every character.

Super-speed automatic models — unlimited in range of service.

Machines for every size and kind of business — from the small hand operated machine to full automatic. Prices from $20 to $400.

BAY RIDGE
ON CHESAPEAKE BAY

OFFERS YOU
A SPECIAL SALE DISCOUNT OF
10%

We have carefully selected 50 of our choicest home sites at Bay Ridge and for 30 days offer all purchasers of these a discount of 10% off our regular price. Last discount day June 15th.

BUY NOW—SAVE MONEY
This is positively the only opportunity you will have to purchase these splendid lots at less than our regular price.

SELECT YOUR LOT NOW
Drive down Sunday, 31 miles via Defense Highway, call at our office on the grounds and let us help you select your lot.

Bay Ridge Realty Corp., Owner
WM. H. LANHAM
Washington Representative
1400 H St. N.W. Main 366

Simmons
Ace Spring

$1975

A GOOD spring—the foundation for a good night's rest.

You've no idea how much better you'll feel—how much more you'll be able to accomplish, if your sleeping equipment is brought up to date.

Simmons, the world's largest makers of beds, springs and mattresses have spent many years developing this Ace spring. It is unique. Its 302 coils and 99 spirals are exceptionally strong—with just the right "give" to support as well as rest the body. The Ace is scientifically stabilized—there can be no side sway—just more solid comfort than has ever before been built into a spring.

Convenient Terms
GEORGE PLITT CO., Inc.
Painting—Paperhanging—Slip Covers
718 13th Street

DULIN & MARTIN COMPANY

Lustrous black moire tops with colored center decorations in these new

Card Tables
Specially Priced at $5

A center floral decoration in color adds a new and attractive note to the black moire tops. Rigid construction and a patented arrangement makes them easily "set up" and more enjoyable to use.

Folding Chairs that perfectly match these tables
are priced
$5.40

Other Card Tables in Colors or Wood Finishes, Decorated or Plain
$2.45 to $25

Dulin & Martin Co.
1215 F St. Our Only Shop No Uptown Branch 1214-18 G St.

CAPITAL SOCIETY EVENTS

THE Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Telles entertained at a reception last evening in honor of the Mexican flier, Capt. Emilio Carranza. Capt. Carranza received the guests with the Ambassador and Senora de Telles.

The Ambassador of France, M. Paul Claudel, will entertain this evening at a men's dinner for the members of the French Aeronautic Commission. There will be 24 guests. The commission went to Annapolis yesterday where they visited the Naval Academy and later in the day to Baltimore where they were entertained at a dinner. The members of the commission will be entertained here at a luncheon today by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The Ambassador of Chile, Senor Don Carlos Davila, who was in New York since Friday, returned yesterday.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg entertained at dinner last evening at the Pan-American Union in honor of the Mexican flier, Capt. Emilio Carranza. The guests included the Ambassador of Mexico and Senora de Telles, Attorney General John G. Sargent, F. Trubee Davidson, Acting Secretary of War, Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of naval operations, and Mrs. Hughes; Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff; Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant Marine Corps, and Mrs. Lejeune; the Undersecretary of State and Mrs. Robert E. Olds, Mr. Edward P. Warner, Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics, and Miss Elizabeth Warner; the Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics and Mrs. William P. MacCracken, Jr.; Mr. Francis White, Assistant Secretary of State, and Mrs. White; Maj. Gen. James E. Pecheil, chief of Army Air Corps; Mr. Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico; Brig. Gen. Herbert O. Williams and Mrs. Williams; Senor Don Luis Padilla-Narvo, Secretary, Mexican Embassy; Senor Don Fernando Lagarde y Vigili, Secretary, Mexican Embassy; Senor Don Francisco Suescun, Commercial Attaché, Mexican Embassy and Senora de Suescun; Senor Ingeniero Don Gilberto Fabila, Attaché, Mexican Embassy, and Senora de Fabila; Senor Don Jorge Daesle Segura, Attaché, Mexican Embassy, and Senora de Segura; Senorita Edwina Murtado, R. L. S. Rowe, director general, Pan American Union; Lieut. Col. Richard H. Williams, of the general staff, and Mrs. Williams; Miss Dorothy Richardson; Lieut. Colonel Carlos Breton, Mexican Navy; Maj. Howard C. Davidson, commander Bolling Field, and Mrs. Davidson; Viscount de Spoelbeke, Attaché, Legation of Belgium; Mr. James Clement Dunn, chief protocol division, Department of State, and Mrs. Dunn; Mr. Arthur Bliss Lane, chief Mexican division, Department of State.

The Minister of the Netherlands and Mme. von Rooyen, who have been in New York since last week, are expected to return tomorrow.

Gen. and Mrs. A. A. Fries
Going to San Francisco.

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Amos A. Fries, accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. Frederic A. Henney, will sail on the U. S. Transport Cambria, June 30, for San Francisco to New York a few days before sailing and will visit Col. Frederic Pope, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Fries and Lieut. and Mrs. Henney will go to San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal, and Gen. and Mrs. Fries will sail from there for Hawaii, where Gen. Fries will make a tour of inspection. They will return to California and will visit both Mrs. Fries' mother and Gen. Fries' father in Los Angeles, and will be away for several months. Lieut. and Mrs. Henney will go to Berkeley, Calif., where Lieut. Henney will take a postgraduate course in engineering. They will be stationed there for a year.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Arthur Willard have had as their guests for the past winter at their quarters in the navy yard their daughter, Mrs. John Caldwell, and her children, who will start about June 24 for Minnesota, where they will pass the summer.

Rear Admiral Frederick C. Billard, commandant of the United States Coast Guard, accompanied by Mrs. Billard, sailed from New York yesterday for Paris. Admiral Billard, who is also accompanied by Mr. O. M. Maxam, chief, division of operations, Coast Guard headquarters, and District Commander M. W. Rasmussen, in charge of the Ninth Coast Guard district, with headquarters at Buffalo, N. Y., will attend the meeting in Paris of the International Congress of Life-Saving Societies, and will inspect the lifesaving organizations and facilities of several European countries.

The Military Attaché of the French Embassy, Brig. Gen. George A. L. DuMont, who has been passing some time in Cuba, is expected to return today.

The First Secretary of the Canadian Legation and Mrs. Hume Wrong will start today for Canada, where Mrs. Wrong will be in charge.

LOVERS OF HORSE-BACK RIDING!

The Rock Creek Riding Academy Under New Management

Offers you—
Excellent Riding Horses
Private or Class Instruction
At Special Summer Rates

All within half a block of the picturesque Rock Creek Bridge Path
Rear of 2130 F St. NW. North 2932.

The Collier Inn
COLUMBIA RD. AT 18th ST.
OPPOSITE AMBASSADOR

TONIGHT
5 Until 7:30
4-Course
CHICKEN DINNER 75c

Or Your Choice of Our Regular Menu.
Columbia 5042

A SPECIAL
Community Dinner Served in
The Highlands Cafe

Connecticut Avenue
at California Street
TODAY
6 to 7:30 p. m.

Fried Spring Chicken
with choice of Roast Meats or St. Louis Island Duck
All Fresh Vegetables
Delicious Salads Variety of Ice Creams and Homemade Desserts

Nothing Like It in the City for the Price

GOOD RUGS
Deserve
GOOD CARE

Have your rugs washed by hand—repaired by natives—Stored Safely at Nazarian Bros. Co.
1739 Conn. Ave. North 744
(Formerly on 17th Street)

WYOMING APT CAFE
3023 COLUMBIA RD.
Good Food—well cooked & nicely served at cool, quiet place to dine for $1.00

Enjoy
Wardman Park
Hotel
Coffee Shoppe
Most Modern Cafeteria
Also
Tables on the Terrace
Famous
Wardman Food
Moderate charges

DINNER WEEK DAYS
Five Thirty to Eight
DINNER SUNDAYS
Twelve to Two
Five Thirty to Eight

AWNINGS
For Cool Shade
in Every Room
CORNELL Wall Paper Co.
714 13th St. N.W.
Main 6373

Enjoy
Wardman Park
Hotel
Coffee Shoppe
Most Modern Cafeteria
Also
Tables on the Terrace
Famous
Wardman Food
Moderate charges

DINNER WEEK DAYS
Five Thirty to Eight
DINNER SUNDAYS
Twelve to Two
Five Thirty to Eight

AWNINGS
For Cool Shade
in Every Room
CORNELL Wall Paper Co.
714 13th St. N.W.
Main 6373

Enjoy
Wardman Park
Hotel
Coffee Shoppe
Most Modern Cafeteria
Also
Tables on the Terrace
Famous
Wardman Food
Moderate charges

DINNER WEEK DAYS
Five Thirty to Eight
DINNER SUNDAYS
Twelve to Two
Five Thirty to Eight

AWNINGS
For Cool Shade
in Every Room
CORNELL Wall Paper Co.
714 13th St. N.W.
Main 6373

Enjoy
Wardman Park
Hotel
Coffee Shoppe
Most Modern Cafeteria
Also
Tables on the Terrace
Famous
Wardman Food
Moderate charges

DINNER WEEK DAYS
Five Thirty to Eight
DINNER SUNDAYS
Twelve to Two
Five Thirty to Eight

AWNINGS
For Cool Shade
in Every Room
CORNELL Wall Paper Co.
714 13th St. N.W.
Main 6373

Enjoy
Wardman Park
Hotel
Coffee Shoppe
Most Modern Cafeteria
Also
Tables on the Terrace
Famous
Wardman Food
Moderate charges

DINNER WEEK DAYS
Five Thirty to Eight
DINNER SUNDAYS
Twelve to Two
Five Thirty to Eight

AWNINGS
For Cool Shade
in Every Room
CORNELL Wall Paper Co.
714 13th St. N.W.
Main 6373

Enjoy
Wardman Park
Hotel
Coffee Shoppe
Most Modern Cafeteria
Also
Tables on the Terrace
Famous
Wardman Food
Moderate charges

DINNER WEEK DAYS
Five Thirty to Eight
DINNER SUNDAYS
Twelve to Two
Five Thirty to Eight

MRS. HARVEY DELANO, wife of Commander Delano, who has been assigned to duty in Washington.

Wrong will pass the summer. Mr. Wrong will return in about ten days.

Mr. Frederic Knobel, Second Secretary of the French Embassy, will start today by motor for New York. On Saturday Mr. Knobel will go to New York, where he will pass several days visiting, and will return to Washington on Wednesday.

The Third Secretary of the British Embassy and Mrs. Henry L. d'A. Hopkinson are passing a few days in New York at the Ambassador.

The Secretary of the Netherlands Legation and Baroness van Boetzelaer, who passed several days at Watch Hill, R. I., have returned.

The Bishop of Washington, the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, and Mrs. Freeman will start tomorrow morning for Sorrento, Me., where they will pass the summer.

Capt. Juan Leguia, son of the President of Peru and Director General of Air Service of Peru, has arrived in Washington for a visit.

Mrs. Emory Scott Land is visiting in Northampton, Long Island, and will not return until Tuesday.

A wedding of interest to Washington will take place this afternoon in Orange, N. J., is that of Miss Margaret Schell, daughter of Mr. William A. Schell, to Mr. William C. De Lacy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. De Lacy, of Chevy Chase. The ceremony will be performed at 4 o'clock by Father Herron in St. John's rectory. The bride will have as her only attendant her sister, Miss Eleanor Schell, and Mr. John De Lacy, as his best man. No invitations have been issued for the wedding and the service will be attended only by the members of the families. A small reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents for the families. After a wedding trip, Mr. De Lacy and his bride will return to Washington, where they will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. William H. De Lacy and their family went yesterday to Orange to attend their son's wedding.

Mrs. Hamilton Fish, Jr., had guests for lunch yesterday with her yesterday at the Mayflower.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Chappell have taken a cottage at Sea View, Long Island, for the summer months and will go there June 23.

Mrs. Arthur Forsaker with her children will go tomorrow to her summer home at Monterey, Pa., where they will be for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. C. C. Calhoun entertained at a luncheon yesterday when her guests were Mrs. Frank W. Mondell, Mrs. Howard Sutherland, Mrs. Emerson Howe, Mrs. Charles L. Busch, Mrs. Robert Mackenzie, Mrs. Carl von Lewinski, Mrs. George C. Lewis, Mrs. Carl Clemm, Mrs. Boyd Carpenter, Mrs. Geneva Dunham, Mrs. F. A. Hancock, Mrs. Alonzo Tyner and Mrs. James Robb. This was one of a series of luncheons Mrs. Calhoun is giving this season. Mrs. Calhoun will entertain at a tea on Sunday in honor of Mr. Marie Carson.

Mrs. John Campbell White expects to go to Hancock, N. H., about June 20 to pass the remainder of the summer.

Mrs. Mark Brooke and her daughter, Miss Hallie M. Brooke, have taken a cottage at Jamestown, R. I., and have gone there for the summer.

Mr. William Walker Smith, formerly of the United States diplomatic service and Mrs. Smith have motored to Cincinnati. They will return to Washington next month.

Former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, who is making a short visit at the Mayflower, had several guests lunching with him yesterday.

Mrs. Alonzo Tyner is passing a few days at the Carlton Hotel.

Col. and Mrs. Stanley Embick announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Embick, to Capt. Frank H. Hastings, U. S. A. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Anne McCorkle, who passed the winter with her parents, Maj. and Mrs. Charles M. McCorkle, is visiting Mrs. J. L. C. Bird in Cleveland Park.

Mrs. Cornelius Gardener, of Santa Barbara, who, with her daughters, Miss Barbara Gardener and Miss Martha Gardener, has been a guest at West Point during commencement week, has taken a lodge in the Adirondacks for the season at Bolton Landing, Lake George, N. Y.

The Army Junior dancing class will have a dance at the Washington Barracks on Monday night from 9 until 11 o'clock. The dance will be in honor of the boys who will shortly go to enter the Military and Naval Academies, and for the cadets home on furlough from West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lamy, of Chicago, accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lamy and their family, of St. Louis, have taken a suite at the Wardman Park Hotel, for a visit of several weeks.

Mrs. W. P. Tams, who passed the winter at the Mayflower, went yesterday to Magnolia on the North Shore for the summer season. Mrs. Tams, recently returned from a month's visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Tams, in Tams, W. Va.

Miss Isabel and Miss Margaret Towar have motored to Washington from their home in Convent, N. J., and are at the Carlton.

Mrs. N. B. Garrett, of New York City, is also at the Carlton.

The marriage of Miss Mary Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fisher, to Mr. Paul W. Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Byrnes, of 471 Maryland avenue southwest, took place Wednesday evening at the residence of the Fifth Baptist Church, the pastor, the Rev. John E. Briggs, officiating. The couple will be at home to their friends June 20, at their apartment, the Clifton East.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Hilton, Chevy Chase, Md., went on Tuesday to the Hotel Chelsea, at Atlantic City, for a week. Dr. Hilton will attend the meeting of the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. O'Brien motored from Hempstead, Long Island, and passed a few days with Mrs. O'Brien's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, of Estes Park, Colo., past president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is in Washington for a few days, and is staying at the Mayflower.

Miss Mary Hopkins, who passed the spring at the Carlton Hotel, is at the Cavalier Hotel at Virginia Beach until the end of June.

Miss Rose Eberly and her sister, Mrs. H. C. Roehrig, who make their home at the Wardman Park Hotel, will go Wednesday evening to Virginia Beach.

The Army Junior dancing class will have a dance at the Washington Barracks on Monday night from 9 until 11 o'clock. The dance will be in honor of the boys who will shortly go to enter the Military and Naval Academies, and for the cadets home on furlough from West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lamy, of Chicago, accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lamy and their family, of St. Louis, have taken a suite at the Wardman Park Hotel, for a visit of several weeks.

Mrs. W. P. Tams, who passed the winter at the Mayflower, went yesterday to Magnolia on the North Shore for the summer season. Mrs. Tams, recently returned from a month's visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Tams, in Tams, W. Va.

Miss Isabel and Miss Margaret Towar have motored to Washington from their home in Convent, N. J., and are at the Carlton.

Mrs. N. B. Garrett, of New York City, is also at the Carlton.

The marriage of Miss Mary Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fisher, to Mr. Paul W. Byrnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Byrnes, of 471 Maryland avenue southwest, took place Wednesday evening at the residence of the Fifth Baptist Church, the pastor, the Rev. John E. Briggs, officiating. The couple will be at home to their friends June 20, at their apartment, the Clifton East.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Hilton, Chevy Chase, Md., went on Tuesday to the Hotel Chelsea, at Atlantic City, for a week. Dr. Hilton will attend the meeting of the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. O'Brien motored from Hempstead, Long Island, and passed a few days with Mrs. O'Brien's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, of Estes Park, Colo., past president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is in Washington for a few days, and is staying at the Mayflower.

Miss Mary Hopkins, who passed the spring at the Carlton Hotel, is at the Cavalier Hotel at Virginia Beach until the end of June.

Miss Rose Eberly and her sister, Mrs. H. C. Roehrig, who make their home at the Wardman Park Hotel, will go Wednesday evening to Virginia Beach.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

The District of Columbia branch of the International Magna Carta Day Association will hold the annual dinner tomorrow at the Hotel Lafayette at 3:15. Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, vice president of the District, announces that there will be representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine and Aviation Corps, the District government and Supreme Bench; the local courts, the bar association, the American press, and the following societies founded upon ancestry: Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Order of Colonial Wars, Lafayette Society of the Cincinnati, U. S. Daughters of 1812, Sons of Colonial Cavaliers and others. Mrs. Curtis R. Perry has in charge of tickets and arrangements.

HOUSERS AT CONVENTION ARE FEW THRILLS

PROVIDED BY MOSES;
REST OF DAY IS DULL

Senator's Snapping Defiance Arouses Cheers, but He Silences Them.

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN MRS. WILLEBRANDT

Her Businesslike Conduct in Credentials Contest Wins
Her Praise.

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON.
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Kansas City, June 13 (A. P.).—Folks who came to the Republican national convention merely sight-seeing, didn't get a great deal for their time and trouble today, so far as the day session was concerned. And at that, there were more of them looking on than at the opening yesterday.

But those who stuck it out long enough, mistaking lunch for just a touch of good old fashioned political oratory when George Moses of New Hampshire took over the gavel as permanent chairman. They also saw the amazingly orderly crowd of delegates, alternates and convention officials, which had sat through a dreary wait for the report of the credentials committee, participate in a brief, one-sided row over Texas delegates—what the Hoover voting power steamrolled as quickly as the votes could be counted—and then wake up in a hurry and get to yelling as though it really enjoyed it when Moses challenged the Democrats to "bring on" their most redoubtable champion, be his name Robinson, Jones or Smith.

"Bring him on," Moses snarled at the radio mikes before him, in rasping tones. "Bring him on, and we'll bury him in a bloody grave."

Moses Soon Gets Results.
At that the sedate convention sat up to yell. Then it got up to yell some more, and louder. Somebody, down in New Hampshire's row, jerked loose the State standard and waved it madly, while Moses, steel gray eyes glaring behind his glasses in the glare of the spotlights, outburst in fighting pose and the gavel clutched as though it was a battle ax, glared truculently around.

Then, when the gavel, while the din was at its best, Moses, the man who as president pro tem of the United States Senate, dares ride even that august body roughshod over him, was on the job. He wanted results, not noise, and proposed to get them quickly.

And he did. Almost without knowing it, the yellers were cut off in mid yell and subsided in their chairs. The show was being run on a tight ship, a fashion that brooked no delay. Moses fixing it with stern eye as he snapped out the next order of business and pushed matters without delay. He declared the recess to a night session with a final, emphatic gavel bang that set the speakers' table jumping and State reporters scribbling madly. He wanted results, not noise, and proposed to get them quickly.

And he did. Almost without knowing it, the yellers were cut off in mid yell and subsided in their chairs. The show was being run on a tight ship, a fashion that brooked no delay. Moses fixing it with stern eye as he snapped out the next order of business and pushed matters without delay. He declared the recess to a night session with a final, emphatic gavel bang that set the speakers' table jumping and State reporters scribbling madly. He wanted results, not noise, and proposed to get them quickly.

Warlike Talk Leaves Him Cool.
As the big crowd struggled out to a late luncheon, it had no doubt that a realizing fire had come to the front. From his first word, snapped out with vigor while yellers were in mid yell, Moses appealed to the men and women who make up the huge show over which he presides. They seem to like his leaders' rough, longed, aggressive, and colorful at times, and he was all of that, despite his immaculate air in trim gray business suit and summery white shirt front. He was a hair, despite the humor of the hall. His short, warlike address left him cool and trim as ever, with a dry brow.

Another impression the sightseers took away with them, aside from the rather rollicking mood in which the convention was squelched an eleventh-hour anti-Hoover side show, was on the seating of the Texas district delegates, was that of the slender, black-gowned figure of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, permanent committee chairman and first woman to hold a national convention post of that size. She is, also, an assistant attorney general of the State of Texas, and first of her sex to fill that berth, and she had sat up until the wee small hours of this morning presiding over the committee which had preceded the row on the convention floor.

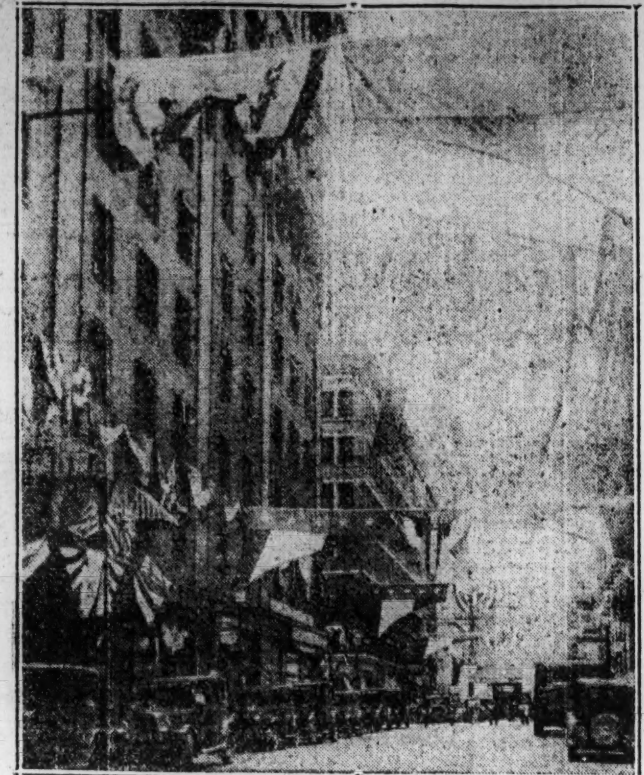

She Gives No Sign of Fatigue.
But there was no sign of fatigue or excitement about her when she slipped in, after nearly an hour's wait, with her report tucked under her arm and the prospect of the first fight of the convention itself just ahead. Mrs. Willebrandt's selection as credentials committee boss was one of the early Hoover workpoints of control. She was there to complete the job, and she was back, womanlike, or workaholic, fashion. The woman lawyer had no emotional appeal to make when her five minutes came. She answered the challenge in a report on the Texas case rolled around. She had only legal argument. Her opponent insisted there was no question in the mind of fact that the Texas case of law and the legal rights of the convention to ignore State statutes that would muzzle free delegates under a unit rule. Mrs. Willebrandt came back at them in her best court manner, despite the fact that she had no judge and a jury of some thousands instead of a mere dozen to address.

Her tones, low and well paused and with sustained inflections, carried out to the far corners of the hall as easily as any Senate or House trained orator of the lot; very much more easily than the husky voice Senator Fess, of Ohio, had to show as temporary chairman after his long keynoting job yesterday. The crowd seemed to like the experience, despite the dry-as-dust sound matter of debate, even the gales, probably without the least notion that it was all about, sat to listen as still as though spellbound and they rounded it off with a cheering barrage of hand clapping when Mrs. Willebrandt concluded.

Fess Has His Own Troubles.
Fess had troubles of his own, especially with his rasped vocal chords. Before Mrs. Willebrandt showed up from the "stand-at-ease" order he had given nearly an hour earlier to wait he belated arrival, a North Dakota delegate, armed with a healthy shouting power of his own, came to the conclusion that a farm speech, or anyhow some kind of a speech, would be better than just sitting there gossiping, but he failed to put the idea across to Senator Fess, who gave a negative answer and retired to the back of the platform, out of sight.

Another high placed personage who found it difficult to deal with the floor tumult at times was "Andy" Mellon. He got a great hand when he arose to dump Pennsylvania's solid 79 votes

WHERE REPUBLICANS ASSEMBLE

Baltimore street, Kansas City, decorated in honor of delegates to the Republican national convention.

MOSES IS BOOMED FOR SECOND PLACE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

President, at the request of a large number of delegates from New York and other States, I will allow my name to be placed in nomination for Vice President."

A fellow Illinoisan of Dawes, Senator Deneen, has been put forward by various factions, against his will, but not entirely without his consent, as the choice of some administration men who would stop Dawes.

However, more than a score of candidates were in the field tonight and leaders decided to put off until after a nominee is selected tomorrow night any attempt to make a final decision.

It was known that Mr. Hoover has declined actively to participate in discussion of a vice presidential choice, until, and if, he is nominated. He has given no indication that he will then.

Many Leaders Silent.
So many are the candidates and from so many States that there are few actual views on the situation for fear of offense to friends, but there was a general feeling that the convention itself would take the vice presidential situation in hand and nominate regardless of the best-laid plans.

Interest centered in the Middle West. Senator Deneen, of Illinois, and Senator Deneen are friendly to Frank O. Lowden as well as from the same political camp in Chicago. When first appearing, Senator Deneen turned against the proposal completely. Today it was understood he was put forward as a candidate without his consent, but he has used pretty strong words in discussing those who are proposing him for second place while the head of the ticket is still to be chosen.

A new name was added to the score already in the field today—Judge William Kenyon, of Iowa, a former senator from that State, who was prominently mentioned in the 1924 convention. He was proposed by the Wisconsin delegation, which is supported by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, for President.

Talk of "Young Teddy."
Names came up so fast that it was hard to keep track of the growing field and in many instances as fast as a man was proposed he spiked his own boom. This was true of Senator Deneen, of Illinois, who took himself out of the race, but his friends are hopeful that he will reconsider. Friends of Senator Fess, of Ohio, believed he would be a candidate, but he started in Ohio quarters for him because of his approaching campaign for reelection to the Senate.

The California delegation gave Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., a good hand when he passed by it today, and there is talk of "Young Teddy" for the Vice Presidency.

The Iowa delegation caused early today and voted unanimously to support the complete job, and she was back, womanlike, or workaholic, fashion. The woman lawyer had no emotional appeal to make when her five minutes came. She answered the challenge in a report on the Texas case rolled around. She had only legal argument. Her opponent insisted there was no question in the mind of fact that the Texas case of law and the legal rights of the convention to ignore State statutes that would muzzle free delegates under a unit rule. Mrs. Willebrandt came back at them in her best court manner, despite the fact that she had no judge and a jury of some thousands instead of a mere dozen to address.

Her tones, low and well paused and with sustained inflections, carried out to the far corners of the hall as easily as any Senate or House trained orator of the lot; very much more easily than the husky voice Senator Fess, of Ohio, had to show as temporary chairman after his long keynoting job yesterday. The crowd seemed to like the experience, despite the dry-as-dust sound matter of debate, even the gales, probably without the least notion that it was all about, sat to listen as still as though spellbound and they rounded it off with a cheering barrage of hand clapping when Mrs. Willebrandt concluded.

Fess Has His Own Troubles.
Fess had troubles of his own, especially with his rasped vocal chords. Before Mrs. Willebrandt showed up from the "stand-at-ease" order he had given nearly an hour earlier to wait he belated arrival, a North Dakota delegate, armed with a healthy shouting power of his own, came to the conclusion that a farm speech, or anyhow some kind of a speech, would be better than just sitting there gossiping, but he failed to put the idea across to Senator Fess, who gave a negative answer and retired to the back of the platform, out of sight.

Another high placed personage who found it difficult to deal with the floor tumult at times was "Andy" Mellon. He got a great hand when he arose to dump Pennsylvania's solid 79 votes

Equalization Fee Plan Loses in Full Committee by Vote of 35 to 15.

PRINCIPLE RETAINED, SENATOR BORAH HOLDS

Labors of Platform Body Are Completed After 36 Hours of Toil.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

Vare, of Pennsylvania, announced that he did not propose to lead a fight in the convention against the Borah proposal.

All of the other platform planks, dealing with the multitude of activities in which the Federal Government is concerned, were approved practically without change as submitted by the subcommittee. Members said that most of the changes offered were of a clerical nature.

36 Hours of Toil Ends.
In approving the platform the committee brought to a close nearly 36 hours of continuous session of the subcommittee and the full committee. The committee first went into session at 3 p. m. Tuesday, and after several hours of public hearings appointed a subcommittee of fifteen members. The latter body, except for a recess of about four hours, sat continuously until 4 p. m. today, when the full committee again reassembled to pass upon its work.

After adjournment tonight Senator Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the committee, promised newspaper correspondents the roll-call vote on the farm relief plank, but a search by committee clerks failed to disclose the ballot.

BORAH DRY PLEDGE CALLED STRICHEST IN PARTY HISTORY

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

As it was, Massachusetts voted with the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Two Clauses "Nullified."
It was Senator Moses, who once said sprightly on the Senate floor, "Houston, Hefflin and Hell!" today he said: "In seeking for a policy of law enforcement, the Hoover administration knows our people will not turn to the party which maintains itself in the places of its power through nullification of the amendments. We know our constitution and which openly flouts a third."

In seeking for an agency to carry forward the fight of the social order in the United States, we know our people do not intend to throw our country within the tender embrace of Tammany Hall.

The Republican party plans to boot the corruption issue back to the Democrats. Its tentative platform has a plank saying that the Hoover administration is a corrupt and dishonest administration. Senator Moses said: "In seeking for a policy to assure honest administration of the Government, the Hoover administration knows our people will not turn to the party whose most recent and most outstanding achievement in this year of grace is the grafting of $20,000,000 from a single city." He referred to the scandal that has been recently holding the front pages in New York.

Vare's Stand Helps Much.
Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

BORAH DRY PLEDGE CALLED STRICHEST IN PARTY HISTORY

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

As it was, Massachusetts voted with the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Two Clauses "Nullified."
It was Senator Moses, who once said sprightly on the Senate floor, "Houston, Hefflin and Hell!" today he said: "In seeking for a policy of law enforcement, the Hoover administration knows our people will not turn to the party which maintains itself in the places of its power through nullification of the amendments. We know our constitution and which openly flouts a third."

In seeking for an agency to carry forward the fight of the social order in the United States, we know our people do not intend to throw our country within the tender embrace of Tammany Hall.

The Republican party plans to boot the corruption issue back to the Democrats. Its tentative platform has a plank saying that the Hoover administration is a corrupt and dishonest administration. Senator Moses said: "In seeking for a policy to assure honest administration of the Government, the Hoover administration knows our people will not turn to the party whose most recent and most outstanding achievement in this year of grace is the grafting of $20,000,000 from a single city." He referred to the scandal that has been recently holding the front pages in New York.

Vare's Stand Helps Much.
Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

FRELINGHUYSEN SPENT $50,000 IN PRIMARY

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

As it was, Massachusetts voted with the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Two Clauses "Nullified."
It was Senator Moses, who once said sprightly on the Senate floor, "Houston, Hefflin and Hell!" today he said: "In seeking for a policy of law enforcement, the Hoover administration knows our people will not turn to the party which maintains itself in the places of its power through nullification of the amendments. We know our constitution and which openly flouts a third."

In seeking for an agency to carry forward the fight of the social order in the United States, we know our people do not intend to throw our country within the tender embrace of Tammany Hall.

The Republican party plans to boot the corruption issue back to the Democrats. Its tentative platform has a plank saying that the Hoover administration is a corrupt and dishonest administration. Senator Moses said: "In seeking for a policy to assure honest administration of the Government, the Hoover administration knows our people will not turn to the party whose most recent and most outstanding achievement in this year of grace is the grafting of $20,000,000 from a single city." He referred to the scandal that has been recently holding the front pages in New York.

Vare's Stand Helps Much.
Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it was vividly demonstrated just what the bolt the other night of the Hoover forces, but New York voted 59 to 31 against him, showing just how the Secretary would have fared in that State had the Keystone State played the anti-Hoover game. On the real balloting and under existing circumstances Hoover will, of course, get more votes than the other side.

Just a few minutes before Senator Moses spoke, it

MARRIAGE WILL HIT BY MONTGOMERY'S MINISTER ALLIANCE

Organization Assails Methods at Rockville and Roadhouse Wedding Case.

RITCHIE WILL SPEAK AT LUNCHEON TODAY

Petition, Seeking to End Crossing, Is Referred to Plan Board.

Severely condemning the practice of some of the clergymen of the county in performing marriage ceremonies under circumstances that are not in keeping with the idealism of the Christian religion, the Montgomery County Ministerial Association went on record yesterday at its meeting in the Methodist Church at Goshen against the indiscriminate use by ministers of their ecclesiastical authority in what was termed by some of those present as abuses of such authority.

Several of the members of the association at the meeting were vigorous in stigmatizing the present practices of some of the Rockville ministers and others as being not in accord with Christian principles and practices that relate to the performing of marriage ceremonies.

The Rev. William W. McIntyre, pastor of the Methodist Church of Rockville and president of the association, in an address invited the attention of the newspaper stories that have been printed concerning the situation, and said that "the newspapers have printed a great deal about the marriage situation which reflects upon every member of this body."

Referring to the incident of three months ago when a Rockville pastor performed a marriage ceremony late at night on the dance floor of a roadhouse on the Rockville pike, to do which he was called from his home in Rockville, Mr. McIntyre said:

"I do not think the dance floor of a roadhouse is the proper place for a marriage, or that a minister of the Gospel should perform such a ceremony there."

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie will be the principal speaker and the leading guest of honor today at 2:30 p. m. at a luncheon given by the State Senate.

Others who will make short talks are State Senator D. G. McIntosh, of Baltimore County; C. W. Clum, editor of Kensington; Judge Robert E. Foster, of Rockville; Dr. J. Thomas Kelly, of Washington; and Dr. George L. Edwards, of Rockville. Maj. E. Brooke Lee, speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, was scheduled to address the guests of Senator Jones, but he was unexpectedly called to Philadelphia last night. Berry E. Clark, clerk of the Montgomery County board of commissioners, and George O'Connor, of Washington, will entertain the party with music.

Mayor Ben G. Davis, of Takoma Park, Md., addressed the graduating class of 33 of the Takoma-Silver Spring High School last night, and addressed the same number of graduates of the Takoma Elementary School.

Clarence S. Gray, of Montgomery County, filed suit yesterday in the circuit court at Rockville against Verna E. Gray, of Annapolis, charging desertion and infidelity. In his petition, presented by Kenneth Lydane, Rockville attorney, Gray states that he was married to Verna Gray on May 25, 1926, and that without cause his wife deserted him May 20, 1927.

Compiling with the request contained in a petition bearing the names of 225 men and women of Kensington, that the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission make a final investigation and study of the problem of abolishing the grade crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in that town, the board of county commissioners of Montgomery County has referred the request to Irvin C. Root, chief engineer of the park and planning commission.

The signers of the petition declare they favor a steel bridge over the railroad tracks, connecting Connecticut avenue with a proposed bridge over the road to extend north to the Brookville road, where the Dwyer School stands. This plan would divert traffic from the present grade crossing site and shorten the traffic line north to Baltimore via Elliott City and Olney by 2 miles, Root said. He said the property owners along the proposed route have agreed to donate a 120-foot right-of-way between Kensington and the Brookville road.

The alternate route involves the construction of an underpass at the intersection of the road which it would be necessary for motorists to make three additional turns, he said.

All phases of the difficult situation will be carefully considered, he said.

Court Rule Restrains Mine Union Insurgents

Wheeling, W. Va., June 13 (A.P.).—An injunction was granted the Elm Grove Coal Co. in Ohio County Court here today restraining 75 defendants, said to be the officers and members of an insurgent group of the miners' union, from all acts to prevent the plaintiff or its agents or employees from legal work.

The defendants were restrained from talking to employees of the company and going to their homes or boarding houses. The company claimed those against whom it sought the injunction were connected with the "save the union" movement. The "save the union" group is opposed to the present administration of the United Mine Workers.

Mayor, Dead Several Weeks, Is Re-elected

Pearisburg, Va., June 13 (A.P.).—O. L. Fisher, who died several weeks ago, was yesterday re-elected mayor of Pearisburg, receiving 53 votes against 38 for J. W. Farley.

His death occurred too late to remove his name from the ballots. The judge of the Giles County Circuit Court will appoint a mayor.

Treading on Nail Costs Her Life.

Special to The Washington Post. Winchester, Va., June 13.—Funeral services were held here today in the Church of the Sacred Heart for Mrs. Ida Kern Baecher, 50, wife of James P. Baecher, who died of blood poisoning, caused by a nail piercing her foot. Surviving are her husband, two sons, four daughters, her mother, two sisters and three brothers.

Neely Surrenders In Simmons Slaying

Beckley, W. Va., June 13 (A.P.).—Cam Neely, construction worker, surrendered today to face charges of slaying E. A. Simmons, of Charleston, president and general manager of the Glade Creek Coal & Lumber Co., and wounding R. E. Hodges, bookkeeper for the company.

Neely made no statement, but county authorities said he shot Simmons and Hodges after demanding money due him from a contracting company which had been given a contract by the Glade Creek Co. The shooting occurred Monday at the coal and lumber company offices.

Lynchburg Plumber Held in Wife's Death

Special to The Washington Post. Lynchburg, Va., June 13.—C. R. Wood, plumber, was held in the domestic relations court here today for the grand jury on a charge of murdering his wife, Mrs. Lottie Virginia Wood, who died June 4 of gas poisoning.

Lenwood Smith, 15-year-old negro, charged with the murder of his stepfather, David Cowan, on June 5, was discharged, the evidence showing the boy shot the man while he was beating and threatening the life of his mother.

ALEXANDRIA CONVENTION PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Business Meetings to Be Held by the Retail Merchants of Virginia.

ODD FELLOWS TO ELECT

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.

124 N. Patrick St., Alexandria, Va.

Plans for the annual convention of the Retail Merchants Association of Virginia, which will be held here June 26, 27 and 28, were made public yesterday by J. Kent White, chairman of the general convention committee.

Business sessions are to be held at 9 o'clock each morning in the George Mason Hotel, and following luncheon the delegates will be free to take part in the entertainments which have been arranged for the first two afternoons.

The Rev. William S. Hammond, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will open the convention with invocation on June 26. J. Randall Caton, Jr., will make an address of welcome on behalf of the Retail Merchants Club of this city, and City Manager Paul Morton will welcome the delegates for the city.

President Charles M. Guggenheimer, Jr., of Lynchburg, will respond. G. H. Speaker, of the Maryland House of Delegates, was scheduled to address the guests of Senator Jones, but he was unexpectedly called to Philadelphia last night. Berry E. Clark, clerk of the Montgomery County board of commissioners, and George O'Connor, of Washington, will entertain the party with music.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie will be the principal speaker and the leading guest of honor today at 2:30 p. m. at a luncheon given by the State Senate.

Others who will make short talks are State Senator D. G. McIntosh, of Baltimore County; C. W. Clum, editor of Kensington; Judge Robert E. Foster, of Rockville; Dr. J. Thomas Kelly, of Washington; and Dr. George L. Edwards, of Rockville. Maj. E. Brooke Lee, speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, was scheduled to address the guests of Senator Jones, but he was unexpectedly called to Philadelphia last night. Berry E. Clark, clerk of the Montgomery County board of commissioners, and George O'Connor, of Washington, will entertain the party with music.

Mayor Ben G. Davis, of Takoma Park, Md., addressed the graduating class of 33 of the Takoma-Silver Spring High School last night, and addressed the same number of graduates of the Takoma Elementary School.

Clarence S. Gray, of Montgomery County, filed suit yesterday in the circuit court at Rockville against Verna E. Gray, of Annapolis, charging desertion and infidelity. In his petition, presented by Kenneth Lydane, Rockville attorney, Gray states that he was married to Verna Gray on May 25, 1926, and that without cause his wife deserted him May 20, 1927.

Compiling with the request contained in a petition bearing the names of 225 men and women of Kensington, that the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission make a final investigation and study of the problem of abolishing the grade crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in that town, the board of county commissioners of Montgomery County has referred the request to Irvin C. Root, chief engineer of the park and planning commission.

The signers of the petition declare they favor a steel bridge over the railroad tracks, connecting Connecticut avenue with a proposed bridge over the road to extend north to the Brookville road, where the Dwyer School stands. This plan would divert traffic from the present grade crossing site and shorten the traffic line north to Baltimore via Elliott City and Olney by 2 miles, Root said. He said the property owners along the proposed route have agreed to donate a 120-foot right-of-way between Kensington and the Brookville road.

The alternate route involves the construction of an underpass at the intersection of the road which it would be necessary for motorists to make three additional turns, he said.

All phases of the difficult situation will be carefully considered, he said.

Divorce Suit Admitted By Lady Northesk

New York, June 13 (A.P.).—Lady Northesk, the former Jessica Brown, of Buffalo, N. Y., tonight confirmed an announcement by her husband a month ago that she has started divorce proceedings in England. She returned from England on the liner Homeric for a visit to her parents.

"I am divorcing Lord Northesk," she said in a formal statement. "My decision is final. There will be no reconciliation."

She left the stage five years ago to marry Lord Northesk. When he visited New York last month he said the impending divorce was a result of their failure to agree on the position of the husband as master of the home.

Schrum-Burton Nuptials

Petersburg, Va., June 13.—Miss Beatrix Burton and Wilbur Lewis Schrum, both of Chesterfield County, were married here last evening at the paragon of Second Baptist Church. The Rev. Fred W. Moore officiated. The couple will live in Chesterfield County.

DODGE AND BRIDE IN LONDON

Horace E. Dodge, of Detroit, and Mrs. Dodge, who was Miss Muriel D. Sisman, leaving the Presbyterian Church in Westbourne Grove, London, after their recent marriage.

ARLINGTON COUNTY ROAD IMPROVEMENT TO BEGIN ON JULY 15

Lee Highway Will Be Closed From Rosslyn to Glebe Road on That Date.

ENGINEER J. C. ALBRIGHT GIVES PLAN IN DETAIL

Detours Will Have to Be Made Until Work Is Completed About November 1.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.

Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Lee highway from Rosslyn to the Glebe road will be closed about July 15 until November 1 to allow its widening.

J. C. Albright, district engineer of the Virginia State Highway Commission, made the announcement last night.

The official detour will be along the Wilson boulevard from Rosslyn to Glebe road, a distance of 3.05 miles; thence along Glebe road to Lee highway, a distance of 1.5 miles. The closing is necessary, Albright said, owing to the time limit on the contract. The work must be completed by November 1, and it is possible that the successful bidder for the contract will be working at a number of points at the same time.

In company with a number of the contractors who will bid on the work, Albright and Robert I. Mount, resident State engineer, yesterday made a tour of inspection over the highway.

150 FIREMEN TO WATCH BUILDING BURN SUNDAY

Blaze to Test Safes Scheduled for 5 A. M., in Order to Avoid Crowds.

16 ENGINES TO STAND BY

While the tired business man sleeps the peaceful slumber that only can be his on Sunday morning, a score of Bureau of Standards scientists, more than 150 firemen and a large detail of police will take part in the staging of a gigantic blaze to determine just how much heat the average safe can withstand, in answer to a much repeated inquiry from business men throughout the country.

Sixteen pieces of fire apparatus will surround the block in which the experiment will take place at approximately 5 a. m., according to present plans, provided there is no wind. A wall of water, available at a moment's notice, can be thrown on the fire if it is deemed necessary. It was learned at the fire department.

The fire is expected to burn uncontrolled for about three hours before the fire department takes the situation in hand. Surrounding buildings, including the Postoffice and the establishments of commission merchants on B street and Louisiana avenue nearby, will be guarded against flying sparks by a corps of men stationed upon roofs.

Scientific instruments in a small brick building a block from the blaze will record the progress of the flames and furnish data for later use in determining which of the two score of safes stored there withstood the heat of the least damage to safe and contents.

The hour for the destruction of the buildings which were scheduled for removal under the Federal building program, was made an early one to avoid the congestion of traffic resultant from the establishment of fire lines. Despite the hour, the police are making plans for handling a large crowd. Alarm boxes will be guarded against the attempts of well intentioned persons to turn in calls.

The apparatus which will be used by firemen is mostly of a reserve stock, and more than 100 of the men will be giving their "day off" to assure the safety of downtown Washington during the experiment. The blaze will be handled in much the same manner as would a five alarm fire. It was said only one company, however, will be unavailable to respond to other alarms.

Lynchburg College Awards 35 Diplomas

Special to The Washington Post. Lynchburg, Va., June 13.—Dr. J. C. Metcalf, head of the graduate school of the University of Virginia, made the address to the graduating class of 35 at Lynchburg College today. This marked the end of the twenty-fifth commencement of the college and the end of its first year as a member of the Southern Educational Association.

Winners of scholarships were: Junior class, Miss Beulah Mason, Lynchburg; sophomore class, Miss Reva Hoppenstein, Lynchburg; freshman class, Miss Kathryn Royer, Baltimore. Of the seventeen students of that honor roll six are graduates of the Lynchburg High School.

Five Men Badly Hurt In Sawmill Explosion

Special to The Washington Post. Danville, Va., June 13.—Five men were injured, two perhaps fatally, early today near Danville, when a sawmill boiler exploded. T. H. Gough, owner of the mill, is in a local hospital, scalded from head to foot. The other victims are negroes.

The explosion was heard 3 miles and hurled a 3-ton engine 100 yards. Other mill employees, some distance away, were shaken by the blast. After a cloud of dust had passed, they saw the mill had been blown down and the five forms lying on the ground. Ambulances brought the men here. The boiler is believed to have had clogged pipes.

COMDR. JAY HALE SYPHER DIED

Rites at St. Patrick's Church Tomorrow For Capital Resident.

Mrs. Kate V. Hoover, 78 years old, widow of the late Samuel S. Hoover and a member of an old Washington family, died yesterday at her residence, 5119 Thirty-eighth street northwest. Mrs. Hoover was born in Washington May 18, 1850, and was educated at Mt. De Sales Seminary, Baltimore, Md. She was one of the oldest communicants at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Harry E. Johnson, of Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. Scott Howatt, of Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. Stanley Huntress, of R. Virginia, Hoover, of this city; and four sons, U. S. Grant Hoover, Allison W. Hoover, J. Raymond Hoover, all of Washington, and S. Smith Hoover, of Swampscott, Mass. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at St. Patrick's Church. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

Veteran of Two Wars Was Decorated By the Prince of Wales

Commander Jay Hale Sypher, U. S. N., retired, 57 years old, died yesterday, at his residence, 172 Riggs place, after an illness of several years. He was the son of the late Gen. J. Hale Sypher, a former representative from Louisiana.

Commander Sypher was born in Louisiana and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1891. He was commended for his service in the Spanish American War, Philippine Insurrection, and during the World War was decorated by the Prince of Wales for services at Southampton, England. He retired in 1921. His widow and a daughter, Miss Elizabeth C. Sypher survive.

DR. A. S. DOUGLAS SERVICES

Retired Physician and Government Employee Had Been in City 60 Years.

Funeral services for Dr. A. S. Douglas, 85 years old, retired physician and Government employee, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Gawthron's chapel, 1730 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. The Rev. S. T. Nicholas, pastor of the Keller Memorial Lutheran Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Richmond. Dr. Douglas died Tuesday in his residence, 121 Twelfth street, at Providence Hospital.

Born in Vermont, Dr. Douglas had been a resident of this city 60 years. He attended Eastman College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and the medical school of old Columbia College. Besides his medical practice, he was for many years a clerk in the Treasury Department until retired in 1920. He at one time was in the clothing business on Pennsylvania avenue with his brother, William S. Douglas. He is survived by his widow.

GIRL TELLER FAINTS AT LONG VOTE COUNT

Danville Board Rules Work Can Not Halt; Wooding Re-elected Mayor.

Special to The Washington Post. Danville, Va., June 13.—Harry Wooding was re-elected Mayor of Danville yesterday over H. C. Ficklen by a majority of 956. The election set a number of records. It was the largest vote and largest majority Capt. Wooding has received since he first aspired 36 years ago. He has been regularly elected since. Another record was established by the long count. At the city's largest ward the tellers began counting at 7:30 o'clock last night and finished at 5:20 this morning.

Within that time they checked 25,000 names, as there were 23 names on the ballot, and at 2 o'clock this morning the electoral board was routed out to rule whether it would be legal to stop counting so that the working force could sleep. The board read the law and held that it might afford an opportunity for contest, so the count continued. One girl teller fainted under the strain.

A new council was also elected yesterday. Mayor Wooding, who will be nearly 80 if he lives to serve out his term, said today he would never seek the office again.

150 FIREMEN TO WATCH BUILDING BURN SUNDAY

Blaze to Test Safes Scheduled for 5 A. M., in Order to Avoid Crowds.

16 ENGINES TO STAND BY

While the tired business man sleeps the peaceful slumber that only can be his on Sunday morning, a score of Bureau of Standards scientists, more than 150 firemen and a large detail of police will take part in the staging of a gigantic blaze to determine just how much heat the average safe can withstand, in answer to a much repeated inquiry from business men throughout the country.

Sixteen pieces of fire apparatus will surround the block in which the experiment will take place at approximately 5 a. m., according to present plans, provided there is no wind. A wall of water, available at a moment's notice, can be thrown on the fire if it is deemed necessary. It was learned at the fire department.

The fire is expected to burn uncontrolled for about three hours before the fire department takes the situation in hand. Surrounding buildings, including the Postoffice and the establishments of commission merchants on B street and Louisiana avenue nearby, will be guarded against flying sparks by a corps of men stationed upon roofs.

Scientific instruments in a small brick building a block from the blaze will record the progress of the flames and furnish data for later use in determining which of the two score of safes stored there withstood the heat of the least damage to safe and contents.

The hour for the destruction of the buildings which were scheduled for removal under the Federal building program, was made an early one to avoid the congestion of traffic resultant from the establishment of fire lines. Despite the hour, the police are making plans for handling a large crowd. Alarm boxes will be guarded against the attempts of well intentioned persons to turn in calls.

The apparatus which will be used by firemen is mostly of a reserve stock, and more than 100 of the men will be giving their "day off" to assure the safety of downtown Washington during the experiment. The blaze will be handled in much the same manner as would a five alarm fire. It was said only one company, however, will be unavailable to respond to other alarms.

Lynchburg College Awards 35 Diplomas

Special to The Washington Post. Lynchburg, Va., June 13.—Dr. J. C. Metcalf, head of the graduate school of the University of Virginia, made the address to the graduating class of 35 at Lynchburg College today. This marked the end of the twenty-fifth commencement of the college and the end of its first year as a member of the Southern Educational Association.

Winners of scholarships were: Junior class, Miss Beulah Mason, Lynchburg; sophomore class, Miss Reva Hoppenstein, Lynchburg; freshman class, Miss Kathryn Royer, Baltimore. Of the seventeen students of that honor roll six are graduates of the Lynchburg High School.

Five Men Badly Hurt In Sawmill Explosion

Special to The Washington Post. Danville, Va., June 13.—Five men were injured, two perhaps fatally, early today near Danville, when a sawmill boiler exploded. T. H. Gough, owner of the mill, is in a local hospital, scalded from head to foot. The other victims are negroes.

The explosion was heard 3 miles and hurled a 3-ton engine 100 yards. Other mill employees, some distance away, were shaken by the blast. After a cloud of dust had passed, they saw the mill had been blown down and the five forms lying on the ground. Ambulances brought the men here. The boiler is believed to have had clogged pipes.

COMDR. JAY HALE SYPHER DIED

Rites at St. Patrick's Church Tomorrow For Capital Resident.

Mrs. Kate V. Hoover, 78 years old, widow of the late Samuel S. Hoover and a member of an old Washington family, died yesterday at her residence, 5119 Thirty-eighth street northwest. Mrs. Hoover was born in Washington May 18, 1850, and was educated at Mt. De Sales Seminary, Baltimore, Md. She was one of the oldest communicants at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Harry E. Johnson, of Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. Scott Howatt, of Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. Stanley Huntress, of R. Virginia, Hoover, of this city; and four sons, U. S. Grant Hoover, Allison W. Hoover, J. Raymond Hoover, all of Washington, and S. Smith Hoover, of Swampscott, Mass. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at St. Patrick's Church. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

Veteran of Two Wars Was Decorated By the Prince of Wales

Commander Jay Hale Sypher, U. S. N., retired, 57 years old, died yesterday, at his residence, 172 Riggs place, after an illness of several years. He was the son of the late Gen. J. Hale Sypher, a former representative from Louisiana.

Commander Sypher was born in Louisiana and was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1891. He was commended for his service in the Spanish American War, Philippine Insurrection, and during the World War was decorated by the Prince of Wales for services at Southampton, England. He retired in 1921. His widow and a daughter, Miss Elizabeth C. Sypher survive.

DR. A. S. DOUGLAS SERVICES

Retired Physician and Government Employee Had Been in City 60 Years.

Funeral services for Dr. A. S. Douglas, 85 years old, retired physician and Government employee, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Gawthron's chapel, 1730 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. The Rev. S. T. Nicholas, pastor of the Keller Memorial Lutheran Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Richmond. Dr. Douglas died Tuesday in his residence, 121 Twelfth street, at Providence Hospital.

Born in Vermont, Dr. Douglas had been a resident of this city 60 years. He attended Eastman College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and the medical school of old Columbia College. Besides his medical practice, he was for many years a clerk in the Treasury Department until retired in 1920. He at one time was in the clothing business on Pennsylvania avenue with his brother, William S. Douglas. He is survived by his widow.

GIRL TELLER FAINTS AT LONG VOTE COUNT

Danville Board Rules Work Can Not Halt; Wooding Re-elected Mayor.

Special to The Washington Post. Danville, Va., June 13.—Harry Wooding was re-elected Mayor of Danville yesterday over H. C. Ficklen by a majority of 956. The election set a number of records. It was the largest vote and largest majority Capt. Wooding has received since he first aspired 36 years ago. He has been regularly elected since. Another record was established by the long count. At the city's largest ward the tellers began counting at 7:30 o'clock last night and finished at 5:20 this morning.

Within that time they checked 25,000 names, as there were 23 names on the ballot, and at 2 o'clock this morning the electoral board was routed out to rule whether it would be legal to stop counting so that the working force could sleep. The board read the law and held that it might afford an opportunity for contest, so the count continued. One girl teller fainted under the strain.

A new council was also elected yesterday. Mayor Wooding, who will be nearly 80 if he lives to serve out his term, said today he would never seek the office again.

150 FIREMEN TO WATCH BUILDING BURN SUNDAY

Blaze to Test Safes Scheduled for 5 A. M., in Order to Avoid Crowds.

16 ENGINES TO STAND BY

While the tired business man sleeps the peaceful slumber that only can be his on Sunday morning, a score of Bureau of Standards scientists, more than 150 firemen and a large detail of police will take part in the staging of a gigantic blaze to determine just how much heat the average safe can withstand, in answer to a much repeated inquiry from business men throughout the country.

Sixteen pieces of fire apparatus will surround the block in which the experiment will take place at approximately 5 a. m., according to present plans, provided there is no wind. A wall of water, available at a moment's notice, can be thrown on the fire if it is deemed necessary. It was learned at the fire department.

The fire is expected to burn uncontrolled for about three hours before the fire department takes the situation in hand. Surrounding buildings, including the Postoffice and the establishments of commission merchants on B street and Louisiana avenue nearby, will be guarded against flying sparks by a corps of men stationed upon roofs.

Scientific instruments in a small brick building a block from the blaze will record the progress of the flames and furnish data for later use in determining which of the two score of safes stored there withstood the heat of the least damage to safe and contents.

The hour for the destruction of the buildings which were scheduled for removal under the Federal building program, was made an early one to avoid the congestion of traffic resultant from the establishment of fire lines. Despite the hour, the police are making plans for handling a large crowd. Alarm boxes will be guarded against the attempts of well intentioned persons to turn in calls.

The apparatus which will be used by firemen is mostly of a reserve stock, and more than 100 of the men will be giving their "day off" to assure the safety of downtown Washington during the experiment. The blaze will be handled in much the same manner as would a five alarm fire. It was said only one company, however, will be unavailable to respond to other alarms.

Lynchburg College Awards 35 Diplomas

Special to The Washington Post. Lynchburg, Va., June 13.—Dr. J. C. Metcalf, head of the graduate school of the University of Virginia, made the address to the graduating class of 35 at Lynchburg College today. This marked the end of the twenty-fifth commencement of the college and the end of its first year as a member of the Southern Educational Association.

Winners of scholarships were: Junior class, Miss Beulah Mason, Lynchburg; sophomore class, Miss Reva Hoppenstein, Lynchburg; freshman class, Miss Kathryn Royer, Baltimore. Of the seventeen students of that honor roll six are graduates of the Lynchburg High School.

Five Men Badly Hurt In Sawmill Explosion

Special to The Washington Post. Danville, Va., June 13.—Five men were injured, two perhaps fatally, early today near Danville, when a sawmill boiler exploded. T. H. Gough, owner of the mill, is in a local hospital, scalded from head to foot. The other victims are negroes.

The explosion was heard 3 miles and hurled a 3-ton engine 100 yards. Other mill employees, some distance away, were shaken by the blast. After a cloud of dust had passed, they saw the mill had been blown down and the five forms lying on the ground. Ambulances brought the men here. The boiler is believed to have had clogged pipes.

COMDR. JAY HALE SYPHER DIED

Rites at St. Patrick's Church Tomorrow For Capital Resident.

Mrs. Kate V. Hoover, 78 years old, widow of the late Samuel S. Hoover and a member of an old Washington family, died yesterday at her residence, 5119 Thirty-eighth street northwest. Mrs. Hoover was born in Washington May 18, 1850, and was educated at Mt. De

INDIANS CAP NATS' HITTING STREAK BY 8-7 VICTORY

Roesch Leads Mid-Atlantic Golfers

Ties Amateur Record of 72 to Top Field at Congressional.

Only 7 Score Under 80 in First Round of Qualification.

By HENRY LITCHEFIELD WEST. TRYING the course record with a card of 72 strokes in the first day's qualification round of the Middle Atlantic Golf Association's championship tournament, played yesterday on the course of the Congressional Country Club, Frank K. Roesch, the youthful champion of the Washington Golf and Country Club, led the field of nearly 100 contestants with a perfect score, 36-36-72, par for the course.

The amateur record for the course was set by Roland MacKenzie on June 22, 1927, in the qualification round of the annual Congressional Country Club tournament, when he played the difficult course in 37-35 for a total of 72 strokes.

With the exception of a 6 on the long and treacherous tenth hole, Roesch played a consistently good game of golf, his score being aided by a birdie 3 on the third, a birdie 4 on the eighth and a birdie 3 on the nineteenth, when, after a drive that failed to carry the green, he pitched dead to the cup and ran down his putt. Eleven one-putt greens were also of substantial assistance.

The low score of the day would have been credited, however, to Digges, who, with a birdie 3 on the seventh and a birdie 4 on the eighth, was out in 35, leading Roesch at the end of the first nine by one stroke. He missed a 6-foot putt for a birdie 4 on the tenth, was not on the green with his tee shot on the eleventh, missed an 8-footer for a birdie 4 on the twelfth, and then took three putts for a 4 on the thirteenth.

When he had played the fourteenth in par and had run down a putt from the edge of the green, a distance of 40 feet, for a birdie 5, his score stood at 36-36-72. The scoring was almost uniformly high, only seven competitors being able to break 80, as follows:

Frank K. Roesch, W. G. and C. C. 36-36-72
W. Digges, Bannockburn, 38-38-76
John C. Shorey, Bannockburn, 39-39-78
A. L. Houghton, Manor, 41-39-80
Houghton had been 80 or over if it had not been for a remarkable shot which he played on the fourth hole. The green is 360 yards from the tee and Houghton's drive of

Sidney West
Mid & G Streets N. W.
An Innovation In Summer Suits

Featherweight SUITS $45
A 3-piece Blue Serge Suit "light as a feather" in weight but sturdy in wearing qualities. Special skeleton construction of waistcoat makes it wear practical even in warmest weather. Also available in the desired shades of tan and gray.
Straw Hats $3 up

MAJOR LEAGUE STATISTICS

Table with 2 main sections: AMERICAN LEAGUE and NATIONAL LEAGUE. Each section contains a table of team statistics including wins, losses, and games played.

20 Varsities Now on Scene Of Hudson Regatta Tuesday

Cornell Joins College Flotilla—Columbia and Far West Shells Favored—Penn Near Record in 4-Mile Workout.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 13 (A.P.).—The entire flotilla which will take part in the Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta on the Hudson River here next Tuesday was assembled today with the arrival of three Cornell crews from Lake Cayuga. Twenty regular eights and several substitute shells dotted the river this evening for the late day workout.

Phil's Down Pirates On Jahn's 2-Base Hit

Philadelphia, June 13 (A.P.).—Art Jahn's double drove in the second and third runs that defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates in the ninth inning. The Phillies won by a score of 4 to 3.

Vance Puzzles Cubs; Babe Herman Hits 2

BROOKLYN, June 13 (A.P.).—Dazzy Vance was invincible here today and Brooklyn won the third game of the series from the Chicago Cubs. Babe Herman hit two home runs to lead the attack of the home team, and Cuyler drove one over the wall for the Cubs in the first inning. Beck scored the only other Chicago run in the ninth on Hendrick's error.

THE THUMPING TEN

Table with 2 main sections: AMERICAN LEAGUE and NATIONAL LEAGUE. Each section contains a table of player statistics including batting average, runs, hits, and errors.

Latzo Fouled By Lomski In Sixth

18,000 Hiss Low Blow by Coast Man on Verge of Knockout.

Pete Batters Favorite About Ring at Will After 2 Rounds.

By EDWARD J. NEIL. (Associated Press Sports Writer). BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 13 (A.P.). A blight in the form of a foul blow, a right to the body, that stretched pudgy Pete Latzo writhing on the canvas in the sixth round, ended a furious light-heavyweight battle tonight with the disqualification of Leo Lomski, slugging Pole from Aberdeen, Wash.

The crowd of 18,000 that had flocked to the big National League ball yard rose almost to a man and hissed Lomski from the ring. The fans plainly showed that they believed Lomski, on the ragged edge of defeat, took the "best way out."

After the first two rounds, when Lomski hammered the former welterweight king's body lustily with short right smashes, Latzo swarmed all over his rival, battering him with left and right hooks to the head and body until the Aberdeen woodsman barely could stand.

Only two weeks ago Pudgy Pete, heavy about the body, lost a vicious fifteen-round match to Loughran by a narrow margin. Tonight Latzo showed immense improvement in condition. He was faster, too, more aggressive and his sledge-like swings to the head and body were deadly accurate.

The tall brute from the land of the Douglas firs was a mark for Latzo's sweeping left hand after the second round. Only in the second round did Latzo's powerful right hand hurt Latzo to any extent.

During a wild exchange in the third round, when the battlers stood head to head and Latzo made his first clinch, again in the fifth round, in the midst of another wild exchange, Pudgy Pete dropped to one knee from a low punch.

In between rounds, Latzo's seconds poured into the ring, protesting to the referee that Lomski was "going" the referee, waved them aside.

But there was no question as to the punch that ended the fight. Swinging to the body with everything he had, Latzo smashed his head with both hands. Lomski drove his right foot to Pete's groin.

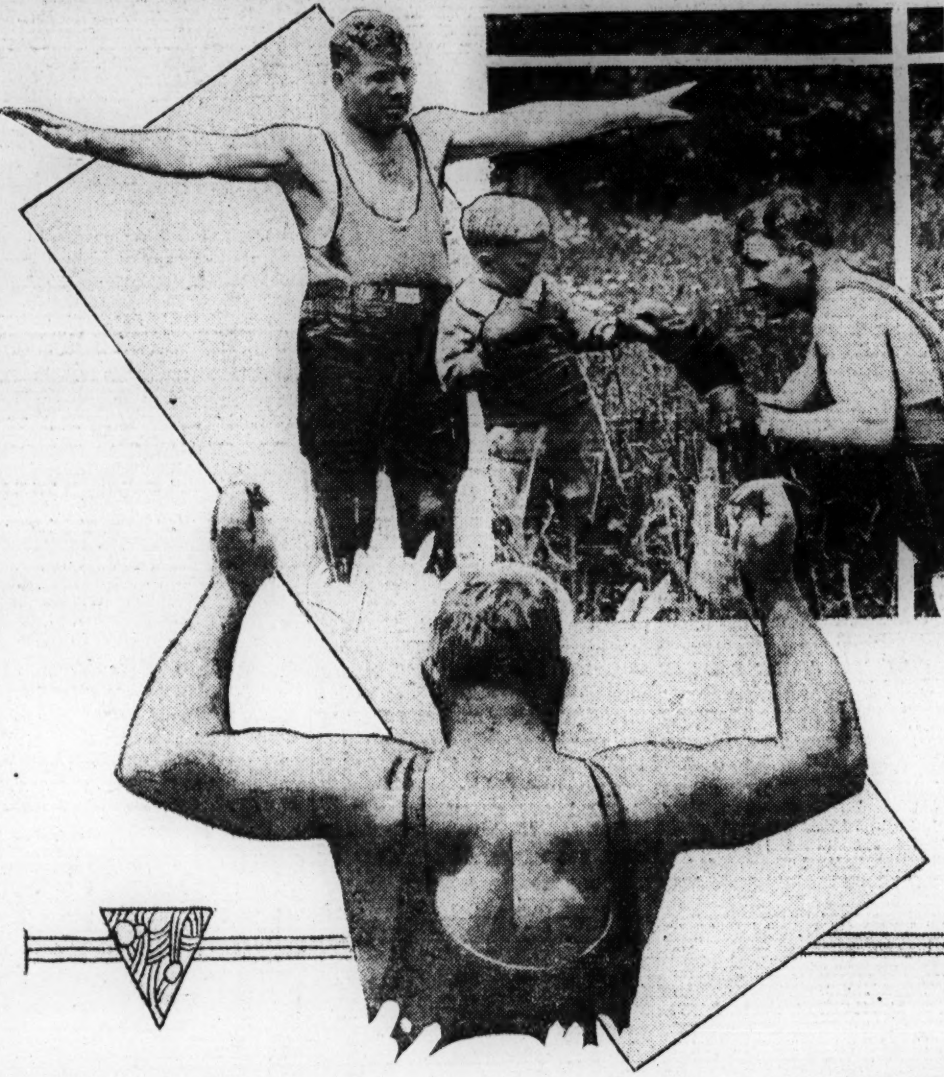

The Scranion miner dropped in agony from today in the tenth, further parley. Magnolia sent Lomski to the ring and into the hissing crowd.

The round lasted only 1 minute and 22 seconds. Lomski scaled 175 pounds. Latzo 170.

Since automatic suspension is meted a foul loser in New York State, Lomski's availability for two major bouts in the near future is in doubt.

to fight Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, in ten rounds on July 4 and Tommy Loughran in fifteen but Rixey, the 76-pounder later in the summer.

CHALLENGER STARTS TRAINING FOR TUNNEY FIGHT

In the wilds of Fair Haven, N. J., Tom Heene is working industriously for his fight with the champion in New York July 26. The above pictures are the first of the challenger in training. At left, he is demonstrating his great reach. At right, he is taking on the inn keeper's son for a round or two. Below, Heene displays his massive shoulder muscles, back and biceps.

REEVES GAINS 3D PLACE IN HITTING

Homer and 3 Singles Brings His Average to .362.

BOBBY REEVES' three singles and a home run in four attempts at the bat tonight brought his batting average to .362. The Washington Nationals' star again as the result of a "charley horse," sustained in the seventh inning of this afternoon's contest with the Philadelphia Phillies, was the only player to hit a home run in the game.

Two were out and Harris was on first as the result of his single which had driven in a run when Red Barnes sent a Texas leaguer to short left.

On the batting line, Joe Sewell, who has been idle much of the season because of an injured left instep, one broken finger, and one bruised digit, has been feeling the muscles of his left leg tightening steadily for the past few days and the "charley horse" came to a head today.

Harris was able to get back in the line-up in the final half of the coming series with Detroit, but doesn't intend to even try to play tomorrow. With the Nats' leader again unavailable, the Washington team is in a precarious position as regards infield talent.

Osie Bluege is suffering from a mild attack of "pink eye," but reported improvement today. While Jack Hayes, who will take Harris' place, has been having trouble with his stomach, despite the diet on which he has been placed, and is not in as good a physical condition as he should be.

The only other possible infield talent available is Catcher Ed Koner, who has played third base in the minors on a number of occasions, but who admits that he does not rate himself a star as a member of the team.

He has been practicing at the hot corner since he joined the Nats and probably would have to be pressed into service in case of injury to any of the quartet now available.

First Baseman Joe Judge also has no understudy; all of which indicates that the Nationals are in a serious predicament in the first division for replacement of the injured players. The Athletics clinched the game in the seventh inning when they scored five runs on a combination of six hits and two errors.

Tribe Pounds Lisenbee in Seventh

Reeves' Home Run and 3 Singles Futile as Lead Is Lost.

Judge Twice Fails in Pinch; Nats Again Outhit Foes.

By FRANK H. YOUNG (Staff Correspondent of The Post). CLEVELAND, June 13.—The Nationals and Indians each ended "streaks" here this afternoon. Cleveland's two-to-7 victory, halting a string of losses which had extended to seven, while the Harrismen saw their advance stopped at six in a row.

It was the fourth game of this series which was decided by a one-run margin, the Nats rallying to score two runs in the State front. The game was made after two were out as a result of triples by Hayes and Barnes and a single by Goslin. With the tying run on the bases, Judge ended the game by bounding to Joe Shaute, Cleveland pitcher.

It can not be said that Bob Reeves did not do his bit toward giving the Nationals victory. He was credited with hits on the four trips he made to the plate and one was a homer in the sixth inning, his third of the season, which scored two runners ahead of him and gave the Nats a temporary two-run advantage.

Horace Lisenbee started for the Nats and got away badly. After apparently having settled down, he weakened in the seventh, and a five-run native rally put the game beyond the Harrismen's reach.

With one out in the first inning, Lind doubled and tallied on Morgan's triple and the latter scored on a sacrifice fly after Langford had walked. After these two runs had trickled over the plate Lisenbee settled down and granted only one hit in the next four frames.

Shaute, meanwhile, had been performing brilliantly, and it was not until the fifth that the Nats were able to break into the scoring column, although hits by Reeves and Bluege, which came after two were out, were wasted in the second.

It was this pair which started the Washington rally in round 5. With one out, Reeves singled to center, while Bluege beat out his intended sacrifice bunt. After two were out, Reeves and Summa, putting it up to Lisenbee, who poked one past Fonseca which allowed Reeves to score and Bluege to carry on to third. Rice then killed the rally by rolling to Lind.

The Nationals stepped out in front in the sixth, going all of their damage after two were out. Reeves singled, Judge walked and Reeves cleared the bases with a homer, a drive in deep center, this set the Nats' shortstop, who succeeded in getting to the plate, putting it up to Lisenbee, who poked one past Fonseca which allowed Reeves to score and Bluege to carry on to third. Rice then killed the rally by rolling to Lind.

Both teams were up and doing in the "lucky frame," with the Indians doing more. They became 3 up by sending 5 runs to Washington's lead, overcoming a 2-run Harrisman lead. The Nats' run resulted from Kennen's single, Lisenbee's sacrifice and Harris' single.

With two out, Barnes doubled his boss to third and Goslin was intentionally walked, filling the bases, but Judge's best was a grasser to Lind. Lisenbee hit L. Sewell, first Red skinned up, a seventh-inning triple. When Lisenbee walked and Lind singled, the score was tied and Marberry was called to the bat. After getting his sacrifice "chump" filled the bases by walking Langford. One run scored on Fonseca's fielder's choice and Joe Sewell then singled the other two over.

Pare Again Scores In Defense of Title. Special to The Washington Post. Baltimore, Md., June 13.—Emmett Pare, Georgetown University's sophomore tennis ace, defending his Maryland State tennis championship on the courts of the Baltimore Country Club, today advanced to the quarter finals when he defeated Henry Neser, of the University of Oregon, in two dazzling sets, 6-4, 6-4.

Pare, looked upon as having an excellent chance to repeat his victory last year, tomorrow meets Ryan Hobbleman, the winner of the match for the right to play in the semifinal round. The Georgetown student is the only Washington entrant remaining in the tournament.

BOSTONIANS Shoes for Men Mostly $7 to $10
The Young Men's Shop
1319-1321 F St. N.W.

[illegible]

HOSPITAL NINE PLAYS.
A game will be played today at 5 o'clock at Eighth and B streets southeast between the Pals and Capital Seniors. A team having a dining room at 11 o'clock Sunday and seeking a game call Manager Okun, of the Pals, at Columbia 3767 after 8 o'clock.

HALL'S
SEA FOOD HOUSE
and GARDEN ATTEND THE CONVENTION
WHILE LUNCHING
Concerts and Proceedings
Daily by Radio
Lunch, 35c
Table d'Hôte Dinner, $1
1000 7th St. S.W.
Phone Frank 9890

CARL W. DAUBER
RADIO SERVICE ELECTRIC
2320-24 18th St. N.W.
OPEN EVENINGS
Prompt and Efficient Service On All Makes Of Receivers.
Columbia 1353-54-55

$5.00
Round Trip
NEW YORK
SUNDAY, JUNE 24
Special Through Train
Direct to Penna. Sta., 7th Ave. and 32d St.
Standard Time
Leaves Washington, 12:30 A.M.
Returning, leaves New York, 5:05 P.M.
Leaves Hudson Terminal, 5:00 P.M.
Similar Excursions
July 22, August 19
Pennsylvania Railroad

Wherever You Go
Whether you go to the seashore, the Adirondacks, up in Maine or Canada make sure your securities and valuables are safe during your absence by renting a Safe Deposit Box
at the
FEDERAL-AMERICAN
NATIONAL BANK
Where G Street Crosses 14th

We Do Choose to Run
To serve the best food and give the most courteous service in Washington
American and Chinese Style
Special Business Lunch, 50c
11:30 A.M. to 2 P.M.
DINNER, 75c and $1.00
5 to 8 P.M.
Sunday Dinner, 75c and $1.00
11:30 A.M. to 8 P.M.
A la carte service also Try taking home something delicious

The Canton Pagoda
FAMOUS CHINESE
AMERICAN RESTAURANT
1943 E Street At Penna.
Street Avenue

'DICK' BUICK
I WONDER JUST WHAT ALLOWANCE
WE CAN GET ON OUR OLD CAR?
WHY DON'T YOU DRIVE UP TO DICK
MURPHY AND SEE?
SEE
DICK MURPHY
FIRST

Refinish Your Screen Door

with the proper paint and enamel, and it will look like new. It's a job that you can do. Come in and let our Mr. Duval tell you how the best material to use. He'll gladly do it.
"Murco" Paint Products
E. J. MURPHY CO., Inc.
710 12th St. Main 2477

FAMOUS OPERA STARS GOING ON AIR TONIGHT

Will Sing at Banquet of Radio Manufacturers at Chicago
at 10 o'clock.

CONCERT BY NAVY BAND

Outstanding stars of radio and opera will present the entertainment at the annual banquet of the Radio Manufacturers Association in Chicago at 10 o'clock tonight and lasting two hours.
The artists who will be heard include Charles Marshall, of the Chicago Civic Opera Co.; Allen McQuhas, tenor and a quartet; the Sylvania Foresters;
Cyrena Van Gordon, of the Chicago
Civic Opera Co.; Phil Cook and John Mitchell, of "Cotton and Morpheus" fame; the National Symphony Orchestra, directed by Cesare Soderi; the Chicago Civic Opera Co. Octet; and Marjorie Maxwell, of the Chicago Civic Opera Co.

Phillips Carlin will be the master of ceremonies at the entertainment and will preside at the microphone. After the program, Carlin will fly from Chicago to New York in order to be in the New York studios for another program.

While 30,000 members of the radio trade are estimated to be in attendance at the convention, tables at the annual banquet in the new Palmer House are available for only $300. As a consequence, many of the convention guests will attend the banquet by radio as will millions of fans in all parts of the United States.

Altogether the program is expected to be more interesting than that of last year, when Van and Schenck, Ernie Jones and Billy Hill, Sam H.
Henry, the Virginia Judge, the Gypsies, the Capitol Family and many others were heard.

The overture to the opera, "Rienzi," by Richard Wagner, will be played during the program by the United States Navy Band at 6 o'clock tonight. A descriptive suite will be played, also numbers from Grieg's "Peer Gynt," suite and other compositions by Spindler, Sinding, Herbert, Sousa and Lisud.
J. Teek will play "May Blossoms," by Clarke, as a trombone solo.

A full hour of dance tunes will be broadcast by the National Dance Orchestra, under the direction of Hugo Mariani, at 8 o'clock. The list of selections includes the new hits, "Hum the Strum," "Get Out and Get Under the Moon," "My Heart Stood Still" and
"Ramona."

Finance counsel will be given by an expert during the Halsey Stuart hour
at 9 o'clock.

Franklyn Baur, tenor, will be featured in the Maxwell House hour which will be heard through station
WJZ, KDKA and WBAL at 8 o'clock.
Because of his promise he had attained in reciting and radio work, Mr. Baur was recently recruited for the Ziegfeld Follies. He was formerly first tenor with the Revelers and after leaving the organization went into concert work.

Part of the Flag Day exercises held at the Capitol under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Woman's Relief Corps, will be broadcast through station WMAL in connection with the outdoor concert of the United States Army Band, under the direction of Capt. Wm. J. Stannard.

Another Flag Day program will be presented by the Imperial Male Quarter from 8:30 to 9 o'clock.

A Victor half hour, the lost and found service, and a household economy talk are featured on WRHF's early morning program.

RADIO
THURSDAY, JUNE 14
LOCAL STATIONS.
EASTERN STANDARD TIME.
(435 Meters, 1,340 Kilocycles.)
10:05 a. m., 3:45 and 10:05 p. m.—
Weather reports.
WMAL—Washington Radio Forum.
(302 Meters, 960 Kilocycles.)
6:55 p. m.—"Tidy Club."
7:15 p. m.—Science news of the week—
"How and Why We Sleep."
7:30 p. m.—Outdoor concert from United States Capitol, played by the United States Army Band, including a portion of the Flag Day exercises held at the Capitol under auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Woman's Relief Corps.
8:30 p. m.—"Flag Day program, by the Imperial Male Quartet."
9 p. m.—John Bromwell, tenor.
9:15 p. m.—Merchants' hour of music.
10:15 to 10:30 p. m.—Late news flashes.
WRHF—National Broadcasting Co.
(460 Meters, 650 Kilocycles.)
(This program is subject to change depending upon length of program from Republican convention.)
6:45 a. m.—Tower health exercises.
6:55 a. m.—Parnassus Trio.
7:30 to 7:50 a. m.—Cherio.
7:50 to 8:10 a. m.—Royal & Copeland hour.
10 a. m.—Cerio program.
10:15 a. m.—NBC studio program.
10:30 a. m.—"Equipping the New Home,"
by Mrs. Champ Randolph.
11 a. m.—National Republican convention.
12 p. m.—Waldorf-Astoria Orchestra.
5:55 p. m.—Morton picture guide.
5:55 p. m.—Basketball scores.
6 p. m.—Concert by the United States Navy Band.
6:30 p. m.—Dorsey's Ensemble.
6:45 p. m.—The Guild choir.
7:30 p. m.—Hoover Sentinels.
8 p. m.—National Philharmonic Orchestra.
9 p. m.—Halsey Stuart hour.
9:30 p. m.—Correct time.
9:30 p. m.—Stateline Pennsylvanians.
10 p. m.—U. S. weather forecast.
10:12 p. m.—Annual banquet of the Radio Manufacturers Association broadcast from Chicago.

WBAL—American Broadcasting Co.
(322 Meters, 940 Kilocycles.)
10 a. m.—Household talk.
10:25 a. m.—Health talk.
10:30 a. m.—Victor half hour.
11 a. m.—Lost and found.
11:10 a. m.—Household economy.
11:20 a. m.—Talks by Pennsylvanians.
Baseball game—Washington at Detroit.
5:45 p. m.—Baseball scores.
6 p. m.—Victor dinner concert.

DISTANT STATIONS.
WBAL—Baltimore.
(285 Meters, 1,050 Kilocycles.)
4 p. m.—Salon music by the Calvertons.
6:30 p. m.—Dinner music.
7:30 p. m.—WBAL-Mandolin Orchestra.
8 p. m.—Maxwell hour.
9 p. m.—Michelin program.
9:30 p. m.—Fit Soldiers' Show.

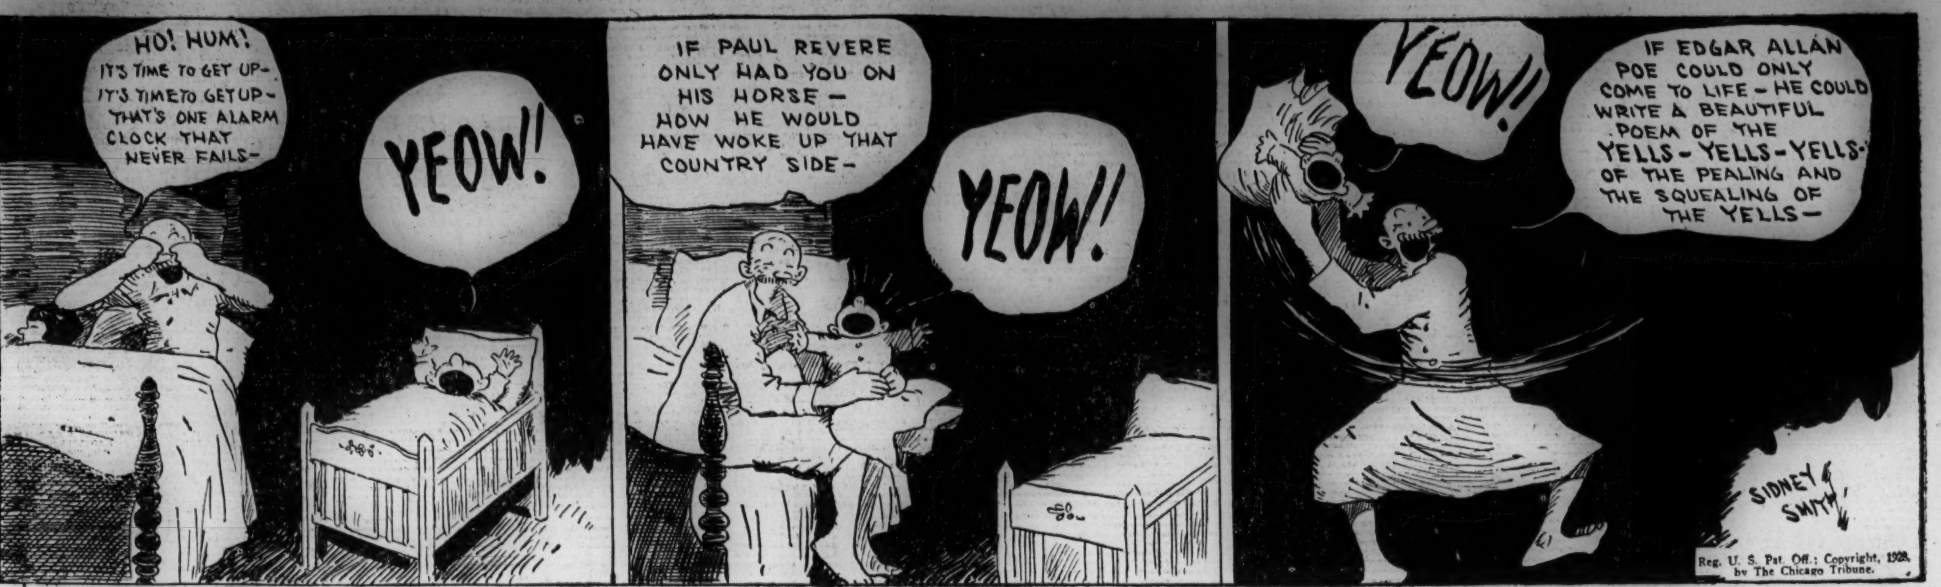

KDKA—Pittsburgh.
(516 Meters, 930 Kilocycles.)
5:15 p. m.—KDKA Little Symphony Orchestra.
9 p. m.—Maxwell House hour.
9:30 p. m.—Fit Soldiers' Show.

WOR—Newark.
(422 Meters, 710 Kilocycles.)
11 a. m.—Republican national convention.
6:10 p. m.—Shelton Ensemble.
6:30 p. m.—Home treat hour.
7:31 p. m.—The Kings of Clubs.
8 p. m.—Candy Dandies.
9 p. m.—Choir Invisible.
10:10 p. m.—Victor Lones and Orchestra.

Call. Location. Length. Time.
KFI—Los Angeles. 483.5. 10:00-2:00.
KGO—Oakland. 384.4. 11:00-2:00.
KGO—Portland, Ore. 491.5. 11:30-2:00.
KGO—St. Louis. 388.8. 7:00-1:00.
KOA—Denver. 325.9. 8:30-12:00.
KGO—San Francisco. 472.3. 10:00-2:00.
KSL—Salt Lake City. 302.8. 9:00-1:00.
KYW—Chicago. 526.0. 8:00-1:00.
WBAP—Fort Worth. 498.7. 1:00-1:00.
WBZ—Springfield. 333.1. 8:00-12:00.
WCO—Minneapolis. 345.6. 8:00-1:00.
WDAP—Kansas City. 270.2. 8:00-1:00.
WDR—Chicago. 345.6. 8:00-1:00.
WGN—Chicago. 305.9. 8:00-1:00.
WGR—Buffalo. 302.8. 8:00-1:00.
WGR—Schenectady. 315.5. 8:00-12:00.
WHO—Des Moines. 535.4. 9:00-1:00.
WIP—Philadelphia. 384.1. 11:00-1:00.
WJAX—Jacksonville. 336.9. 8:00-12:00.
WJAX—Jacksonville. 336.9. 8:00-12:00.
WLIT—Philadelphia. 405.2. 8:00-12:00.
WLS—Chicago. 345.6. 8:00-1:00.
WLWL—New York. 370.2. 8:00-8:00.
WLW—Cincinnati. 428.3. 8:00-1:00.
WMB—Miami Beach. 384.4. 8:00-12:00.
WMC—Memphis. 516.0. 8:00-12:00.

Navy Seaplane Crashes.
Somerville, reserve naval air station,
Hampton Roads, Va., crashed at Back Creek, Va., yesterday, the Navy Department was advised. The dispatch stated there were no injuries to personnel and that the plane would be salvaged.

THE GUMPS

ELLA CINDERS—Ready to Quit

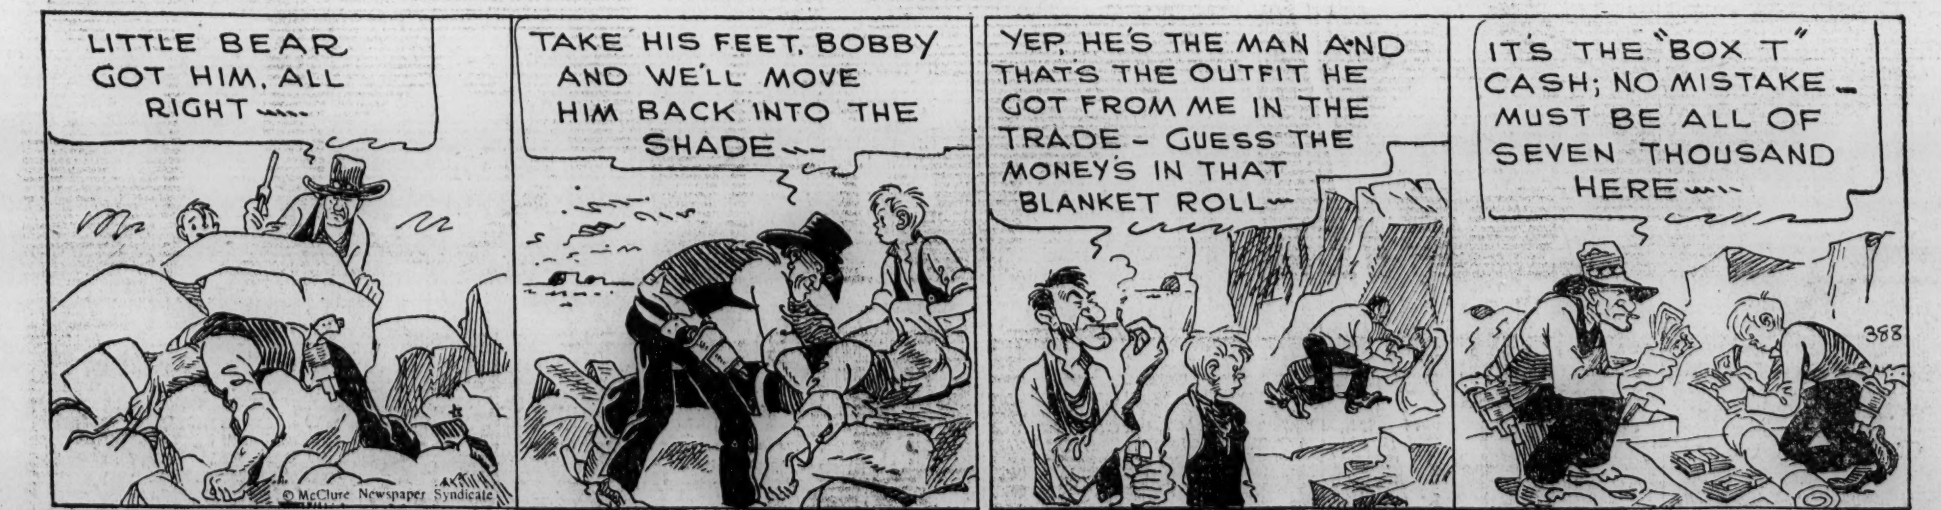

GASOLINE ALLEY

MINUTE MOVIES

BOBBY THATCHER

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREAD WINNER

WARWICK EXPLAINS COMPENSATION LAW TO BUSINESS MEN

500 Employers Attend Meeting Under Auspices of City Board of Trade.

BLANKET INSURANCE ADVISED BY JUDGE

J. W. Hartley Also Speaks; Both Flooded With Questions by Their Hearers.

Blanket insurance for an employer's entire payroll, with later adjustments in conformity with regulations to be laid down by the United States Employment Compensation Commission, was advised yesterday by Judge W. W. Warwick, a member of the commission, at a meeting held at the United States Chamber of Commerce, under the auspices of the Washington Board of Trade, for the purpose of enlightening employers as to their responsibilities under the workmen's compensation act, which goes into effect in the District of Columbia on July 1.

Approximately 500 local employers attended the meeting and Judge Warwick and J. W. Hartley, of the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., spoke.

Many Questions Asked.

Both were besieged with questions relative to problems in their particular businesses under the new law. Judge Warwick emphasized the fact that the provisions of the law cover all employees except those engaged in agriculture, domestic service or casual employment, not in the usual course of trade, business or occupation of the employer.

If in doubt as to whether any of his employees come within the exceptions, he said, an employer should provide for such employees through blanket pay roll insurance.

Provisions for Rebates.

If the compensation commission or the courts subsequently decide that they are not included in the law, premium rebates for such portion of the pay roll may be secured from the insurance companies, Judge Warwick explained.

C. Phillips Hill, chairman of the industrial interests committee of the Washington Board of Trade, presided at the meeting.

In the gathering were representatives from local department stores, the Automobile Trade Association, the insurance clubs, business houses, building trades and others.

St. Vincent's Asylum To Have Lawn Fete

St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum will hold its annual lawn fete at Fourth and Channing streets northwest beginning Saturday and continuing through the following Sunday. The fete is promoted by the St. Vincent's Auxiliary to assist in the care of the 150 children now housed in the institution.

Those assisting with the various booths include: Mrs. Channing, general chairman; Miss Dorothy P. Nesline, secretary; Miss Mary Devlin, treasurer; Miss George Newell, in charge of property; Mrs. Albert Cullen, ice cream; Mrs. James Dwyer, fruit; Miss Helen Cavanaugh, refreshments; Mrs. James O. Simpson, lemonade; Mrs. Frank Nease, candy; Mrs. Thelma Dwyer, popcorn; Miss Nettie Fitzgerald, bingo game; John Cotter, sugar stand; Emmet Carr, blanket stand. Several other stands and novelty rides will be features of the fete.

Army-Navy Lawn Tennis Contest Here

Competition between Army and Navy teams for the Leach Lawn Tennis Trophy will be held August 18 in this city.

The trophy was first presented for competition in 1924 by J. V. Leach, Jr., through the United States Lawn Tennis Association and is intended for perpetual competition.

Army teams were victors in 1924 and 1925, and in 1926 and 1927 the Navy won, winning every match last year. All officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy are eligible for duty are eligible or the team which consists of ten members.

Juror Is Discharged On Contempt Charge

Edward W. Hamlett, 504 Tenth street northeast, the juror who was committed to jail last Tuesday evening by Justice Stafford in Circuit Court on charge that he was intoxicated while deliberating on a case, was discharged from further duty yesterday without being punished.

The record shows that he purged himself of contempt. He explained that he had been to a party the night before and did not expect to be called to sit in the box, as he had originally been detailed to serve in the Criminal Court.

Tomb Award Jury To Meet Here Today

The secret jury of award to choose five designs from which will be selected one for completion of the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery, will meet this morning at 10 o'clock in the office of Maj. Gen. B. F. Cheatham, the quartermaster, to select designs.

The jury is composed of three members of the American Institute of Architects, a representative of the American Legion, and a representative of the Gold Star Mothers. Seventy-three designs have been submitted.

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS

To Questions on Magazine Page

1. A yawl is a ship's small boat, usually rowed by four or six oars. It is also the name of a fore-and-aft-rigged vessel.

2. John Knox was a Scottish reformer, 1505-1572.

3. Byrd, Bennett, Noble, Ellsworth and Peary are names of men who have visited or passed over the North Pole.

4. Justice Holmes, of the United States Supreme Court, is a son of Oliver Wendell Holmes, famous American author.

5. Frankfurt is the capital of the State of Kentucky.

6. Siegfried was a mythical king in Teutonic mythology, hero of the Nibelungenlied.

7. A black hand is the symbol of the best-known Italian secret society in America.

8. Dublin is the capital of the Irish Free State.

9. King Henry VIII was the father of Queen Elizabeth of England.

(Copyright, 1928.)

Gonzaga Scholarship Contests Saturday

Four free scholarships to Gonzaga High School, aggregating in value $1,840, will be competed for Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. The examinations will be held at Gonzaga, and will include English, Arithmetic and American history. Students who have been graduated from public and parochial schools are eligible. Candidates should register today at the office of the prefect of studies.

The winners will be granted four years of free tuition in either the classical or the scientific course.

Collections of Salary Data by Board Begun

Formation of technical staffs to compare Government employees here and throughout the United States and their wages with employees in private establishments, is now under consideration by the Personnel Classification Board, which will prepare its report to Congress next December. Its instructions to this effect are included in the Welch salary increase bill.

The board is hearing from some of the highest employers of the country and will arrange a field survey staff of chemists, engineers, scientists and other specialists. Economic conditions in various regions will be considered in comparison of various pay rates.

PADILLA AND F. A. ALLEN GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

Ambassador Present in Honor of Spanish Delegates to International Convention.

OLD METHODS ASSAILED

Don Alejandro Padilla, Spanish Ambassador to the United States, and Floyd A. Allen, assistant to the president of the General Motors Corporation, were speakers at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday at the Willard Hotel. The Ambassador was present in honor of the three Spanish delegates to the Rotary International convention to be held at Minneapolis.

The Ambassador said a few words of welcome to the Spanish delegates, Prefecto Ruiz Doñoso, Eduardo de Barrantes and Cesar Olaso, and urged that the next international convention abroad be held in Spain. He said that the old methods of business were being replaced by new ones, and that the majority of business failures occur, he said, because people do not "know their stuff." The day seems to be gone when business can be run on guesswork and opinions substituted in place of hard, cold facts, he said.

The older class of business men who are encrusted with inertia, hampered by old habits or fettered by business traditions will have to unlearn many of the lessons of the past and open their minds freely to the new ideas and ideals which prevail in modern business or they will slip hopelessly behind in the race," he declared.

"Nearly every employer is willing to admit that the highest priced men on his pay roll are really the cheapest men he employs when results are considered. He seems reluctant, however, to apply the same principle throughout his force," he said.

The following members will attend the convention which will be held from Monday through June 22: George M. Whitwell, John Poole, Henry N. Lawner, David Buckingham, Alfred Cavender, James Sharp, John Dolph, Robert E. Mann, Lucius C. Clark, Fred W. McKennie, John W. Hulse, Oscar R. Evans, Samuel J. Prescott and George W. Harris.

W. W. Everett, president of the local Rotary Club, appointed a committee of 40 members to look after delegates to the convention who pass through Washington.

COOLIDGE BRAVE, SAYS NEW WOMAN JUSTICE

Miss Genevieve Cline Declares His Appointment of Her Was Courageous.

Her appointment to the bench by President Coolidge, which she described as one of the most courageous acts of a President since Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation, Miss Genevieve C. Cline, newly appointed associate justice of the United States Customs Court, declared last night at a dinner given in her honor at the Women's City Club. Justice Cline took after her predecessor and said she hoped other women also will be appointed to high positions.

Her appointment came after a four-year battle in which the people of Ohio backed her unstintingly, she said, and urged that women prepare themselves so that when the time is offered they will be ready to step in and show their ability. Men and women must work should to shoulder, she said, and that the time is not, sex must be the consideration.

Miss Katherine Pike, president of the National Association of Woman Lawyers and chairman of the business and professional section of the club, was toastmaster. Other speakers were: Mrs. Merritt O. Chance, newly elected president of the club; Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, Mrs. J. Garfield Riley, dean of the Washington College of Law; Miss Jessie Dell, Civil Service commissioner; Judge Mary O'Toole, Miss Pearl McCall, assistant district attorney, and E. W. Camp, commissioner of customs.

Eastern Teacher Wins Degree.

Ellis Haworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Haworth, 132 Thirteenth street southeast, was graduated from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Tuesday, receiving the degree of doctor of philosophy. He is also a graduate of George Washington University, holding the degrees A. B. and A. M. He is a teacher of physics and science in Eastern High School.

Wife Sues for Maintenance.

Desertion and cruelty are charged against Charles Cummings, 5235 Georgia avenue northwest, described as the owner of a grocery business at 4704 Georgia avenue, in a petition for maintenance filed yesterday in Equity Court by Mrs. Anna M. Cummings, 1620 R street northwest. They were married June 14, 1922, and have one child, Attorney M. M. Grubb appeared for Mrs. Cummings.

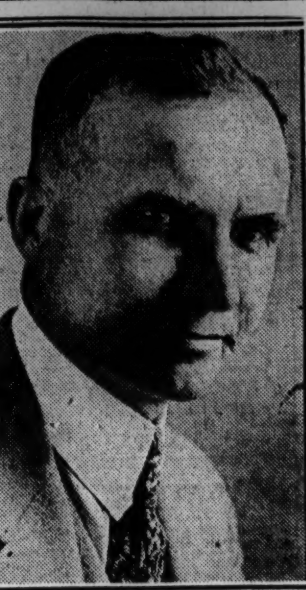

Wife Wins Alimony Plea.

Mrs. Ethel K. Allison, who sued her husband, William C. Allison, an automobile sales manager, for a limited divorce on May 15, was awarded $238 a month temporary alimony yesterday by Justice Hitz in Equity Court. Attorneys Lambert, Yeatman & Canfield appeared for her.

Suit for Child's Death Ended.

Mrs. Rosa B. Coleman, 40 E street northwest, mother of 10-year-old Lucille A. Coleman, deceased, who sued Louis W. Thomas, 637 F street northeast, for $10,000 damages for the death of her daughter, dismissed her suit in Circuit Court yesterday through Attorney David L. Riondan. The girl was on the sidewalk at New Jersey avenue and E street northwest when she was struck by the defendant's automobile, it was charged.

CAMERA VIEWS IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Hugh Miller, Post Staff Photographer.

WITH BYRD. Victor H. Czegka, gunnery sergeant with the Marine Corps at Quantico, who has been named to accompany Commander Richard E. Byrd's South Pole expedition. He has been in the Marine Corps since 1905 and was at the Bureau of Standards here three years developing guns.

Associated Press Photo.

MEXICO'S "EAGLE." Capt. Emilio Carranza pays tribute to the United States Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery. Right — President Coolidge, Capt. Carranza and Ambassador Teitel, of Mexico, at the White House shortly before the President discovered the larder was empty and had to take his visitor out to lunch.

FOR VETERANS. Dorothy Stanford and Marie Ockenhouse, who will dance this evening at Walter Reed Hospital at an entertainment under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

COOLIDGE RECEIVES FRENCH AIR EXPERTS

Visitors Also Go to Mt. Vernon and Annapolis; Guests at Social Affairs.

President Coolidge yesterday received eleven French aeronautical experts, members of a special mission created by the French committee for aeronautical development, who have been making an airplane tour of the United States to study aviation progress in this country. Members were greeted by the President at the White House, after their return from a trip to Mount Vernon, where they placed a wreath on Washington's grave.

Following the White House reception the commission was entertained at a luncheon in the Hays-Adams House by the National Aeronautics Association and later journeyed to Annapolis, where they visited the Naval Academy. Last night they were guests of honor at a dinner in Baltimore, tendered them by the city. Plans for today contemplate an early visit to the Bureau of Standards, luncheon at the United States Chamber of Commerce, visits to Arlington and the Smithsonian Institute and a dinner at Wardman Park Hotel, given by Maj. Georges Thenault, assistant military attaché for aeronautics of the French Embassy.

The commission probably will leave the Capital tomorrow to sail from New York for France on Saturday. They expect to go to New York by airplane, although final arrangements are not yet complete.

Wife Sues for Maintenance.

Desertion and cruelty are charged against Charles Cummings, 5235 Georgia avenue northwest, described as the owner of a grocery business at 4704 Georgia avenue, in a petition for maintenance filed yesterday in Equity Court by Mrs. Anna M. Cummings, 1620 R street northwest. They were married June 14, 1922, and have one child, Attorney M. M. Grubb appeared for Mrs. Cummings.

Wife Wins Alimony Plea.

Mrs. Ethel K. Allison, who sued her husband, William C. Allison, an automobile sales manager, for a limited divorce on May 15, was awarded $238 a month temporary alimony yesterday by Justice Hitz in Equity Court. Attorneys Lambert, Yeatman & Canfield appeared for her.

Suit for Child's Death Ended.

Mrs. Rosa B. Coleman, 40 E street northwest, mother of 10-year-old Lucille A. Coleman, deceased, who sued Louis W. Thomas, 637 F street northeast, for $10,000 damages for the death of her daughter, dismissed her suit in Circuit Court yesterday through Attorney David L. Riondan. The girl was on the sidewalk at New Jersey avenue and E street northwest when she was struck by the defendant's automobile, it was charged.

Wife Wins Alimony Plea.

Mrs. Ethel K. Allison, who sued her husband, William C. Allison, an automobile sales manager, for a limited divorce on May 15, was awarded $238 a month temporary alimony yesterday by Justice Hitz in Equity Court. Attorneys Lambert, Yeatman & Canfield appeared for her.

Suit for Child's Death Ended.

SCENE OF FIST FIGHT BY POLICE IS RAIDED

Owner Is Held, and Whisky Is Found, Charge; Miller Sent to Jail.

Police of the vice squad yesterday confiscated a half-gallon of whisky in a raid upon the near beer saloon at 814 Eleventh street southwest, where Private John W. Connors, of the Fourth Precinct, received serious injuries in a fight Tuesday with Private Lawrence G. Miller, a fellow policeman. Robert Knox Robertson, 35 years old, proprietor of the saloon, was arrested on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicants. He was later released on a $1,000 bond. Sgt. O. J. Lettermann, Richard Cox and W. F. Burke made the raid.

The whisky, according to the police, was contained in a pitcher behind the counter. Cox went into the near beer saloon, leaving the other two policemen outside. A group of men were crowded along the counter. Stepping up to the bar, Cox threw himself across the counter and grabbed Robertson and held him until the other two policemen went to his assistance.

Miller was committed to the District Jail yesterday on a charge of assault. Connors was reported by Providence Hospital attendants to be slightly improved.

Suit for Child's Death Ended.

Mrs. Rosa B. Coleman, 40 E street northwest, mother of 10-year-old Lucille A. Coleman, deceased, who sued Louis W. Thomas, 637 F street northeast, for $10,000 damages for the death of her daughter, dismissed her suit in Circuit Court yesterday through Attorney David L. Riondan. The girl was on the sidewalk at New Jersey avenue and E street northwest when she was struck by the defendant's automobile, it was charged.

Wife Wins Alimony Plea.

Mrs. Ethel K. Allison, who sued her husband, William C. Allison, an automobile sales manager, for a limited divorce on May 15, was awarded $238 a month temporary alimony yesterday by Justice Hitz in Equity Court. Attorneys Lambert, Yeatman & Canfield appeared for her.

Suit for Child's Death Ended.

Mrs. Rosa B. Coleman, 40 E street northwest, mother of 10-year-old Lucille A. Coleman, deceased, who sued Louis W. Thomas, 637 F street northeast, for $10,000 damages for the death of her daughter, dismissed her suit in Circuit Court yesterday through Attorney David L. Riondan. The girl was on the sidewalk at New Jersey avenue and E street northwest when she was struck by the defendant's automobile, it was charged.

Wife Wins Alimony Plea.

Mrs. Ethel K. Allison, who sued her husband, William C. Allison, an automobile sales manager, for a limited divorce on May 15, was awarded $238 a month temporary alimony yesterday by Justice Hitz in Equity Court. Attorneys Lambert, Yeatman & Canfield appeared for her.

Suit for Child's Death Ended.

Mrs. Rosa B. Coleman, 40 E street northwest, mother of 10-year-old Lucille A. Coleman, deceased, who sued Louis W. Thomas, 637 F street northeast, for $10,000 damages for the death of her daughter, dismissed her suit in Circuit Court yesterday through Attorney David L. Riondan. The girl was on the sidewalk at New Jersey avenue and E street northwest when she was struck by the defendant's automobile, it was charged.

FLAGS FLY TODAY IN CAPITAL IN HONOR OF 156TH BIRTHDAY

School Will Hold Appropriate Exercises in Reverence of Stars and Stripes.

CONCERT AND SPEECHES IN POSTOFFICE BUILDING

G. A. R. and Auxiliary Tonight Will Hold Ceremonies at Capitol.

The 156th birthday anniversary of the Stars and Stripes will be celebrated today, with civic and military exercises and with a general display of the flag throughout the country. Programs will be held at the Postoffice Building, Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenue, and at the various public schools.

The postoffice program is under the auspices of the Rubenstein Club and will include speeches, barytone solos by Enrico Giorgi, New York, and selections by the Marine Band. Flag Day exercises also will be held in many of the departments and by clubs and organizations.

Eulogies at All Schools.

The United States flag will be eulogized in schools throughout the city by speakers from the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, under auspices of the Harry S. Spengler Auxiliary Unit. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Amos A. Fries, president of the unit, and Mrs. Lucia R. Maxwell, Americanism chairman.

Speakers and the schools at which they will speak follow: Brig. Gen. Ewing E. Booth, Central High School; Brig. Gen. Frank Parkhill, Western High School; Miss Nina Reed, Jefferson High School; William Wolf Smith, Adams, Force and Thompson schools; Mrs. E. J. Fink, Madison School; Mrs. Norma Nock, Weighman School; Mrs. Lucia R. Maxwell, Janney School; Mrs. Edward N. Dingley, Oyster School; Mrs. Mary Parker, E. V. Brown School; Mrs. Claud Brigham, Henry Cook School; Mrs. Luther E. Gregory, John Eaton School; Mrs. Harriet Hawley Locher, Roosevelt, Fairbrother, Smallwood and Dill schools; Lieut. Frederick A. Henney, Thomas B. Bryan and Buchanan schools; and Mrs. Dorothy B. Harper, Webster School.

Stores to Display Flags.

The merchants on F street and Seventh street will display the flag on the usual street poles, and many homes and office buildings also will be decorated.

The annual flag service of the G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps will be held on the south side of the Capitol at night. The services will begin with a concert by the U. S. Army Band from 7:30 to 8 o'clock at which time the colors will be carried forward by the strains of the "Star-Spangled Banner." The assembly will then sing "America," led by William Schmucker. The invocation will be given by the Rev. John C. Palmer. An Army Band bugler will then sound "To the Colors," which will be followed by presentation of the colors and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Presentation of department commanders of the G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps will be made on the south side of the Capitol. Representative William E. Andrews will make the principal address. Patriotic songs will be sung by the Palisades Chorus, led by Mr. Schmucker. William Dorsey, chaplain of Post No. 2, of the G. A. R., will recite the benediction. William M. Robb, department commander of the G. A. R., and Mrs. Mary H. Wingate, department president of the W. R. C., with F. J. Young, G. A. R. patriotic instructor, and Mrs. Nora A. Beattie, patriotic instructor of the W. R. C., have made arrangements for the affair. The committee in charge includes: Mrs. E. Helen Temple, chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth D. Shaw, Mrs. Myrtle Buckles and Mrs. Shaw Moore Foster.

Boy Traffic Guides Get Medals Today

Public school officials, civic leaders and officers of the American Automobile Association will unite today to honor members of the schoolboy patrol who have been selected for meritorious work during the school year. Bronze medals will be awarded to one member of the patrol from each of the 86 grade schools at an assembly held at 2 o'clock at the Washington Hotel. The medals will be presented by Isaac Gans, member of the Board of Education.

City Dental Society Elected Dr. Camaler

Dr. C. Willard Camaler last night was elected president of the District of Columbia Dental Society at the meeting at George Washington University. Dr. Sterling W. Meade was named vice president; Dr. W. M. Simkins, secretary, and Dr. Mark F. Finley, treasurer.

Those elected to the executive committee are Dr. C. A. Cole, Dr. B. E. Erickson, Dr. W. W. Wymann, Dr. H. M. Spillman, Dr. H. A. Swanson, Dr. S. C. Hopkins, Dr. D. H. Miller, Dr. E. R. Hogan, Dr. G. A. Smith and Dr. E. R. Smith. The society instructed its delegates to the convention of the American Dental Association in Minneapolis in August to request the national body to meet in Washington next year.

FIRE RECORD.

9:36 a. m.—North Carolina avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets southeast; fire.

10:32 p. m.—First and K streets southeast; fire.

11:58 p. m.—344 D street northwest; smoky furnace.

UNUSUAL SALE

We have reduced prices on used cars. Late models—all makes—new selling methods. Price, down payment, monthly notes and listing of each car plainly marked.

No salesman necessary. Come in—look them over—you will not be bothered.

LAMBERT-HUDSON MOTORS CO.

"The House of Confidence" 14th at R Decatur 2070

Ship Board Engineer Wage Pact Renewed

(Associated Press.) Marine engineers aboard Government vessels will enjoy the same wages and working conditions of the past year.

Representatives of the National Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, the United States Shipping Board and the Merchant Fleet Corporation, at a conference yesterday, renewed the agreement for one year, effective July 1, when the present agreement expires.

A.M.E. ZION CONFERENCE BEGINS SESSIONS HERE

200 Delegates and 100 Ministers Attend; Three Bishops at Communion Service.

The 101st annual session of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church convened yesterday at the Union Wesley Church, Twenty-third and F streets northwest, 200 delegates and more than 100 ministers being in attendance. The conference was called to order by Bishop J. S. Caldwell, who presided at the opening of the convention by Bishop George C. Clement and Bishop E. D. W. Jones.

The Rev. J. W. Hilton was named secretary of the convention, and the Rev. J. T. Daniels, statistician. Following reports of conference and auxiliary workers, the convention was visited by the recently elected Bishop W. W. Matthews, Dr. H. T. Medford, newly elected secretary of foreign missions, and Dr. C. S. Whitfield, of Philadelphia. The conference was welcomed last night on behalf of the city by Judge James A. Cobb; by Miss Mary A. Mason, for the church; by Garnet C. Wilkinson, assistant superintendent of schools; by the Rev. C. G. Olden, president of the ministerial alliance, and by Dr. I. A. Foster, on behalf of men of the professions.

Bishop George C. Clement will speak today at noon on "The United Negro Methodist Church." Bishop Matthews will speak tomorrow on his mission work in Africa. The convention will continue through Sunday, when assignment of pastorates will be made.

Hat's Loss in Storm Brings Term in Jail

As an aftermath of the thunderstorm which struck Washington Saturday, Thomas F. Perry, colored, 21 street southeast, went to jail last night for 20 days in default of a $50 fine. According to the story told Judge John P. McMahon in traffic court last night, Perry, 255 Kentucky avenue southeast, was standing on one side of Thirteenth near Pennsylvania avenue when the wind blew his hat from the head of John J. Russell, 1311 Pennsylvania avenue southeast, who was standing on the opposite side with an arm full of groceries.

Beasley ran to retrieve the hat and as he stooped over was struck and knocked down by Perry's automobile. Perry stopped, but became frightened again as the automobile started to move. He was arrested yesterday by Policeman L. J. Walker, of the Fifth precinct. Judge McMahon fined him $25 on a charge of leaving the scene of a collision and another $25 on a charge of driving without a permit. Failing to pay he was committed to jail.

Immigration Quotas Nearing Exhaustion

Immigration quotas of the leading European countries are rapidly nearing exhaustion, according to an announcement yesterday by the State Department for the fiscal year ending June 30. The quotas for the year have been filled in those of Albania, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Estonia, Greece, Hungary, Lithuania, Latvia, Luxembourg, Roumania, Spain and Yugoslavia.

Latest reports show that Germany has a balance of 82 of its quota, while Great Britain and Northern Ireland, with a quota of 34,007, had a balance of 213. Other countries whose allowances had been nearly filled are Czechoslovakia, with a balance of 1; Denmark, 14; France, 5; Italy, 13; Netherlands, 1; Norway, 23; Poland, 24; Russia, 14; Sweden, 27, and Switzerland, 38.

Kern Will Speak To Electric League

Recent changes in the District code of rules and regulation governing electrical installations will be explained by Mr. W. A. Kern, assistant electrical engineer of the District, at the meeting of the Electric League of Washington at 8 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the Potomac Electric Power Co.

Joseph T. Kierchner, chairman of the league's sports and outing committee, will announce further details of the organization's excursion to Chapel Point, Md., June 22.

Police Pension Raises Ordered.

Justice Siddons, in Circuit Court, yesterday issued two writs of mandamus against the District Commissioners ordering them to increase the pensions of Spencer Roberts, of Clarendon, Va., and Hugh McDermott, 1344 G street southeast, from $63.26 to $87.50 per month under the pension act approved February 16, 1923. Roberts and McDermott served about twenty years each on the police force. They charged that the Commissioners arbitrarily overlooked them when Congress authorized the pension increases. Attorney W. Gwynn Gardner appeared for both of them. The Commissioners noted an appeal.

Today's Happenings

Meeting—State council, Daughters of America; Junior Order Temple, 808 S street northwest, 7:30 o'clock.

Meeting—Brookland Citizens' Association; Brookland Public School, 7:30 o'clock.

Card party—First Spiritualist Church, 131 C street northeast, 8 o'clock.

Luncheon—Kwanan Club; Washington Hotel, 12:30 o'clock.

OVER HERE—OVER THERE

The Meuse-Argonne Front